

The attendance at court this week is not very large. Court was in session up to 5 o'clock Saturday evening.

A valuable cow, the property of Mr. Barne Pickering, died Friday night.

"Thank God the firm hand of Chairman Pike still holds the reins."

Hon. J. H. Longenecker will please accept our thanks for public documents received.

Our genial young friend, John H. Jordan, of Bedford, visited the Herald's sanctum, Friday morning.

Hon. A. J. Colburn was at home in attendance at Court, last week. He returned to Harrisburg Monday morning.

A two week's suspension of court for the purpose of disposing of all cases in which Judge Baer was interested in before going to the bench, has been ordered to commence on Monday the 30th day of March.

The lecture delivered by Mr. J. W. Riley, in the Court House, Monday evening, under the auspices of the Somerset Post of the G. A. R., was listened to with genuine pleasure by a large and intelligent audience.

That was a very laudable meeting that was held in the Court House, Tuesday night, last week. The Commercial is a fair certainly has reason to be thankful, not only for the fact that the "firm hand of Chairman Pike still holds the reins" but that it was allowed to attend the meeting and look on while the "reins" were being placed in the "firm hands" of Chairman Pike for a new year.

Mrs. Mollie R. Hooper, wife of Major F. W. Hooper, of Ursina, died at Erie, Penn., where she was visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Galtner, Thursday last week. Mrs. Hooper was the youngest daughter of John H. Bonford, formerly of Somerset, and was in the 23rd year of her age.

The Commercial's editor has abundant reason for devoutly returning thanks. At their recent annual business meeting the Republicans of the county gave expression to their confidence in George W. Pike, and their admiration for his sterling Republicanism.

The remains of William L. Berkhart, eldest son of John Berkhart, of this place, were interred in the cemetery, Saturday afternoon. The funeral took place from the residence of the father of the deceased and was largely attended.

It was in the 46th year of his age at the time of his death, which took place at Harrisburg, Pa. He was a native of Massachusetts and located in Somerset when quite a young man. He was admitted to the bar about three years after he had taken up his residence in this place.

He had secured a good practical education, was possessed of large funds of information and was greatly respected and admired by his large circle of friends and acquaintances. When he was twenty-six years of age he was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Little. To her he had eight children, six sons and two daughters, all of whom, but one son, are still living.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.—A colored man named John Carey met with a horrible death on Saturday morning last, near Hoopersville, Somerset County. He had been in the employ of a Mr. Rodgers, the owner of a lime-kiln in the neighborhood, until a few days prior to his death, when he quarreled with one of his fellow workmen and quit. He then obtained boarding at a hotel in Hoopersville, but on Friday he was called at the ticket office of the Somerset & Cambria Railroad Company at that place and said to the agent, Mr. George H. Hooper, that he could not afford to pay so much for boarding as was charged at the hotel, and he believed he would go out and sleep at the lime-kiln that night, and the next day he could find some cheaper place to sleep. Before leaving the office he handed Mr. Hooper a five-dollar bill and requested him to keep it for him until he would need it. He then took his departure and wended his way to the kiln.

He was seen about midnight, and it appears that shortly after he laid down near the pit to sleep. It is presumed that he was overcome by the gas and rolled over the brink into the pit, for about two o'clock some of the workmen discovered him lying on some stone in the kiln, and it was evident from the color of burning flesh rising therefrom that he was roasting in the flames that surrounded him. He was dead, of course, when discovered, and his body was at once removed from the pit and conveyed to Hoopersville, where an inquest was held. The verdict accorded with the facts above stated. The remains were subsequently interred in the village graveyard. Carey first appeared in Hoopersville about three years ago, and remained in the vicinity until his death. Previous to that time he had worked at various places, having spent a few months in Johnson's town prior to his location at Hoopersville. He was twenty-six years of age on Thursday last. Our informant says that he was a great favorite with all who knew him, and that he was kind hearted and of a generous disposition.—Johnston Tribune.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold weather the former part of last week, the attendance at court was unusually large. The announcement of the trial of any criminal case of moment is always a source of attraction to a large crowd. The cases that excited the most interest last week were those of the Commonwealth vs. Dr. I. M. Bell, and the same vs. George Shaulis. Bell was indicted for the procuring of an abortion on the body of Mary E. Shaeffer, a young girl twenty years of age, residing in Jefferson township. It was the first case of the kind ever tried in the County, and we hope it will be the last. Several days were consumed in the trial of this case. The Commonwealth was represented by F. J. Keiser, Esq., and the defendant by Attorney Scott. The jury, composed of two of our most successful trial lawyers, Messrs. Coffey & Ruppel. The jury were from noon till after midnight, when they came to a conclusion and in the morning returned a verdict of guilty. The maximum sentence on the count on which the defendant was convicted is three years imprisonment in the Penitentiary. The counsel for the defense at once filed a motion for a new trial and in arrest of judgment. The motion will be argued before Judge Baer at the Adjourned Court. Bell is still at large, being under heavy bail, which took place at Harrisburg, Pa. The defendant in the other case, George Shaulis, was indicted for perjury, on information of Emanuel Auman. The perjury, charged, having been committed by Shaulis' falsely swearing to an information before LaRue M. Hicks, Esq., in which he charged the prosecutor, Auman, and several others, with conspiracy. Messrs. Hay, Kohl, Kosser and the District Attorney appeared for the Commonwealth, and Messrs. Koontz and Endsley for the defendant. The trial consumed the greater part of two days, when a verdict of guilty in manner and to the extent of the law was returned by the jury. A motion for a new trial, which will be heard this week, was filed. Shaulis is in jail. The maximum sentence in this case is seven years in the Penitentiary and to be forever disqualified from being a witness in any manner whatsoever.

J. A. Phillip & Son, of Milford Pa., purchased the dry goods and general notions store of Mr. Wm. A. Boys, of Lansvaleville. The business will be conducted by Mr. M. M. Phillip, who is an enterprising and successful merchant. We bespeak for the new firm a good patronage.

Mr. Jeremiah K. Bowles, postmaster at Bedford, died very suddenly and unexpectedly on Saturday last. He went to the office in the morning apparently in his usual good health. He was there but a short time when he was suddenly taken ill. After lying down for a few moments he got up, walked out into the street, got into a sleigh and started for his home. He shortly reached there, where he expired. The cause of his death is a matter of conjecture.
