Catching the Veracious Shark.

The sharks which abound on the east coast of Madagascar, and make such extensive depredations upon the cattle in course of shipment, are occasionally captured by the people. The young men sometimes go on a shark hunting expedition. Having discovered a shark they dive under it, and, before it has time to turn on its back, use the long knife they carry. It is affirmed among the Malagasy that some of their people can go into the water on discovering a shark, and, with nothing in hand but a piece of stick about a foot in length, armed with an iron point at each end, can accomplish its destruction. Watching till one of the monsters, with its two or three rows of teeth, is about to attack him with its wide extended jaws, the native with his iron-pointed stick, seizes his opportunity, and inserts his hand into the mouth of the creature and transfixes its jaws by implant-
