THE HOUR OF SHADOWS.

I'pon that quiet day that lies Where forest branches screen the skies The spirit of the eve has laid A deeper and a dreamier shade And winds that thro' the tree-tops blow Wake not the silent gloom below

Only the sound of far-off streams, Wandering in tangled pathways crowl. Like woodland truants strayed and lost. Their faint complaining echoes roam. Threading the forest toward their home.

O, brooks, I too, have gone astray, And left my comrade on his way-Guide me thro' aisles where soft you m To some sad spot you know alone. Where only leaves and nestlings stir, And I may dream and dream of Her.
