Grant and Napoleon.

Grant and Napoleon.

It is the custom of all great soldiers to visit the tomb of Napoleon when they are in Paris. General Grant was an exception to the rule. He regarded the mighty Emperor with horror, and during his stay in Paris could not be persuaded to visit the great conqueror's last resting place. Grant viewed the First Napoleon as a murderous monster, and felt no more interest in his emblazoned centaph than he would have felt in the sepulcher of an ordinary brigand. The splendor of the Corsical's career failed to dazzle the plain Republican soldier. He felt only abhorrence for the man who sacrificed millions to the lust of A Sensible Man relatively small mileage and the

ROBUST HEALTH

Is not always enjoyed by those who seem to possess it. The taint of corrupted blood may be secretly undermining the constitution. In time, the poison will certainly show its effects, and with all the more virulence the longer it has been allowed to permeate the system. Each pimple, sty, boll, skin disorder and sense of unnatural lassitude, or languor, is one of Nature's warnings of the consequences of neglect.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only remedy that can be relied upon, in all cases, to cradicate the taint of hered-itary disease and the special corruptions of the blood. It is the only alterative of the blood. It is the only alterative that is sufficiently powerful to thoroughly cleanse the system of Serofulous and Mercurial impurities and the pollution of Contagious Diseases. It also neu-tralizes the poisons left by Diphtheria and Searlet Fever, and cuables rapid recuperation from the enfeeblement and debility caused by these diseases. Myriads of Cures

Americans as Coffee Drinkers

The most important commedity of the American grocery trade is coffee. People could better do without sugar than without coffee. You may think that a strong statement, eral Workman doing business in this section of country. but it is indisputable. The Americans are a nation of coffee-drinkers. America consumes over one-third of the entire product of the world. No breakfast table, whether in the abode of the rich or the poor, is considered complete without it. To many persons it is more necessary in the morning than food. Coffee contains valuable medicinal qualities; one of which is being anti-soporific, and therefore useful in cases of narcotic poisoning. It has been found to be one of the very best stimulants for administration to persons who are nearly dying from starvation or cold. Old in Experience. We have had thirty years experience in manufacturing Raw Bone Super-Phosphates and farmers may depend upon our goods. There is no improvement or economy of manufacture suggested by science or accomplished by skilled experience, that we have not embodied in producing relable and cheap fertilizers. It has been shown over and over again by testimonals from reliable farmers, and by analyses made and published by State Boards of Agriculture, that Baugh's $25 Phosphate is a complete and reliable fertilizer for general
