"I never before heard of this," he said quietly. "Is it possible? But then you have been here so short a time. Well, in that case we will exonerate you. But there is no excuse for Lottie Steward. A girl that can change so suddenly as she has just done, Tom Wheeler must be altogether heartless."

"To be sure, Lottie, to see Miss Marion Redmond," answered Lottie, who was looking bright and smiling. "I thought you did not like Miss Redmond," he returned a little coldly.

"Neither do I. She's so absurdly dignified and self-important. But that's not why we shouldn't visit, being near neighbors and old school mates."

"I thought you said the last visit was a few days ago," said Tom. "Yes," she answered coloring, but this was quite an informal call. I wanted an embroidery pattern."
