

The Democrats are getting awful tired waiting for the office to seek the man.

CLEVELAND is not half so anxious to "turn the rascals out," as some of them are to get in.

ARIZONA DAY didn't amount to shucks in this locality; the boss of the weather was formidible.

Come, gentle spring! ethereal mildness, come! or we won't have any garden sass before September.

Is there no place short of the grave, where legislators cease from troubling, and base ballists are at rest?

THERE isn't much fun planting trees in snow-banks, because it's Arbor Day. But some other day will do just as well.

Wm. V. McGRATH, of Philadelphia, who was elected State Treasurer by the Democrats in 1863, died at Cape May last week.

The new Legislative apportionment bill just passed in the House at Harrisburg, increases the membership from 201 to 204.

The Democrats "went out for wool and came back shorn," when they placed Grover on the market as a civil service reformer.

One solitary mugwump has so far entered upon his reward. Grateful for small favors, the firm will continue at the old stand, etc.

Miss ADA SWIFT gave the Commissioner of Pensions a Black eye, when he attempted to knock her out. Served him right for attacking a woman.

The Canadian and half-breed forces are nearly within striking distance by this time, and we may daily expect exciting news of a fight, or a foot race.

CHEER UP, boys! There's a good time coming. Postmaster General Vilas has now at his disposal 3,500 postoffices, the commissions of the present officers having expired.

SENATOR CAMERON, accompanied by his young daughter and her governess, has gone to Los Angeles to spend the summer for the benefit of his health. Mrs. Cameron was too unwell to accompany him.

The Democrats who shouted for "civil service reform," during the last campaign, it is said, now take themselves into cellars and back alleys, and take turns in kicking each other by way of venting their feelings.

The strike of the Philadelphia carpet weavers, which has lasted for over five months, has ended, and work was resumed on Monday last. Whether the strikers gained anything by their long idle spell, is for them to determine.

The dreadful thought is beginning to take root in the Democratic brain, that Grover contemplates organizing a party of his own. The fact that he is rapidly breaking up the old Democratic party, is held to be evidence of the fact. Hence these hysterics.

The fact that Fish, the president of the Marine Bank, which ruined General Grant financially, has been found guilty on eleven counts of the indictment against him, and may be sent to the penitentiary for five to ten years for each count, will be received with satisfaction throughout the country.

It is the sheerest twaddle to talk about this being a civil service reform Administration, with Higgins holding a position in the Treasury, and poets of honor and profit filled with men who have never had the disabilities of their rebellion removed. Practice, not profession, is the only true test.

It begins to look as if England would back down, and eat humble pie. Gladstone is busily searching for a hole to creep out of, and nothing but the arrogance of the Russians will force a war. While talking peace however, both parties are still pushing forward their preparations for war.

So much trouble and ill will have been caused by rival applicants for postoffices being allowed to examine the papers filed at the department by one another, that the Postmaster General has ordered that hereafter no information of this kind be given to the applicants. "Peace in the family" can only be preserved in this way.

The Prince and Princess of Wales are now making a tour through Ireland and are everywhere well received, except by the so-called Nationalists, who are attempting to stir up riots. In Cork they succeeded in inducing a crazy mob to attack the police, but they were dispersed with a good many broken heads and some serious bayonet wounds. This characteristic Irish entertainment is nothing new, and is nothing serious, and it proves neither the loyalty nor disloyalty of those engaged in it. Nobility nor show, nor public display amounts to anything in Ireland, unless wound up with a shindig. Pat is never so happy as when in a fight, and is always in one if he can provoke it.

The report is again revived that Governor Pattison will exchange his present position for that of Assistant Controller of the Treasury. This time the date of his resignation is fixed "on the adjournment of the Legislature." Judging by the way they "larrup" him for the appointment of Dr. Higbee, a good portion of the Democratic press of the State would be happy if the Governor would not "stand upon the order of his going, but go at once."

THERE has been a good deal of muttering, if not loud thunder, over some of Mr. Cleveland's Northern appointments, and now his turn comes to hear similar sounds from party friends in the South. He has appointed a colored Democrat of North Carolina to be a postal railway clerk, which has aroused the ire of the "nigger" hating Bourbons of that section; and he has selected a Missouri man for Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, to the great disgust of the Democrats in the Territories, who insist that he has thereby ignored the Chicago platform, which declares that all territorial appointments shall be made from residents of the territories. The President is proving the truth of the angry Dutchman's exclamation that "der longer as a man lives, der more he finds, by dunder, out."

A wonderful improvement in the condition of General Grant occurred during the latter part of last week. He has slept well for several nights, takes his nourishment without pain, and is rapidly regaining strength. The skill of his physicians has carried him through a very critical period, and has secured him a further lease of life. It is a mistake, however, to leap to the conclusion that his recovery is certain, or that the nature of his disease has been mistaken by the doctors, as is asserted by some of the organ sangers. That General Grant is suffering from cancer is not to be doubted, and, of course he will have periods of more or less pain and danger, but the public will be very glad to learn that present death has been warded off, and that he will probably survive for some time yet, perhaps for months.

The lot of a Democratic politician now-a-days is not a happy one. To be a Democrat and be shut off from party spoils, is like not having a spoon when it rains pail. There is tribulation and gnashing of teeth among the faithful all over this wide land. National patronage has been out of their reach during the past twenty-four years, and now at last when there is a Democrat in the White House, the millennium tarries, and the skies are overcast with fear and doubt. The President is so slow making up his jewels, and his taste is so capricious, that the expectants are, just now, particularly unhappy. Time is speeding rapidly, and that which was so near, is yet so far. Hanging on the ragged edge, hoping against hope, with the much-coveted prize almost within reach, the unhappy Democratic office seeker is beginning to fully realize the force of the old Scotch adage "It is ill waiting for dead men's shoes."

The full Legislative session (100 days) expired last week, and there is comparatively nothing to show for the time and money expended. A never-ending turgid stream of baffle, babble, bludge, flow on and on. Members apparently think their whole duty is to talk, and a greater part of the time the House resembles a flock of crows with their incessant "caw," "caw," "caw" over a carrion feast. We are fast being led to the belief that the best legislator would be a dumb man. The generally accepted opinion that to be a useful member, a representative should be able to make a speech, is rapidly being discarded. Blatherskites are entirely too expensive, and a House full of blatherskites is a nuisance and a terror. The longer we live, the better are we satisfied with our action in opposing the adoption of the Constitution, that increased the membership, and, consequently, the number of gabblers in the Legislature.

It was only a hope that exhaustion would eventually bring relief, there might be something left worth living for, but the injectors invented for steam boilers appear to have been adapted to legislative use, and so there is no reasonable hope of an explosion, so long as the miserable thing will pump and exhaust, and exhaust and pump. We have however, the comforting assurance left us, that there must eventually be an end of all things, and that next, when the per diem ceases, the people may hope for relief, for it is a well ascertained fact, that a Pennsylvania Legislature was never known to remain long in session, at the expense of its individual members.

A Removal Without Cause. WASHINGTON, April 16.—Secretary Manning to-day appointed John A. O'Neil, of Hoboken, N. J., to be Superintendent of Engraving in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, at a salary of $3,600 per annum, vice George W. Cassier, removed. No charges were made against Mr. Cassier, and he feels somewhat surprised at his summary removal. He has been employed in the bureau for many years and is considered one of the best engravers in the country. Many of his inventions are now in use in the bureau. Mr. O'Neil was formerly Mayor of Hoboken.

Death of Mrs. Admiral Reynolds. PITTSBURGH, April 16.—A shocking accident occurred here at noon yesterday, resulting in the death of Mrs. Admiral Reynolds. A party consisting of Mrs. Reynolds, Miss Reynolds and Miss Knowlton, of Washington; Mrs. Clarence C. Semmes, of Philadelphia, and a baby two months old, set out from Hampton in a flat bottomed boat, crewed by two negroes, to visit Point. The wind was blowing hard and a high sea was running at the time and the boat was capsized within about two hundred and fifteen yards of the beach. All the members of the party were rescued, but Mrs. Reynolds died subsequently from exhaustion.

Cyclone in North Carolina. CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 16.—A cyclone passed over a section of the State east of Hamlet this afternoon, destroying timber, fences and houses, and doing great damage in other ways. No lives are reported to have been lost.

GENERAL GRANT'S HEALTH.

Improvement Continues Day After Day. NEW YORK, April 17.—While Dr. Douglas was writing the 3,200 p. m. bulletin, after consultation with the attending physician, General Grant walked into the hall and called to Harrison. The servant did not respond and General Grant, came in hand, walking down stairs and into the dining room where the family was at lunch. Each member arose at once with exclamations of glad surprise. A place was made at the table for the General and he seated himself. Then calling a servant the General, with a twinkle in his eye, sent word to Dr. Douglas that the entire family was waiting his coming to lunch. The doctor came down at once.

"I got the best of you," remarked the General, as Dr. Douglas entered the dining room. A merry chat followed, during which General Grant was helped to cold mutton and macaroni. He cut the meat very fine and ate it. Afterwards he returned to his room using the elevator.

THE HUNTED-DOWN LOG GONE. Ex-senator Chaffee, when asked if General Grant appeared more cheerful, said: "Well, I can't say. I have had just that he has worn of late, however, and his mind is less troubled," Porfirio Diaz inquired by telegraph from Mexico about the General's health and was told that he was better.

DR. SHRADY'S OPINION REGARDING THE DISEASE. Dr. Shradly said in the afternoon "General Grant is undoubtedly suffering from epithelioma, or cancerous ulcer. It is necessary to watch him close in order to arrest any latent symptoms. When these symptoms occur prompt action is necessary. Vigorous measures are adopted and under them the general rallies. The treatment adopted has proved beneficial, not only in allaying any irritation there might be in the throat, but also in supplying strength enough to last him for several days. Nothing serious is expected to happen now for some time. Of course, I can't say how long the General will live or whether he will ever be strong enough to visit the country, but all the General's friends are hopeful of keeping him with us for some time."

THE DISEASE PRONOUNCED NOT CANCER. The New York Sun of to-day (Friday) says editorially: "The improvement in General Grant's condition steadily continues. It is now ascertained that his disease is not cancer, and there is no reason in his physical organization why he should not recover his health entirely."

Found After Forty Years. YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 15.—Mrs. Harriet Granger, an old resident of Sharon, Penn., shortly after her marriage was compelled, by the death of her husband, to earn her own livelihood, and that of her only child, by the most necessitated her leaving the child for a time in the care of others. One day the child was mysteriously spirited away, and year after year with heavy heart the mother continued a vain search for him, using all the means within her power. More than forty years passed and she was still in the bottom of the sea. One day she received an anonymous letter which told her where her son was and the name he bore. She lost no time in reaching him and the meeting was deeply affecting. The son is married and has a family, and his mother will be made a happy old woman in the rest of her life.

The Governor Plants a Tree. HARRISBURG, April 16.—Reports reaching the State capital show a very fair observation of the new holiday, "Arbor Day." Here in Harrisburg several trees were planted in Capitol Park by attaches of the departments. Two are at the entrance and a couple near the Treasury. Deputy Governor Patterson, accompanied by a party of distinguished gentlemen, went to Lancaster county, thirty miles from here, and celebrated the day. His party was made up of Senators Hess, Reyburn, Ross, Wagner, Stehman, and Harlan; Representative Davis, Broome, and others; and State Superintendent of Schools Higbee. The Governor and State Superintendent made speeches at the school. His Excellency then planted a tree for the students, and so did Superintendent Higbee, and they will be called after the two officials.

Cure for Piles. Piles are frequently preceded by a seat of inflammation in the rectum and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, is present, and a disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price, 25 cents. Address, The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, O. Sold by C. N. BOYD, Druggist, Somerset, Pa., dec-31y.

Starved and Frozen to Death. WHEELING, W. Va., April 17.—A special from Point Pleasant, this State, says: "About four miles below town on the side of the hill there has been living an old woman called Granny Galloway with two grand children, all aged from 10 to 15 years old. For several days past no smoke had been seen coming from the chimney. The neighbors finally forced the door yesterday and found the old woman and two children dead in bed and partly gnawed by rats. The bodies were much emaciated, and three had evidently starved and frozen to death during the last cold spell."

Husband and Wife Sent to Jail. LANCASTER, April 15.—Some time ago a quarrel between a man and woman in the Common Pleas Courts here against George Bennett, a well-known plumber, and his wife, based on the charge that the woman had with malice persistently emptied slops into a well of drinking water on the premises of a neighbor. A verdict of $400 was found against the woman and the husband being unable or unwilling to pay the sum he and his wife were placed in jail to-day, where they will be confined for sixty days under the statute providing such remedy in actions in tort.

Mad Dog in Milwaukee. MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 16.—The appearance of a mad dog in the northwestern part of the city last evening caused great excitement. An effort to run down and kill him failed, and he was finally shot by a man and one man had been bitten. The police fear that there are other cases not reported. Some bites are quite severe.

THE ST. LOUIS TRUNK MYSTERY.

Dr. Marcellus M. D'Aguiar, in San Francisco—He Starts for New Zealand. BALTIMORE, April 16.—Some time ago one of the largest glass manufacturing establishments in the city discharged all the men employed and closed one of the furnaces. The other furnace was kept running and the operatives were employed. About six weeks ago a number of the apprentices struck and threats were made against those who remained. Ten of those who continued to work boarded at the corner of Eutaw and West streets, which is convenient to the glass works, and at a late hour last night an attempt was made to blow up the house.

A can containing ten pounds of gunpowder was placed in the cellar, to which a fuse was attached. The fuse was lighted by a match worked by a string, and the explosion occurred as desired. The house was badly shaken, and one of the boys intended to be damaged was thrown from his bed, but received no serious injury. The parties who made the attempt to blow up the house have not been discovered.

Shocking Discovery in St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 14, 1885.—A horrible discovery was made yesterday in the Southern Hotel, at St. Louis. The murdered and decomposed body of a middle aged man was found in a trunk in one of the rooms. The room had been occupied by two men registered as "Walter H. Lenox Maxwell, M. D." and "C. Arthur Preller," both of London, England. Maxwell left the hotel last Sunday week, but he had paid his board regularly no notice was taken of his departure, and reached St. Louis on Monday night. The trunk was opened, and the body was found in the upper part of the trunk, wrapped in a sheet. The trunk was printed in large letters the words: "So perish all traitors to the great cause."

Shot a Friend by Accident. CHAMBERSBURG, April 16.—An example of the danger attending the careless use of firearms was exhibited in Chambersburg, Franklin county last night. D. F. Metcalfe, a shoe merchant of that place, was in Mc Afee's hotel when George W. Wilkins, a constable entered. The former, picking up a toy gun, jokingly remarked to the latter that he was going to shoot him. Wilkins responded, "I am ready," and pulled his revolver from his pocket. As he raised it to a perpendicular position it was accidentally discharged. The ball entered Metcalfe's mouth and lodged in the upper part of his head. It has not yet been extracted. Although the wound is a dangerous one, it is thought Metcalfe may recover.

Escape from a Burning Mine. LINCOLN, ILL., April 16.—The Lincoln Coal Company's shaft and landing caught fire this morning and were soon a mass of flames. From ten to twenty miners were at the bottom. The fire was caused by the explosion of a torch in the oil room. The cages were kept running until a few minutes before the wire cable snapped in two. The following men were then known to be at the bottom: Deputy Sheriff John Walshe, Pat Campbell, Mike Savage, Jack Cane and Jerry Comfort. These men succeeded in making their way to the encampment shaft nearly a mile away, so that no lives were lost, as was at first feared. The fire was extinguished with a loss of about $10,000.

Explosion in a Nitro-Glycerine Factory. BRADFORD, Pa., April 16.—At Custer City, near here, at noon to-day the nitro-glycerine factory of the Rock Glycerine Company, was blown to pieces for the second time within a few weeks. Superintendent W. R. Burrows and Enos Brown, an employe, were blown into the air about fifteen feet, but escaped serious injury, as both were able to walk home. The men state that they themselves heard no noise whatever, but the explosion was quite plainly felt and heard in this city, three and a half miles distant, as well as at Custer, a half mile from the scene of the disaster. The damage will not exceed $10,000.

Celebrated their Emancipation. WASHINGTON, April 16.—The colored people of Washington to-day celebrated the 23d anniversary of their emancipation. The weather was fine. There was the usual parade of colored military and civic societies, which marched through the principal streets, followed by a jubilant and joyous throng of freemen. President Cleveland stood in the front portico of the executive mansion and reviewed the emancipation procession, which was through the White House grounds. In the evening Hon. Fred Douglass delivered the oration, which was replete in historical interest, and was well received.

Starved and Frozen to Death. WHEELING, W. Va., April 17.—A special from Point Pleasant, this State, says: "About four miles below town on the side of the hill there has been living an old woman called Granny Galloway with two grand children, all aged from 10 to 15 years old. For several days past no smoke had been seen coming from the chimney. The neighbors finally forced the door yesterday and found the old woman and two children dead in bed and partly gnawed by rats. The bodies were much emaciated, and three had evidently starved and frozen to death during the last cold spell."

Husband and Wife Sent to Jail. LANCASTER, April 15.—Some time ago a quarrel between a man and woman in the Common Pleas Courts here against George Bennett, a well-known plumber, and his wife, based on the charge that the woman had with malice persistently emptied slops into a well of drinking water on the premises of a neighbor. A verdict of $400 was found against the woman and the husband being unable or unwilling to pay the sum he and his wife were placed in jail to-day, where they will be confined for sixty days under the statute providing such remedy in actions in tort.

Mad Dog in Milwaukee. MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 16.—The appearance of a mad dog in the northwestern part of the city last evening caused great excitement. An effort to run down and kill him failed, and he was finally shot by a man and one man had been bitten. The police fear that there are other cases not reported. Some bites are quite severe.

Attempt to Blow up a House.

BALTIMORE, April 16.—Some time ago one of the largest glass manufacturing establishments in the city discharged all the men employed and closed one of the furnaces. The other furnace was kept running and the operatives were employed. About six weeks ago a number of the apprentices struck and threats were made against those who remained. Ten of those who continued to work boarded at the corner of Eutaw and West streets, which is convenient to the glass works, and at a late hour last night an attempt was made to blow up the house.

A can containing ten pounds of gunpowder was placed in the cellar, to which a fuse was attached. The fuse was lighted by a match worked by a string, and the explosion occurred as desired. The house was badly shaken, and one of the boys intended to be damaged was thrown from his bed, but received no serious injury. The parties who made the attempt to blow up the house have not been discovered.

Shocking Discovery in St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 14, 1885.—A horrible discovery was made yesterday in the Southern Hotel, at St. Louis. The murdered and decomposed body of a middle aged man was found in a trunk in one of the rooms. The room had been occupied by two men registered as "Walter H. Lenox Maxwell, M. D." and "C. Arthur Preller," both of London, England. Maxwell left the hotel last Sunday week, but he had paid his board regularly no notice was taken of his departure, and reached St. Louis on Monday night. The trunk was opened, and the body was found in the upper part of the trunk, wrapped in a sheet. The trunk was printed in large letters the words: "So perish all traitors to the great cause."

Shot a Friend by Accident. CHAMBERSBURG, April 16.—An example of the danger attending the careless use of firearms was exhibited in Chambersburg, Franklin county last night. D. F. Metcalfe, a shoe merchant of that place, was in Mc Afee's hotel when George W. Wilkins, a constable entered. The former, picking up a toy gun, jokingly remarked to the latter that he was going to shoot him. Wilkins responded, "I am ready," and pulled his revolver from his pocket. As he raised it to a perpendicular position it was accidentally discharged. The ball entered Metcalfe's mouth and lodged in the upper part of his head. It has not yet been extracted. Although the wound is a dangerous one, it is thought Metcalfe may recover.

Escape from a Burning Mine. LINCOLN, ILL., April 16.—The Lincoln Coal Company's shaft and landing caught fire this morning and were soon a mass of flames. From ten to twenty miners were at the bottom. The fire was caused by the explosion of a torch in the oil room. The cages were kept running until a few minutes before the wire cable snapped in two. The following men were then known to be at the bottom: Deputy Sheriff John Walshe, Pat Campbell, Mike Savage, Jack Cane and Jerry Comfort. These men succeeded in making their way to the encampment shaft nearly a mile away, so that no lives were lost, as was at first feared. The fire was extinguished with a loss of about $10,000.

Explosion in a Nitro-Glycerine Factory. BRADFORD, Pa., April 16.—At Custer City, near here, at noon to-day the nitro-glycerine factory of the Rock Glycerine Company, was blown to pieces for the second time within a few weeks. Superintendent W. R. Burrows and Enos Brown, an employe, were blown into the air about fifteen feet, but escaped serious injury, as both were able to walk home. The men state that they themselves heard no noise whatever, but the explosion was quite plainly felt and heard in this city, three and a half miles distant, as well as at Custer, a half mile from the scene of the disaster. The damage will not exceed $10,000.

Celebrated their Emancipation. WASHINGTON, April 16.—The colored people of Washington to-day celebrated the 23d anniversary of their emancipation. The weather was fine. There was the usual parade of colored military and civic societies, which marched through the principal streets, followed by a jubilant and joyous throng of freemen. President Cleveland stood in the front portico of the executive mansion and reviewed the emancipation procession, which was through the White House grounds. In the evening Hon. Fred Douglass delivered the oration, which was replete in historical interest, and was well received.

Starved and Frozen to Death. WHEELING, W. Va., April 17.—A special from Point Pleasant, this State, says: "About four miles below town on the side of the hill there has been living an old woman called Granny Galloway with two grand children, all aged from 10 to 15 years old. For several days past no smoke had been seen coming from the chimney. The neighbors finally forced the door yesterday and found the old woman and two children dead in bed and partly gnawed by rats. The bodies were much emaciated, and three had evidently starved and frozen to death during the last cold spell."

Husband and Wife Sent to Jail. LANCASTER, April 15.—Some time ago a quarrel between a man and woman in the Common Pleas Courts here against George Bennett, a well-known plumber, and his wife, based on the charge that the woman had with malice persistently emptied slops into a well of drinking water on the premises of a neighbor. A verdict of $400 was found against the woman and the husband being unable or unwilling to pay the sum he and his wife were placed in jail to-day, where they will be confined for sixty days under the statute providing such remedy in actions in tort.

Mad Dog in Milwaukee. MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 16.—The appearance of a mad dog in the northwestern part of the city last evening caused great excitement. An effort to run down and kill him failed, and he was finally shot by a man and one man had been bitten. The police fear that there are other cases not reported. Some bites are quite severe.

A Story With a Moral.

A disgusted fellow from Southwest who went to Washington to get an office, bearing a petition as long as the longest river in his State, was asked what he thought of the Administration: "It reminds me of the man's experience at the menagerie," he replied. "There was a good dumber great elephant there, and as the man stood by and looked at him the best slowly moved his trunk back and forth aimlessly and without much animation, and switched his tail about in about the same fashion. The man began to throw small pebbles at the critter, but they rolled right off his tough, black hide and beyond an occasional wink and an extra vigorous swish of the tail, the elephant didn't appear to mind it. Finally the man got mad and he broke out: 'You gold-durned great black fool for nothing, indiarubber son of a gun, what are you here for anyway. Durned if I wouldn't kick y'r if only I knew which end to begin at.'—Atlantic Constitution.

Isthmus Rebels Drowned. CHICAGO, April 19.—When the troops of the Colombian Government finally entered Colon, after it had been burned by the rebels under the leadership of Presto, they captured several squads of rebels. During the next few days the number of these prisoners has been considerably augmented by the receipt of straggling rebels captured in surrounding districts. It is not known just how many rebels were thus held prisoners at Colon, but good authorities place the number at about four hundred. Another information from this city last night that on Wednesday the officers of the Colombian Government selected one hundred of the worst rebels imprisoned at Colon and placing them on board a steamer, carried them out to the bay, where the entire one hundred were thrown overboard and drowned.

Russia Gains a Point. LONDON, April 15.—In the Cabinet council to-day the Anglo-Russian situation, it is said, was represented to be as follows: England and Russia have agreed upon a basis for a delimitation of the Afghan frontier subject to a satisfactory explanation by Russia of the recent attack on the Afghans. According to this scheme Russia will be obliged to cede to Russia, provided the Ameer consents. The departure of the Dragons from Brighton for India which was fixed for to-day, has been postponed, pending the issue of the negotiations between Russia and England.

It is believed in British official circles that there is no change in the Afghan situation. No reliable information with reference to the dispute is expected for some days yet.

A Horrible Death. WHEELING, W. Va., April 16.—[Special]—One of the most terrible accidents ever occurring in West Virginia, in which but a single life was lost, occurred near Mannington yesterday. Elijah Looman, a farmer, was driving a large team into a hill side cutting a large tree into single lengths. He had cut the butt of the tree, which was three feet in diameter, and was cutting the next length above. The trunk of the tree rolled a few yards down the hillside when the heavy roots turned over and fell upon the unfortunate man, pinning him to the ground, the sharp roots impaling him in several places, while the weight of the mass, resting upon his abdomen, literally burst him open, his entrails being forced out on the ground.

An Estatic Democratic Editor. Hosanna! The inauguration of our Democratic President is unto our famished soul as honey on a hot wafer. Our blood tingles with freshened courage, and the birds sing in the green groves that margin the pellucid lakes in Paradise. Just think of it! After hobbling in the arid, sandy desert of politics for 24 years we desert up at an oasis whose springs are nectar and whose beds are roses. Is it any wonder that we should be so glad to get to the green grove? We are glad to get to the green grove, and we are glad to get to the green grove. We are glad to get to the green grove, and we are glad to get to the green grove. We are glad to get to the green grove, and we are glad to get to the green grove.

Colored Democrats. WASHINGTON, April 16.—It is understood that the policy of the Administration with regard to appointments to places in the Southern States, which are now held by colored Republicans, will be not to substitute white men for colored, but to replace incompetent or dishonest colored Republicans with colored Democrats who are worthy and capable.

A Mormon Abandons Polygamy. SALT LAKE CITY, April 14.—Orson P. Arnold, a prominent Mormon, has pleaded guilty to an indictment charging unlawful cohabitation. He declared in open court his intention to abandon polygamy, obey the laws and live with his lawful wife only, not neglecting to support his "second family." Judge Zane said these declarations had great weight with the Court, and therefore imposed only a fine of $300 without imprisonment. The Court then began unpanneling the grand jury for the April term. Polygamists and upholders of polygamy are excluded, as heretofore.

Nitroglycerine in a Camp fire. OIL CREEK, April 15.—Four traps took shelter in an old shanty at Thorn Creek and built a fire on the ground in a pile of rubbish. Presently there was a terrific explosion, the shanty was demolished, and the traps were hurled twenty feet off into the bushes, but not seriously injured. That they were not torn to pieces is regarded as a miracle, as they built their fire among some nitro-glycerine cans, in which part of the explosive remained.

Try It Yourself. The proof of the pudding is not in pulling the string, but in having an opportunity to try the article yourself. C. N. Boyd, the Druggist, has a free trial bottle of Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup for each one who is afflicted with Coughs, Colds, Consumption or any Lung Affection.

Hobbed by Masked Men.

Mr. Zion, O., April 15.—One of the most daring robberies ever known in this section occurred near this place last night. About twelve o'clock three masked burglars broke in the door of Andrew Coleman's house and seized Coleman, who is an invalid, binding him to his bed. His wife was also bound. A son, ten years of age, was taken from his bed by the thieves, who tied him up by his thumbs and whipped him with a cord to compel him to tell where his father kept his money. The boy protested his ignorance of the place and the father, to prevent further injury to his boy, told the thieves where to find $1,300. This they took and left without releasing the child from his painful position. A younger brother managed to escape him. It is feared he is crippled for life. The thieves also took a horse and buggy belonging to Coleman, which they left after driving it a dozen miles to a railroad station.

Reports From the Wheat Belts of Kansas. CHICAGO, April 15.—A special dispatch to the Inter-Ocean from Topeka, Kansas, says: Information from all sections of the wheat belt of Kansas shows that the winter crop is very seriously damaged, and the continued cold weather does not present a very cheerful outlook for that small part of the crop which is not damaged. In Atchison, Doniphan, Brown, Jefferson and Jackson counties there will not be half a crop very many fields being winter-killed to such an extent as to be entirely ruined.

A Maniac's Array of Crimes. UTICA, N. Y., April 14.—A German named Humpf, residing at Canube, Herkimer county, last night cut his wife's throat while she, with her four days-old baby, was in bed. He then saturated the bed with kerosene and set it on fire. Neighbors saw the flames and extinguished them, rescuing the wife in a critical condition. Humpf was found in the garret with his throat cut, but alive. He attacked the wife savagely with an axe, but before he could injure any of them he fell dead. Humpf was insane and was to have been brought to the Utica Asylum to-day.

A Horse's Ride on a Locomotive. LANCASTER, April 15.—Yesterday forenoon John White, a milkman, attempted to drive across the railroad track at Liitt, when his team was struck by the engine of a passenger train. The horse was pitched as high as the smoke-stack, and alighted on the cow-catcher and was carried a distance of two hundred yards before the train was stopped. The animal died shortly afterward. The wagon was broken to pieces, and White, who was thrown some distance, received but a few slight bruises.

A Pendleton Manager Charged With Bribery. COLEBURN, April 16.—Allen O. Meyers stated before the Legislative investigating committee to-day that before the election of a Senator by the Legislature last winter he was approached by Benjamin Robinson, of Cincinnati, one of Pendleton's managers, and was offered a large sum of money to vote for Robinson. He refused to do so, and a thousand dollars for his vote. Mr. Robinson has been summoned to appear before the committee and developments in the Senatorial contest are promised by him.

A Mixture of Cat Rabbit and Dog. MIDDLETON, N. Y., April 16.—J. C. Thompson has brought from Mexico to the Holding house, this village an animal which has the face of a cat, a rabbit's back and hind legs, and the tail and forelegs of a dog. It has no hair, the skin resembling that of the native dog of Mexico.

Rheumatism is quickly cured by using Arnica & Oil Liniment. For Sale by C. N. BOYD.

EXECUTORS' NOTICE. Estate of Francis Martin, dec'd, late of Allegheny Co., Pa., deceased. The undersigned, executor of the will of the said Francis Martin, do hereby give notice to all persons interested in the estate of the said Francis Martin, that they are to appear at the office of the undersigned, at Allegheny City, Pa., on the 23d day of April, 1885, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of settling the account of the said Francis Martin, and for the purpose of settling the account of the said Francis Martin, and for the purpose of settling the account of the said Francis Martin.

ADMINISTRATORS' NOTICE. Estate of Henry Perrod, dec'd, late of Schuylkill Co., Pa., deceased. The undersigned, administrators of the estate of the said Henry Perrod, do hereby give notice to all persons interested in the estate of the said Henry Perrod, that they are to appear at the office of the undersigned, at Allegheny City, Pa., on the 23d day of April, 1885, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of settling the account of the said Henry Perrod, and for the purpose of settling the account of the said Henry Perrod.

EGGS FOR HATCHING. From Pure Bred Stock. For the season of 1885 I can supply Eggs from Longhorn's pure-bred Fowls at $1.00 per setting. The Longhorn's stock is the best of the kind in any poultry yard. For Sale by M. A. SNYDER.

STEAM ENGINES. For Sale by M. A. SNYDER. Second-hand Engines and Boilers on hand. Send for Stock List. Allegheny City, Pa.

CASTORA. For Infants and Children. What gives our Children pure blood, What cures their Colic, What cures their Coughs, What cures their Croup, What cures their Fever, What cures their Worms, What cures their Diarrhea, What cures their Dropsy, What cures their Spasms, What cures their Convulsions, What cures their Stomachic, What cures their Headache, What cures their Toothache, What cures their Sore Throat, What cures their Hoarseness, What cures their Whooping Cough, What cures their Measles, What cures their Mumps, What cures their Scarlatina, What cures their Typhoid Fever, What cures their Cholera, What cures their Dysentery, What cures their Biliousness, What cures their Indigestion, What cures their Constipation, What cures their Diarrhea, What cures their Hemorrhoids, What cures their Piles, What cures their Gout, What cures their Rheumatism, What cures their Neuralgia, What cures their Migraine, What cures their Vertigo, What cures their Epilepsy, What cures their Hysteria, What cures their Melancholia, What cures their Mania, What cures their Dementia, What cures their Paralysis, What cures their Palsy, What cures their Stammering, What cures their Stuttering, What cures their Deafness, What cures their Blindness, What cures their Deafness, What cures their Blindness, What cures their Deafness, What cures their Blindness.

CASTORA. For Infants and Children. What gives our Children pure blood, What cures their Colic, What cures their Coughs, What cures their Croup, What cures their Fever, What cures their Worms, What cures their Diarrhea, What cures their Dropsy