

The Senate and House promptly passed the indigent soldiers' burial bill over the Governor's veto, and it is now a law.

Our Iowa bar-rooms are supplied with beef tea and buttermilk, and indignant Democrats are cursing civil service reform as the cause.

Mr. CLEVELAND and his Cabinet are swinging their axes vigorously. Republican officials are decapitated by the score, and the rebel Brigadiers are gathering the fruits of their victory.

This Legislature is great on little things. It is strongly opposed to the people being cheated with bogus butter, but is gaily indifferent to their being robbed by railroad corporations.

Mr. BLACKBURN, of Kentucky, now wishes he had not learned to write. The President couldn't stand that bloody letter written to his wife, and has revoked his appointment as Collector.

MISS JANE HOLMES, an old maid lady who died in Pittsburgh a few days since, will her entire estate, amounting to more than a million of dollars, to various charitable institutions in and around that city.

The Republicans in the Legislature are at great pains to make a district from which Samuel J. Randall can be continually elected to Congress, and Mr. Randall is at equally as great pains to urge the kicking out of office of every Republican in the State that Mr. Cleveland can reach. Admirable reciprocity, ain't it?

It is good cause for removal from office—which, in the language of Mr. Cleveland, is a "public trust"—to be an "offensive (Republican) partisan," but it is the only recommendation for office, to be an offensive Democratic partisan. This makes the difference between two-dee-dee and twiddle-dum very apparent.

CHAIRMAN COOPER says that, in accordance with the rules, he will issue a call for the Republican State Convention for the second Wednesday in July. The fool rule requiring the convention to be held in the hot month of July should be abolished. September is early enough, and a campaign of six weeks is long enough for all practical purposes.

It is asserted that General Rosecrans will be appointed Register of the Treasury, to fill the vacancy created by the involuntary resignation of B. K. Bruce. "Old Roy" made an ass of himself by his bitter personal hostility to placing General Grant on the retired list. Still, the old fellow was a gallant Union soldier, and we are pleased to see him adorn the Presidential nosegay, where he will bloom, a Rose among thorns.

The count of the money in the Treasury has been finished; the missing two cents were found on the floor, where they had been dropped; the books were examined and found to correspond exactly with the cash on hand, and the new Treasurer admits everything correct and satisfactory. Now let us see whether the party that has been accusing Republican officials with rascality, can make the same honest and correct exhibit at the end of four years, when the Republicans will again assume the reins of government.

ONE of the first acts of Mr. Daniel Manning when he became Secretary of the Treasury, was to dismiss six Special Agents, and this piece of alleged economy was speedily telegraphed all over the country. Mr. Manning has already replaced them with six sound Democrats, and his alleged economy is no longer visible to the naked eye. The Secretary has only proven himself a sneak, not an economist. If he wanted to turn out six Republicans and put in six Democrats, why did he not do so like a little man? The country knows him as a "spoils Democrat," and he can't gather civil service laurels by a transparent trick of this kind. There is nothing so despicable as a sneak!

PENNSYLVANIA was lost to the Republicans at the last gubernatorial election, through a stupid howl against leadership—"Bossism" was the cant term. A pitiful lack of leadership in the present House, is the evident cause of its stumbling, shilly-shally, do-little course, during this session. There is no lack of ability in the House, but it plainly lacks a leader in whom the majority has confidence, and hence it has drifted about aimlessly during most of the session. "Independent thought" may be a most desirable thing where independent action only is required, but where concentration is necessary, independent action is simply stupidity, or worse. It is unfortunate, but it is evidently true, that the Republican party is again reaping the fruits at Harrisburg, of the silly cry against leadership, which lost the State, little more than two years ago.

ANOTHER battle for the right was lost at Harrisburg last week, by the defeat of the bill to prevent discrimination in railroad freights. This bill was so obviously in the interests of the public, and the people in almost every portion of this Com-

DISLOYALTY REWARDED.

Senator Frye's Arrangement of President Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—Senator Frye, of Maine, has written a letter in answer to inquiries as to his opinion of the appointment of Internal Revenue Commissioner, which contains some pungent sentences descriptive of some of Mr. Cleveland's appointments, and of the Democratic party.

"Where does Mr. Pillsbury fall below the average of the nominations already made by the President, and very generally approved by the press inquires Mr. Frye.

"He is a lawyer of respectable standing, a man of agreeable manners, of correct habits, and of undoubted fidelity to his party. He was a copperhead? Yes, but no more determined and outspoken than Mr. Phelps, whose nomination to the most important position of Minister to England was so favorably viewed and confirmed. No more so than Mr. Bayard, whose Doisy speech frightened even the Democrats from nominating him as their candidate for the Presidency. No more so than Mr. McLane, Minister to France. No more so than Mr. Pendleton, Minister to Germany, was openly denounced as a traitor during and after the war. No more so than two-thirds of the nominees thus far named for conspicuous places. I believe every successful candidate from the South was a copperhead. Some of them are even now publicly defending their treachery. Some of them are unwilling to bend the knee sufficient to ask the removal of their political disabilities.

"But Pillsbury was an adviser in the State so called and admitted, entering the Government, and whose name is even now publicly defending their treachery. Some of them are unwilling to bend the knee sufficient to ask the removal of their political disabilities.

Middleton's Forces Gain a Well-Earned Victory.

WINNEPEG, May 15.—The following dispatch from Batouche, via General Middleton's camp and headquarters, has just been received:

Batouche has fallen and the rebels have fled, being driven from the point of the bayonet. The charge was gallantly made by the 13th and 17th regiments of the 1st division, which were in the lead, saying: "If you persist in firing upon the houses containing our women and children, we will massacre the prisoners in our hands." The General, in reply, told him to gather his women and children into one house, and he would send a party of his men to guard them. The General, in reply, told him to gather his women and children into one house, and he would send a party of his men to guard them.

Father Moulin, the parish priest, was asked to-day as to the losses of the rebels in the fighting at Batouche. He gave them as 51 killed and 173 wounded. His statement may be relied upon as accurate.

A telegram from Battleford, started on the same day, says a party of seven mounted police, on patroling about noon to-day near the entrance to Eagle Hills, 10 miles from here, were surprised by a large band of mounted Indians and fired on. Constable Elliott was instantly killed, dropping out of his saddle, and Constable Spencer was wounded in body, but succeeded in riding away.

St. Paul, May 14.—The Minneapolis flouring mills are beginning to shut down for lack of orders. Two of them with an aggregate daily capacity of 200 barrels closed to-day and others are expected to follow this week. Millers say that they are apiling up the flour, but at the present prices are absolutely unable to dispose of it.

Atlanta, May 14.—A party of seven hundred pleasure seekers from here to Tallulah Falls were poisoned by eating ice-cream, this afternoon. Reports which reach here state that seventy persons are unconscious on the ground. Many of them it is thought will die. The city is intensely excited and anxious.

Wheeler, W. Va., May 15.—About 3 o'clock this morning burglars broke into the house of Mrs. Louisa Daum at the house and outrageously abused her in the hopes of making her tell where her money was hidden in the house. She gave them all she had, about $4, but believing that she money they choked and beat her until she was most dead, and then proceeded to go through her little house, cutting and breaking open trunks, boxes, beds and tearing out a fire-place in the hopes of finding a large amount of money supposed to be hid there.

They Killed 51 and Wounded 173.

WINNEPEG, May 15.—A Clarke's Crossing dispatch, sent yesterday, says: The half-breeds are arriving in the Middle West in large numbers. They all say that they were forced into the rebellion. Charles Nolin is blamed by all as the instigator of the half-breeds, and Monkman as the instigator among the Indians. Forty bodies of rebels have been found on the field, 13 of which are Indians. The steamer Northcote had a narrow escape, and had not been for the coyness delayed by C company, School of Infantry, under Major Smith, a disaster would have resulted. Colonel Bedson, chief of the transport, was shot through the coat. He died with a flesh wound through the thigh.

The Miners at Pocahontas.

PERRYVILLE, Va., May 14.—The colored hands at the Pocahontas Mines in Lazerelle County, Va., just across the mountains from this place, are accused of creating a reign of terror in that isolated locality. Last Tuesday was the regular payday, and after receiving their money, the men, excited by whisky, indulged in numerous blood rows. Polly Nevels, the only officer in the place, arrested two men and confined them in jail. The miners set out for the jail to the number of 200, with the intention of tearing down the building and hanging Nevels on sight.

The mob forced its way into the building, and released the prisoners, and partly destroyed the structure. Nevels was afterwards caught, but escaped with his life through the efforts of Mine Superintendent Dodd, who effected his release by addressing the rioters. In the course of his remarks he threatened to telegraph to the Governor for troops. The excitement is intense, and a renewal of the trouble is very probable.

WHEELING, May 15.—[Special]—The third of a remarkable series of suicides in one family occurred yesterday near Clarlington, G. Prof. Enoch Martin, a refined man who for years has been prominent in educational circles in Eastern Ohio, succeeded by laying down in a pond about a foot deep and drowning himself. No cause is apparent. Prof. Martin's father hung himself a short time ago and his brother cut his throat with a razor last week.
