Court next week.

Did you enjoy your Thanksgiving turkey ?

The "rascals" turned out, Wednesday night.

Mayor Kimmell, of Meyersdale, spent several days of last week in Somerset.

There are thirty five new cases in the criminal list for trial at next weeks court.

John H. Uhl and Val Hay, Esqr.'s carried torches in the procession Wednesday night.

The skating rink we are told, will be opened with appropriate ceremonies Thursday of this week.

The Cleveland and Hendricks Club of this place are making arrangements to attend the inauguration in a body.

Persons who enjoy sleighing are anxiously wishing for a big snow to start up the merry jingle of the bells.

There will be a meeting of the W. C. T. U. in the Disciples' church, Thursday afternoon December 4th, at 3 o'clock.

Every man who appears on the street with a new tile now-a-days is suspected of wearing it at some other fellow's expense.

An Italian was lodged in jail Monday night charged with having killed his wife by striking her on the head with an axe.

Arthur Love was greeted by a crowded house Thursday evening. His entertainment was hugely enjoyed by his immense audience.

Mrs. Young wife of Moses Young of this township had a stroke of paralysis Sunday afternoon from which it is feared she will not recover.

The Somerset small boy enjoyed his first skate of the season on Thanksgiving day. The ice on the dam below town was sufficiently strong, and the skating was tolerably good.

We are receiving Novelties in all kinds of Jewelry from this date, and will continue to receive them up to the Holidays. Remember that you get a guess at the Jar of Beans.

E. McDOWELL.

Rev. C. W. Oliphant of Cortland, O., Who has been visiting his college chum, A. J. Colborn, Jr., for the past week, preached two very able and eloquent sermons in the Disciple Church on Sunday.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold their oyster supper and social in the large room in Mammoth Block over the drug store of C. N. Boyd. Proceeds for the benefit of the Sabbath School. A good time is promised. Come.

Mr. L. Stargardter greets the readers of the HERALD with a new advertisement this week. He has rented the large store room next him and will connect the two rooms, thus doubly the amount of room and capacity to handle goods. Read his ad. carefully.

Saturday evening a young son of Mr. John Keller's received a bullet from a 32 calibre Bull-dog revolver in his left hip. He and a young companion were at the stable shooting mark when the revolver was accidentally discharged. The wound is a very painful one and may prove serious.

Last week Burgess Story, of Johnstown, sentenced three tramps to work on the streets of that municipality for thirty days. If our burgess were to deal with this kind of gentry in the same rigid manner, we have no doubt it would greatly assist in abating the tramp nuisance here about.

Any person purchasing articles to the value of $1.00 or more from Edward McDowell between this date and the first day of January A. D. 1885, will be entitled to a guess at the whole number of articles in the Jar—Peas, Beans & Hickory Nuts—and the person guessing the number nearest to the amount in the jar, after a careful count, will draw the handsome Ladies Gold Watch and Chain worth $65 00 together with the case, now on exhibition at the Jewelry store of E. McDowell, Somerset, Pa.

Thanksgiving day was observed in the usual way in Somerset. The stores, bank and post office were closed the latter being open from twelve till half past two in the afternoon. The religiously inclined attended the Union Thanksgiving service in the Reformed Church where Rev. Duncan of the Presbyterian Church, preached a very able and interesting sermon. The small boy went skating and worked up a good appetite for his turkey dinner. The weather was rather disagreeable, a wet snow falling the greatest part of the day.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—On Monday morning while Mr. Charles E. Seibert was on his way to Rockwood with a load of cross-ties, he noticed a tree in front of him threatening to fall, but thinking he could get away in time, drove on without halting. When he was immediately under it the tree fell very suddenly, crushing both horses to the ground, killing one that was valued at $300. The other horse is expected to recover. Mr. S. received some severe bruises, but was glad to escape with his life. COM.

Rockwood, Nov. 29, 1884.

Col. L. F. Copeland, the most Popular, Eloquent, Humorous, and Instructive Lecturer now before the American Public, will deliver a lecture at the Court House, Monday evening, December 8th, 1884, on "What's to Hinder," under the auspices of R. P. Cummins Post, No. 240, Dep't of Penn'a, G. A. R. "I have no hesitation in saying that extensive travel, a liberal education and fine sense of humor, combined with a natural gift of oratory, renders Mr. Copeland, as a lecturer the peer of any American Platform speaker of my acquaintance." WM. CULLEN BRYANT.

Superintendent Weller promises the patrons of its lecture course during Holiday week an unusually attractive programme. In addition to the fine array of talent secured for the exclusive instruction of the Teachers' Institute, Robert J. Burdette, the most humorous of American lecturers, will discourse on Tuesday night of the "Rise and Fall of the Moustache." Wednesday evening Col. Copeland will lecture on "Snobs and Snobbery," and Thursday evening Chaplain McCabe will entertain the audience with "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison."

"A Few Days' More Driving" is the title which Mr. William Black gives to an article in the coming Christmas Harpers Monthly, suggesting a continuation of his charming "Strange Adventures of a Phaeton." This is a description of a coaching party given in the spring of this year by Mr. Andrew Carnegie, through the South of England, to a company including, among others, Mr. Matthew Arnold, Mr. Black, and Mr. Abbey, the artist. These, and other well known people, are thinly veiled in Mr. Black's bright sketch under the style of "The Star-spangled Scotchman," "The Philosopher," etc. Mr. Abbey on his part contributes some clever illustrations by the way.

One of the most pleasant social events of Thanksgiving day was the marriage of Mr. Marshall Houston of Philadelphia to Miss Olivia the charming daughter of Mr. William Coffroth, of this place. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. Coffroth on Patriot street. Rev. Pershing, of the Somerset Methodist Episcopal church officiating. The attendants were Miss Mary, daughter of Hon. W. J. Baer and Mr. A. H. Coffroth, Jr., editor of the Somerset Democrat. The large parlors were filled with relatives and immediate friends of the young couple. The bride wore a dark green traveling dress. The presents were numerous and beautiful and were greatly admired. Mr. Houston and wife left for Philadelphia their future home, on the four o'clock train. The bride was one of our most popular young ladies and will be greatly missed by her young companions.

The school deserves commendation for the zeal that has characterized their work thus far, and we thank the patrons for the interest they manifest, and for their co-operation in the work. With such a spirit among all concerned we look forward with pleasure to the work before us, hoping that the same spirit will continue to manifest itself, and that the good work will go on.

EDITOR HERALD :

Following is the first monthly report of the Broom school, in Somerset township, for the month ending November 28, 1884 :

	M.	F.	T.
Per ct. of attendance dur. mo.	95	92	93
Number of visits by parents,	2
Number of visits by directors,	0

The following named pupils attended every day during the month : Ross Hoover, Charles Hause, Frank Walter, Herman Sherman, Harry Sherman, Mollie Swank, Clara Hause, Annie Yinkey, Mattie Hause, Essie Hause, Emma Hoover, Lizzie Walter, Susan Walter.

I return thanks to the citizens and pupils for their co-operation with me in making our work a success, and would urge them to attend to the studies of their children at home, and visit us more frequently in the future than in the past. The directors, seemingly, have not taken as great an interest in the welfare of the schools of the district as I think they should.

M. R. BOWMAN, Teacher.

CONFLUENCE ITEMS.

Geo. W. Daniels, the teacher of our principle school, has been compelled to resign, Ill health is the cause. Several weeks ago Mr. D. Commenced complaining of a severe pain in the head, but it was hoped that it was only temporary and would soon pass away, but the pain grew worse instead of better until he was compelled to abandon teaching for the present. Mr. D. was rendering splendid satisfaction, with perhaps one exception, and it is a matter of regret that he could not complete the term. Prof. Divelv of Meyersdale has been employed to complete the term.

It is stated, upon good authority, that the valley of the Upper Yough, lying in Garrett County Maryland, is to be colonized in the spring by a land company in which some of the officials of the B. & O. have an interest Some large tracts of land, in that locality, have recently changed hands, which looks as if something was in contemplation. Much of the land is untillable, but abounds in mineral and coal. X.

VISIT THE SCHOOLS.—Now that the excitement of the election is over and people can attend to the ordinary, but at the same time none the less essential duties of life, there is one thing we desire to call attention [illegible] and that is the importance of visiting the schools by the parents. [illegible] eration between [illegible] Nothing so encourages pupils as this. [illegible] like a small matter [illegible] no good. This is a [illegible] point, but teachers [illegible] different light [illegible] is an interest [illegible] the mere entering [illegible] in their tim[illegible] must feel a[illegible] progress a[illegible] opment o[illegible]

It is true [illegible] lic school [illegible] subject, [illegible] be ignorant [illegible] among [illegible] power [illegible] education [illegible] intelligent [illegible] the interests of the country at large—is of supreme importance. The public school is a means through which this result is accomplished, and nothing should be left undone which will maintain and increase its efficiency. For this purpose nothing is more valuable than regular visitations by directors and patrons. Experience proves this and urges its more general and systematic practice.

Last Wednesday was a red-letter anniversary in the annals of the Somerset County Democracy. For a week or ten days previous, the unterrified of this borough had been busily at work making arrangements and preparing for the great event. A large ox had been secured, and all the turkeys and roosters to be found for miles around were bought up. Far and near the summons had been sent to the faithful to turn out and assist in the celebration of the election of Cleveland and Hendricks, and it was responded to with a fervor only known by those who, for twenty-four years, have been standing without the gate, hungry, cold and desolate. The day opened cold and gloomy, with a rough, high wind blowing, and for awhile it looked as though the "great demonstration to celebrate the victory for honest government" was going to be a dismal failure. But as the day wore on every here and there an old mossback from the rural districts was to be seen on the streets, looking as though he didn't know what he was here for, and would like some one to tell him, but was ashamed to ask. The number kept on increasing and by noon had attained very respectable proportions, and what a crowd they were of our countrymen. The 12 o'clock train brought the Mineral City Band from Johnstown, and a small delegation of the unterrified from that city, and from intermediate stations along the line. They were met at the station by the home delegations, with their bands of music, flags and banners, and formed into a procession which marched through the principal streets of the town and up on to the hill back of the cemetery where the ox had been roasted, and the feast spread. The crowd on the hill was variously estimated at from five to seven hundred. Preparations had been made to feed four times the number present. Gen. Coffroth read letters from President-elect Cleveland, Samuel J. Randall and other prominent Democrats, regretting their inability to be present. Owing to the intense cold, no speeches were made.

The illumination and procession in the evening was the grand feature of the occasion, and notwithstanding the bitter cold, the entire programme was carried out with a resolution worthy of a better cause. Every Democrat in the town had his house illuminated, many of them presenting a very beautiful appearance. There were about four hundred men in the procession, the route covering the entire town. Some of the transparencies were handsomely gotten up. Following are some of the inscriptions they contained : "No Crow This Time"; "Turn the Rascals Out"; "Good-bye, Magnetic Jim"; "Thanks to the Independents"; "The Books will be Opened March 5th"; "Away with Imported Labor"; "We Promise Protection." It is said that the banner bearing these beautiful lines was suppressed by the managers :

"Hurrah for Mafia,
Hurrah for the kid;
We voted for Cleveland,
We're d—d glad we did."

There were five bands of music in the procession, and a great deal of red fire was burned and red liquor drunk. The marching was ridiculously poor, but then the marchers had not had much practice in that line of late years. When the line marched past the HERALD office three groans were given, and at Chairman Hoffman's and Judge Buer's residences, three cheers. The crowd was most enthusiastic, and very well behaved. The unwashed had a big day and enjoyed themselves, and we are glad they did, for it will be at least twenty-four years more before they will have an opportunity of celebrating a like event.

MOUNT MORIAH ITEMS.

P. C. and Adam Maurer's house has been completed, and they are living in it.

This village is badly in need of a good blacksmith. There is scarcely a better opportunity in the county for a good, sober workman.

One year ago this place had the largest and finest assortment of bachelors in the county, but leap year has diminished the number considerably.

Jonathan D. Rhoads has built a large shed in front of his barn, it answering the double purpose of a butcher shop, and protection of his barnyard from the storms.

H. J. Lohr recently sunk a well in his barnyard, for convenience in watering his live stock. Previous winters he was compelled to drive his cattle nearly a quarter of a mile to a trough for water.

Ed Daniels has his steam saw mill on David Bowman's farm, sawing material for the rebuilding of his barn, which was lately destroyed by fire. John Arkeny has the contract for the carpenter work.

Sarah Gardner, daughter of George Gardner, of Stanton's Mills, died of consumption on the 17th inst, and was buried on the 19th inst, at the Horner church. Her age was 28 years, 9 months and 25 days.

Rev. A. K. Felton, pastor of the Stoystown charge, a few Sundays since announced to the Horner congregation that they need not take a vote on his continuance as their pastor, as he would shortly hand in his resignation.

John Knupp, formerly of this county, but now of Westmoreland, is now on a visit to his old home and friends. Mr. Knupp says he feels sorry over the result of the general election, but rejoices that old Westmoreland was redeemed from plundering Democratic rule.

BEN.

BROTHERSVALLEY ITEMS.

Our hunters have plenty of deer and wild turkeys, but they are all in the woods yet.

The greater part of butchering is past and sausage and spare-rib are the delight of the school lad and lass.

Miss Emma S. Schrock, whose life was despaired of from the effects of typhoid fever, we are happy to report, is convalescing.

A few runaway teams and demolished wagons without any other serious injurious and a half a dozen spelling "bees" were some of the gossip the past week.

Our good old Republican friend, David D. Meyers, is at present "limping," from the effects of a heavy saw-log rolling over his foot. Matters in his case might have been much worse.

So far the heaviest porkers slaughtered in this section were one by D. L. Meyers, that weighed 503 poundsone by Sam Forney that tipped the beam at 504 pounds. All our heavy porkers are being held back for cold weather.

The Democratic jollification in Berlin last week was not as jolly as was expected. One cause was that there is no license in Berlin; another, they are having quite a time already over the postoffice and still-house storekeeperships. Boys, we think we hear [illegible]

[illegible] are proud of the royal [illegible] and State, but are [illegible] through the treacherous [illegible] ents and sore-heads of [illegible] n shall for the next [illegible] y Democrats, backed [illegible] dom. But we hope [illegible] rule will be an eye-

[illegible] ave the contract for [illegible] Allegheny tunnel. [illegible] e to six hundred [illegible] has about a dozen [illegible] ing the coal from [illegible] e informs us that [illegible] ng line was very [illegible] e the election it

[illegible] se sore foot we [illegible] some time ago, had to undergo an amputation, as the last remedy for saving his life. The operation was successfully performed by the family physician, Dr. J. K. Miller, assisted by Drs. Brubaker, of Somerset, and Krissinger, of Berlin. Since the operation Mr. Rhoads is recovering strength and the limb is beginning to heal.

Thanksgiving was celebrated in an unusual manner, in Brothersvalley. I guess somehow or other people didnt feel as thankful as on former occasions. A great many of our citizens went hunting for rabbits and wild turkeys. Of the former scores of them were brought home, but of the latter only a few. Samuel Rodsmer bagged two gobblers, and Hiram Rodamer one, on thanksgiving as far as heard from, there may be others to report next time.

The Sandy Hollow literary society is in a flourishing condition. It meets every Friday evening, with a full house. Last Friday evening the question for debate was: Resolved, That the United States owes a deeper gratitude to her warriors than to her statesmen. The question was decided in the affirmative. The programme for next Friday evening is a long and interesting one, the question for debate being: Resolved, That our lawmakers should enact a compulsory attendance at school.

The schools in this district are moving along about as usual. The school teacher should realize the fact that he is one of the principal, if not the principal, factors in making this a great and powerful nation; and then act accordingly. The director should also understand his responsibilities, and visit the schools frequently. Teacher, director, and parent should work together in this good cause, and watch and care for the schools like a hen watches her brood, and more satesfactory progress will be the result.

NOW AND THEN.

THE
New York Tribune
FOR 1885.
A PAPER DEVOTED TO AMERICAN INTERESTS.

The Largest Republican Circulation in America.

THE TRIBUNE begins the new subscription year with prospects unparalleled in its history. Its circulation for the seven days ending November 9, 1884, was as follows :

Monday, November 3	99,100
Tuesday, November 4	102,500
Wednesday, November 5	188,600
Thursday, November 6	167,100
Friday, November 7	160,600
Saturday, November 8	172,000
Sunday, November 9	129,000
Weekly, November 5, exclusive of all short term subscriptions	143,910
Semi-weekly	38,500
Total number of TRIBUNES printed and sold during week ending November 9, exclusive of campaign subscriptions	1,203,110
Ninety-four tons of paper were used in printing the week's issues. This was of course an election week " sprint," which " broke the record " in New York. Setting back into its " steady gait " THE TRIBUNE'S record stood on the following week :
Average daily circulation of the Daily TRIBUNE for the week ending November 15, 1884	121,400
WEEKLY TRIBUNE, November 12, 1884	142,600
Semi-Weekly	36,700

During 1885 THE TRIBUNE will strive more zealously and hopefully than ever for its political faith. The return to power of the party that brought on the rebellion must make the coming year one of the most interesting in our history. The more the people know of how the Democrats deal with their Government, the surer is Republican success the next time ; and THE TRIBUNE appeals to its friends to help spread such knowledge broadcast.

THE TRIBUNE gives the news fully, fairly and early ; it is a safe and attractive paper for the family circle ; and is the persistent advocate of work for American workmen, a great, paying home market for American grain and meat, the extension of our foreign trade, and the general protection of American interests. It favors every practical effort to check intemperance, and is always on the side of morality, reform and progress. Its Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions contain notably complete and valuable Agricultural, Household and interesting Juvenile departments, with serial stories, abundant correspondence, interesting miscellany, and some fun. Every member of the family, old or young, finds in it instruction and entertainment.

Every postmaster and club agent is invited to form yearly clubs at once for THE TRIBUNE. The following premiums are offered in combination with subscriptions :

Unabridged Dictionary, both Webster's and Worcester's.

Wood's Household Practice of Medicine, 2 vols., illustrated, 819 and 962 pages.

The Library of Useful Knowledge, 15 vols., nearly 900 pages each, embracing Chambers' Encyclopedia, complete, with American additions.

The Waterbury Watch, a popular and successful premium.

Kelpath's Illustrated History of the United States.

Specimen copies, show bills and circulars, with details of valuable premiums, sent free upon application, or can be had from your postmaster.
