during his stay there, and had what is popularly known as "a load on." Nevertheless he drifted into the revival meeting and took a seat well in front. It was rather close in the church, and the warm air was conducive to sleep. The drummer yielded to the drowsy god, and after nodding a little sank into a profound slumber, and slept through the minister's rather long and dry discourse. The audience sang a hymn, and the drummer slept on. Then the evan-gelist began his address, and wound up his fervid appeal with this re-

A Bullet Can Find a Coward.

"Gen. Grant was a firm believer in the mythical lucky star," an old military man said recently; "like Napoleon, he believed what would be, would be. I was with Frant in the days preceding the surrender at Appenattox. One afternoon, during one of the numerous skirmishes of those last eventful days, one of the drafted men-a poltroon and a notorious coward-was found skulking in the commissary's camp. The fel-low was pointed out to the General. Let him go, said he; let him go a bullet can find a coward in one place as well as another.' Half an hour afterward the soldier was found with a bullet in his brain within the corral of a train of horses, and dead."

I have just received two car backs of the Self-oiling Steel-akein Schuttler Wagons, the most complete Western Wagon in the market for Road or Farm Purposes. On the latter there is a Rear Brake, to be used when hauling bay or grain, a something that farmers know the necessity of when hauling on hilly farms. Every part of the Wood-work of his wagon has laid in Stock three years before being worked up, insuring the work to be horoughly seasoned before being ironed. Being the parentees of the
