

FOR STATE TREASURER: WILLIAM LIVSEY, Allegheny Co.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: JEROME B. NILES, Tioga County.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY: F. W. BIESECKER, Somerset Ber.

FOR FOUR HOUSE DIRECTOR: R. U. WOOD, Somerset Ber.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR: WILLIAM BAKER, Milford Twp.

The reduction of the public debt during the month of July, amounted to $8,000,000, and on the first of this month there was in the Treasury a balance of $50,000,000.

The telegraphers' strike has apparently settled down to a question of endurance, and there the corporations have largely the advantage, and the result is not doubtful.

The Democrats in convention at Harrisburg, on Wednesday last, nominated Captain Robert Taggart, of Warren county, for Auditor General, and Joseph S. Powell, of Bradford county, for Treasurer.

The Republican Senate at Harrisburg wants to adjourn and thereby save the tax payers of the State three thousand dollars a day; the "reform" Democrats of the House insist on an indefinite session at a daily cost of $3,000.

The Democrats of Minnesota, in convention last week, in view of the certainty of their defeat, did not deem it necessary to do any straddling, so they adopted a true blue Democratic platform, declaring against prohibition, and in favor of a tariff for revenue only.

The Milwaukee Sentinel is authority for the statement that leprosy has gained footing among the Norwegian inhabitants of Northwestern Wisconsin, that it is spreading surely if not rapidly, and that it has already reached a stage which will require radical and persistent effort for its eradication.

Illinois has already received more than $1,000,000 of revenue under the operation of her new high license act, and expects to receive nearly half a million more before the year is out. Democrats threaten to make the repeal of the act the issue in their State canvass, and the Republicans dare them to do it.

The long struggle in New Hampshire over the election of a U. S. Senator, has closed by the election of Austin F. Pike. He has been repeatedly a member of the Legislature and was once elected to Congress. He is a man of ability, a thorough Republican, and has a creditable record. Mr. Pike is in the 64th year of his age.

The extra session of the Legislature is still dragging its weary length along, and the Democrats appear determined to prolong it in the vain hope of forcing the Republicans to yield to their demands. In the meantime the tax payers are being fleeced out of $3,000 per day, to pay the expenses of this Democratic reform experiment which the people were deluded into trying.

While "resolving" upon nearly every other question under the sun, the Democratic platform makes at Harrisburg, last week, carefully avoided the mention of the prohibitory liquor question. This was a singular omission in view of the fact that during the late session, a prohibitory amendment was defeated by a Democratic flank movement. Perhaps, however, it was deemed enough to declare in favor of untaxed whisky.

Certainly, take the tax off whisky, and thereby make the Democratic heart leap for joy. Let us be "frugal in the conduct of affairs." Let us have extra sessions called in the supposed interest of ambitious politicians. Let us dismiss a few scrubbing women from the capital and distribute three thousand dollars a day among the faithful who are showing the people how not to do it. Let us be economical. Drive in the spigot and knock out the bung.

Among the planks of the Democratic platform adopted at the convention at Harrisburg last week, is one advertising that party as the natural friend of the workingman, and the natural enemy of monopoly. From the day of its birth, until it was driven from power in 1861, that party was the constant protector of slavery, and the advocate of the doctrine that capital should own labor, and as to its being the enemy of monopoly, there is not a monopoly in the State to-day that is not mainly controlled by Democrats.

EVERY Republican journal in the State, including the Independent one that kicked so vigorously last year, has endorsed Niles and Livsey—Lovely, isn't it?

The Democratic State Convention last week, was the most cheerless, lifeless body that ever assembled at the State Capital. None of its prominent men were present, and the leading members of that party in the Legislature seized their gripsacks and left the town on the day it met. The fact that the Republican party of the State is united, acted as a wet blanket on the convention, and the quarrels of the leaders added to this, formed defeat to the ticket they assembled to nominate. It was a gloomy, spiritless, inconsequential affair, that carried defeat on its face.

JAMES CAREY, the Irish "Invincible," who aided in the Phoenix Park murders, in Dublin, last year, and saved his neck by turning informer and sending his associates to the gallows, has received a dose of the "Invincible" remedy for Ireland's wrongs. After the trial and execution of his comrades he left for South Africa, under the assumed name of Power, but was followed and shot dead by an Irishman named O'Donnell, on Sunday, at Cape Town. O'Donnell was arrested without offering resistance.

Last week the Democrats in the Legislature came down from their high horse, and finally accepted and passed the Senate Judicial appointment bill. This bill is substantially the same as the one offered during the regular session and rejected by the Democratic House. So, after an extra session lasting over two months, and costing the tax payers more than $150,000, we have this one bill passed, and are apparently no nearer the adoption of the Congressional and Legislative appointment bills, than when the session commenced.

ONE of the resolutions of the Democratic platform, declares that "the tax laws of the State should be revised, and so changed as to make them more equal and more just and bear equally upon all classes of property."

Well, why hasn't this change been made? Two years ago a commission was appointed to revise the tax laws of the State. Its report was submitted to the Legislature last January by Governor Hoyt, but that body refused to adopt it at the late session. As that was a "Reform Democratic Legislature," could impudence and cheek go further, than in the call of a Democratic convention for a change, which a Democratic Legislature had just refused to make, and whose work was at the same time commended by this same convention?

JUDGE HOADLY, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, has got himself into a mighty tight place. Governor Foster stated, on the authority of a friend; that the Judge had paid $50,000 for his nomination; the latter indignantly denied and called upon the Governor for his authority. Foster at once complied by publishing a letter from J. H. Woodward, in which, after chiding him, (the Governor), for letting out this little Democratic secret, he says that Judge Hoadly, in his own office in Cincinnati, on the 23d of July, complained that McLean's perjury had made the nomination cost him a great deal more money than it ought to have cost him, and when he (Woodward) stated the alleged amount at $50,000, he did not deny it, and left the impression on his mind that that was the sum. To this revelation of corruption, the Democratic candidate has put in no denial.

THE official statement of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue regarding the affairs of the bureau gives a very different impression of its work from that conveyed in the denunciatory resolution of the Virginia Bourbons. They call the internal revenue system "a nursery of spies and informers, a menace to the freedom of elections, an intolerable burden to the tax payers, a source of the greatest corruption," &c. The Commissioner, on the other hand, mildly remarks that the system brings in a revenue of $180,000,000 a year at a cost of only 31 cent per collection, and there is at present no occasion for spies and informers, and the officers are exceptionally faithful and efficient. The administration of this bureau has heretofore been quite a model in its way, and as its importance increases it is, and so is hoped that its efficiency will not diminish. The estimated reduction in receipts for the current year will leave the total somewhat above $100,000,000.

SENATOR GORDON, of Philadelphia, on Tuesday last, reiterated in the Senate the determination of the Governor to compel the Legislature to pass the appropriation bills. The threat of this young cock-sparrow, who has been frequently put forth as the Administration's spokesman, settles the fate of these bills. This threat, repeatedly made by authority, places each member of the Senate under an obligation to stand upon his prerogative, which is as clear and as high as that of the Governor. The Senator who will yield to threats of what the Governor will do, is a coward, unfit to represent a free people. The Governor cannot lay his commands upon the Legislature, nor coerce its action. He can recommend legislative action, but cannot command obedience to his behests, and no self-respecting legislator will yield to threats. It is now the imperative duty of the Legislature to prove to the Executive and his spokesman, that it cannot be bossed.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP, From Louisville to Chicago.

WARM GREETING ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The Presidential Party's Gaily Decorated Cars—A Great Crowd Thronged to the Ground by a Platform Breaking at Greenacres.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—President Arthur and his party arrived here tonight. The special train in which they traveled left the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago depot at Louisville half an hour later crossing the long bridge which spans the Ohio River at Jeffersonville, was soon speeding along at a quickening rate under the foothills of Southern Indiana.

The leave-taking at Louisville was, in a measure, informal, although a great concourse had congregated in and around the depot to give the President an early morning send-off. The gaily-uniformed band of the Louisville delegation, on hands to the President, sang "The Star Spangled Banner" to the Chief, and as the presidential party entered the depot, this band accompanied the President to Chicago.

A GAILY DECKED TRAIN. The special train was decked out in royal fashion. The engine was flagged and re-ribboned almost beyond its original semblance. It was studded with small flags and streamers and bore on its headlight an enlarged portrait of the President. The three splendid coaches and dining car, which made up the train, were also gaily decorated. Under the circumstances, there could be no mistaking the identity of the special to the great crowds were collected at all way stations to witness its flying passage.

The party on board consisted of President Arthur, Secretaries Lincoln and Folger, Postmaster-General Gresham, Senators Bayard and Beck and a representative of the press. General Sheridan and party returned to Chicago last night.

The transit of the special train through the city of interest was evidenced by the great crowds along the entire route. Every crossing had its quota of spectators, and the rail fences on the outskirts of some of the villages in the lower portion of the state were literally decorated with natives. Owing to the delay in leaving New Albany until after leaving New Albany until Salem, Ind., was reached, and the train passed through all intervening villages with a flying rush.

No place appeared so modest that it failed to possess piece of ordnance, and accompanying the cheering of the assembled crowds was the detonation of the artillery.

THANKS FROM THE COLORED PEOPLE. A top of ten minutes was made at Valparaiso where a crowd numbering fully 8,000 persons had collected. Here an address was read by Mr. Linge, of that city, on behalf of the colored residents of Valparaiso, thanking the President for the stand he had made on behalf of the race at various times. President Arthur replied in the briefest and most impressive terms for their kind wishes. Vehement calls were made for Secretary Lincoln and postmaster-General Gresham, but these gentlemen, following the action of the President, briefly expressed their pleasure at meeting such a great concourse, and then retired, as they could not linger and speak at length.

A Desperate Girl. URBANA, Aug. 3.—Miss Hannah Anton, who had been committed to the lunatic asylum for attempting suicide a few weeks ago, was charged on the ground that there was nothing the matter with her, effected her escape yesterday. She obtained a box of sulphur matches and ate the brimstone ends of them until she was prostrated. She refused to take medicine when the doctor advised her to do so, and she was taken to the hospital, where she died.

MINNESOTA DEMOCRATS. ST. PAUL, Aug. 3.—The Democratic State Convention assembled here this morning. C. F. Buck acting as temporary chairman. After appointing the usual committees a recess was taken until 3 o'clock. Upon reassembling C. H. Lienn was elected permanent chairman. W. W. McNairst was nominated for governor over Biermann, the only other candidate on the first ballot. The following officers were also nominated: Postmaster-General, B. F. Brown; secretary of state, J. J. Green; state treasurer, John Ludwig; attorney general, J. W. Willis; railroad commissioner, P. Lindom. Anti-protection resolutions were passed. The platform declares for a tariff for revenue only, approves the River and Harbor bill, and calls for a revision of the patent laws.

ANOTHER RAILROAD WRECK. BOSTON, Aug. 1.—A special from Newport, Vermont, says the express train of the Southeastern Railroad which left Montreal yesterday, three miles from North Troy and the whole train wrecked. Two parlor, one baggage and one passenger car and the engine were made a complete wreck. A lady from Derby was fatally injured. Some four hundred persons were seriously hurt. Fred Pierce, of St. Albans, and his wife were badly hurt. Some of the injured were brought here and others to Newport Centre and North Troy.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 2.—A horrible fire in this city was committed last night in Doddridge county, near New Salem. John Cayton, agent for lands owned by Judge Camden, recently a piece in Henry Rice. A dented transpired in reference to the payment of the rent some time ago, and Cayton and Rice exchanged blows. Rice was committed to jail in a wood and the feud was renewed. Each was armed. A shooting man opened. Rice was fatally shot by Cayton. His gun was loaded with lead nails. Forty-five ugly jagged wounds were counted in Rice's corpse.

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 2.—Two deaths from cholera occurred here yesterday. The total number of deaths from cholera in Egypt since the first outbreak of the disease to date is 11,000.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT IN NEW YORK.

Nineteen Persons Killed and Thirty Injured.

ALBION, N. Y., Aug. 28.—A terrible accident occurred on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad at Carlyon, station, about 9:30 last evening, by which nineteen persons were killed and thirty were injured. The train, a double header, was excursionists train No. 47, and was bound for Clayton, with Thousand Island tourists, mostly from Michigan. The excursion train was behind time, and when the collision occurred it was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The wind was blowing a gale, and had blown the excursion train off the track just in time to find him a corpse. The work of removing the debris is being pushed forward rapidly and the track will be cleared in a few hours. At 2 o'clock a special train arrived from Oswego, having on board Coroner Cochran, James Bailey, engineer of the locomotive, and a liberal reward for the arrest of the criminals. A large force is in search and it is thought they will be easily overtaken.

CLARION, August 1.—Last night two men broke into the store of Steiner & Bertlett, of Scotch Hill, this county, blowing open the safe by drilling and exploding, stole seven hundred dollars in currency. They also stole from the same parties a black stallion and a top buggy. Two strange men of the following description were seen about the store the day before:

The larger man had a broad face, high cheek bones, dark eyes and mustache, twenty-seven years old. The smaller man was about thirty years old, weighing about one hundred and forty pounds, brown eyes and sparse hair. Both wore dark clothes. The first offers a liberal reward for the arrest of the criminals. A large force is in search and it is thought they will be easily overtaken.

King Humbert. NAPLES, August 2.—King Humbert yesterday visited the scene of the earthquake on the Island of Ischia, and went over the ruins of the destroyed town. He expressed his sympathy with the sufferers and directed the distribution of money and provisions to those in need. Another severe shock of earthquake was felt on the Island last evening, which put a stop to searching the ruins for bodies of victims. It is believed that some of the persons who were buried under falling buildings at the time the earthquake on the Island of Ischia occurred are still alive in the ruins. The use of lime on the ruins is therefore opposed.

A Father's Cruelty. CHESTERVILLE, O., August 1.—A brutal assault by a parent on his child was committed ten miles south of this place yesterday. In the instance of a fellow workman, John Bowden, who alleges that while working on the tower of the new cathedral, 135 feet high, Conroy became furious over a trivial matter, and threatened to throw him down from the tower, and proceeded to put his threat into execution. A terrible struggle ensued, and the men rolled and tumbled around on the narrow scaffold until Conroy was overpowered by the other workmen, and both he and Bowden saved from being dashed to pieces at the base of the dizzy height. Bowden was seriously injured in the struggle for liberty.

Instantly Killed. LANCASTER, July 30.—At 5:30 o'clock this morning a train on the second section of the fast express east, on the Pennsylvania Railroad struck a market wagon containing Henry Welsh and wife, and Miss Alice Schwartz of Mt. Joy, at the Mannheim road crossing, near Mt. Joy. Miss Schwartz and the horse were killed instantly. The driver of the vehicle, was dragged about 400 yards, and was dead when found, and Mrs. Welsh lived only about twenty minutes. Welsh was terribly mangled. The engineer whistled to warn the occupants of the wagon, but Welsh tried to whip his horse across the track.

Celebrating Carey's Death. SYRACUSE, August 2.—A national salute was fired in this city tonight under the auspices of the Celtic Society, an Irish organization, celebrating the death of Carey, the informer. The proceeding is not fully endorsed by the leading Irishmen of the city, many of whom openly denounced the policy. During the firing a crowd gathered, filling the face and eyes of John Trust, a member of the Celtic Club, with powder. W. H. Stewart, who was assisting in the work, was also very badly injured.

Gen. Ord's Body. HAVANA, July 30.—The body of Major General Ord, will, according to instructions received from the United States, be deposited in the D. P. Fenwick Hall of the cemetery until the cooler season sets in, when it will be sent north. The steamer City of Merida, which left to-day for Vera Cruz and Yucatan, ten of her crew sick with yellow fever. Two of these are dangerously ill. The sick were sent to a private infirmary.

Explosion. GALVESTON, August 2.—On Tuesday night the store of J. E. Turner, wholesale grocer, was destroyed with its contents. The loss is $200,000. During the fire a quantity of powder exploded, jarring the earth for blocks away and causing a man named Davis, who was sleeping on an upstairs porch a square distant, to jump down and break his right thigh bone and both forearms. His recovery is doubtful.

Dynamite in Scotland. LANCASTER, August 1.—The Lancaster Watch Company suspended to-day, throwing 250 men out of employment. The suspension was occasioned by the failure of A. Bitter, lead mauler and principal stockholder of the company. The directors state that the suspension will be only temporary.

Revolution in Ecuador.

A Duel to the Death.

St. Louis, August 1.—At the colored village of Brooklyn, in the American bottom, opposite St. Louis, a frightful duel came off last night between City Marshal Henry Green and an ex-convict desperado named Jones. The latter, with a companion, had been engaged all day in an endeavor to hunt down and kill a stranger, who was suspected of being a detective from Chicago looking for some of the hard characters who often seek a hiding place in Brooklyn. Knowing that his men were armed with shot guns and small arms, Green supplied himself with these weapons and started in pursuit. He met Jones about midnight, and, after a short parley, opened on him with both barrels of his shot gun. The buckshot carried away the entire flesh from Jones' left upper arm. The men then closed, and in the struggle Jones got the first shot, sending a bullet from his revolver into the officer's groin. Green followed with a shot which passed through the desperado's body. The men were then separated and carried off, and both have since died, Green lingering until this morning and Jones until this afternoon. Jones was one of the most desperate men in the American bottom, had shot several people and served two terms in the penitentiary.

Louisville Exposition. LOUISVILLE, August 1.—To-day is a general public holiday. With the first streak of daylight crowds of people began pouring into the city from every point of the compass, and by 9 o'clock the main streets were so full that it was difficult to pass along the side walks. The Presidential party left the Gall House in carriages, escorted by a body of police and local military, and moved by the most direct route to the Exposition Building. Their way was a perfect ovation the entire distance, the thousands of people yelling themselves hoarse as the distinguished visitors passed. The great main building capable of holding 20,000 people was filled completely, and the crowd was too thick for comfort. President Dupont, of the Exposition, welcomed the President in a speech. President Arthur gracefully responded, and concluded by starting the vast machinery and pronouncing the exposition open. The crowd was wild with enthusiasm. The Presidential party left for Chicago to-night. The managers of the Exposition were most agreeably surprised at the unlooked for crowds on the first day.

Store Robbed. CLARION, August 1.—Last night two men broke into the store of Steiner & Bertlett, of Scotch Hill, this county, blowing open the safe by drilling and exploding, stole seven hundred dollars in currency. Store Robbed. CLARION, August 1.—Last night two men broke into the store of Steiner & Bertlett, of Scotch Hill, this county, blowing open the safe by drilling and exploding, stole seven hundred dollars in currency. They also stole from the same parties a black stallion and a top buggy. Two strange men of the following description were seen about the store the day before:

The larger man had a broad face, high cheek bones, dark eyes and mustache, twenty-seven years old. The smaller man was about thirty years old, weighing about one hundred and forty pounds, brown eyes and sparse hair. Both wore dark clothes. The first offers a liberal reward for the arrest of the criminals. A large force is in search and it is thought they will be easily overtaken.

King Humbert. NAPLES, August 2.—King Humbert yesterday visited the scene of the earthquake on the Island of Ischia, and went over the ruins of the destroyed town. He expressed his sympathy with the sufferers and directed the distribution of money and provisions to those in need. Another severe shock of earthquake was felt on the Island last evening, which put a stop to searching the ruins for bodies of victims. It is believed that some of the persons who were buried under falling buildings at the time the earthquake on the Island of Ischia occurred are still alive in the ruins. The use of lime on the ruins is therefore opposed.

A Father's Cruelty. CHESTERVILLE, O., August 1.—A brutal assault by a parent on his child was committed ten miles south of this place yesterday. In the instance of a fellow workman, John Bowden, who alleges that while working on the tower of the new cathedral, 135 feet high, Conroy became furious over a trivial matter, and threatened to throw him down from the tower, and proceeded to put his threat into execution. A terrible struggle ensued, and the men rolled and tumbled around on the narrow scaffold until Conroy was overpowered by the other workmen, and both he and Bowden saved from being dashed to pieces at the base of the dizzy height. Bowden was seriously injured in the struggle for liberty.

Instantly Killed. LANCASTER, July 30.—At 5:30 o'clock this morning a train on the second section of the fast express east, on the Pennsylvania Railroad struck a market wagon containing Henry Welsh and wife, and Miss Alice Schwartz of Mt. Joy, at the Mannheim road crossing, near Mt. Joy. Miss Schwartz and the horse were killed instantly. The driver of the vehicle, was dragged about 400 yards, and was dead when found, and Mrs. Welsh lived only about twenty minutes. Welsh was terribly mangled. The engineer whistled to warn the occupants of the wagon, but Welsh tried to whip his horse across the track.

Celebrating Carey's Death. SYRACUSE, August 2.—A national salute was fired in this city tonight under the auspices of the Celtic Society, an Irish organization, celebrating the death of Carey, the informer. The proceeding is not fully endorsed by the leading Irishmen of the city, many of whom openly denounced the policy. During the firing a crowd gathered, filling the face and eyes of John Trust, a member of the Celtic Club, with powder. W. H. Stewart, who was assisting in the work, was also very badly injured.
