The following described property, known as the "Capt. John Sterner farm," located one and one-half miles south of Rockwood. This farm is now in a good state of cultivation, has been lately limed and numbers 155 acres, over one hundred acres cleared, 35 acres in meadow, and about 20 acres in timber. There is a good two-story log dwelling bouse, bank barn and other buildings on the premises; also, a sugar-camp with between six and seven hundred keelers, a good orchard, and has good water in nearly every field. It is a good farm for stock raising. There is coal and limestone on the premises. 1 Bbl. Copperas,
