THE TOWNSHIP WINS-The Supreme Court last week filed an opinion in the famou merset township plow case, reversing the court below, and finding in favor of the township. Most of our county readers will remember the case as being an action brought in the fall of 1881 by James Parson the breaking of his plow while working on the road. It was finally carried to the Supreme Court, and resulted as above stated. The case will cost Mr. Parson about one hundred and fifty dollars.
