THE CENTURY'S FRUITS.

They Are Displayed in Pomp—Bever and Cleveland Meet.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The first of the centennial days broke with a grand parade in the city of Philadelphia. The streets were lined with thousands of people, and the air was filled with the music of brass bands. The parade was a grand affair, with many floats and bands. The weather was perfect, and the crowd was in high spirits. The parade was a great success, and it was a fitting celebration of the centennial.

ANARCHISTS MUST DIE.

Decision of the Lower Courts affirmed.—The Execution to Take Place November.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—It was just announced that the Illinois supreme court, now in session at Ottawa, has affirmed the judgment of the lower court which condemned the convicted anarchists to the gallows. The news was received with intense interest in this city and thousands are reading the bulletin boards of the newspapers.

The court announced: "In this case the judgment in the court below is affirmed as to all, and as to each and every one of the defendants. An opinion has been prepared setting forth the reasons of the affirmation of the judgment. The opinion is now handed to the clerk to be filed."

The opinion referred to was written by Justice Magruder, who comes from the Chicago district. The opinion covers 290 pages of closely printed matter. It contains more than 50,000 words. It is undoubtedly the most important decision of the Illinois supreme court ever been called upon to give. Lawyers say that the document is an able exposition of the law and its precedents, interpretations by eminent American jurists. In this work Justice Magruder was ably assisted by each of the six other distinguished judges, who made him their spokesman and through him expressed their unanimous decision.

Chief Justice Shedd and Louis Annand, who concurred in the opinion, believe that it should be concurred in the opinion. Before pronouncing sentence, however, he called upon Justice Miller, who rose and said: "It is my intention to offer a separate opinion, as I have had some doubts as to whether or not I concur in the conclusions reached, and also in the general views as entered in the opinion filed. I do not wish to be understood as holding that the record is free from error for I do not think it is. I am, nevertheless, of the opinion that none of the errors complained of is of such serious character as to require a reversal of the judgment. In view of the number of defendants on trial, the great length of time consumed in the trial, the vast amount of testimony offered and passed upon by the court, and the almost numberless rulings the court was required to make, the want of more time and of more serious character than the errors in fact given the questions arising on my best thought, with an earnest and conscientious desire to faithfully discharge my duty, I am glad to concur in the opinion of the court. I will, therefore, concur in the law and do not participate in the people of the state and the defendants, fully warranted by the law and the evidence."

Chief Justice Shedd then announced the formal sentence, as follows: "In this case, the court orders that the sentence of the superior court of Cook county, of the defendants in the indictment—Anthony Spiro, Samuel Felder, R. Parsons, William E. McLean, and others, who were carried into effect by the sheriff of Cook county, on the 17th day of November, next, on Friday, between the hours of 10 o'clock, forenoon and 4 o'clock afternoon, on that day."

The judgment of the court was unanimous. THEY LEARN OF THEIR doom. CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 14.—The first official information that reached this city of the decision in the case of the anarchists was a telegram from the Illinois supreme court to the state attorney's office here. It read: "Anarchist case affirmed; execution November 11." Mr. Parrott, the state attorney's office, was at once to the jail with the dispatch. Following the receipt of the dispatch, he sent a telegram to August Spies, who had been sent from Ottawa by an agent of the anarchists. The telegram which took the dispatch to Mr. Spies, and showed it through the hands of the state attorney's office, the effect it would have on Spies.

The anarchist took the message, glanced faintly at the envelope, and then withdrew to the darker end of the cell. In two minutes, he called gently to the old man who sits next to him in the cell, and asked him to hand the yellow telegram to Parsons. From that last reached Spies, who is only under sentence of imprisonment. Newspaper men have been ransacking every file under the condemned men, and all observations had to be taken from the outside of the cage, about ten yards from the cell door. It could be dimly seen that each of the condemned men made ostentatious efforts at composure. The faces of the men in their cell doors, and read newspapers and books, smoked cigars, and one lying in the bunk maker, whistled.

Their wives and friends had been with them for an hour during the morning, but about thirty minutes before the news came they were all excluded and the prisoners locked up, each by himself.

Examined the Bustle.
NEW YORK, September 16.—A seizure was made yesterday by one of the Custom House inspectors, Mrs. L. Morgan, which seemed to indicate that she was carrying a box of male dresses to protect Uncle Sam's pocket of it is more valuable than some people think. Mrs. Morgan was examined the packages of Mrs. Martin of Cincinnati, Ohio, a trunk of a lady of a fashionable New York. The trunk was packed with a variety of male dresses of various periods. The packages were packed in tin, and were found to contain 170 yards of valuable silk. A silk dress was found in a box which was packed with other packages.

Noticing that Mrs. Morgan was a bustle of unusual size, Mrs. Morgan asked her to step into a private room on the pier, where she made out the trunk, and then opened it. She found the trunk was packed with a variety of male dresses of various periods. The packages were packed in tin, and were found to contain 170 yards of valuable silk. A silk dress was found in a box which was packed with other packages.

Death from an Overdose of Alcohol.
THOMPSON, Sept. 16.—E. Jackson, manager of the Thompson hotel, died recently at Chateaugay, Clinton county, at the age of 42. He had been drinking heavily for some time, and died from an overdose of alcohol. His death was a great loss to the hotel.

A Tragedy in Maryland.
BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—Information reached this city today of a shocking tragedy which occurred on the night of the 13th inst. at Huntington, a small village in Calvert county. Edward Collins, a farmer, got into a quarrel with a man named John Smith, who was a stranger in the village. Collins shot Smith in the back of the head, and he died immediately.

An Awful Railroad Accident.
LOSOS, Sept. 16.—The Midland train was standing on a crossing, a mile from Doncaster, when the train was struck by a coal train. The collision was a terrible one, and many of the passengers were killed or injured. The coal train was out of control, and struck the passenger train with great force.

A Freight Wreck.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 19.—Owing to fault of the train dispatcher, two freight trains ran together on the northern branch of the Pennsylvania railroad to-night. Four box-cars loaded with grain powder exploded with frightful force, wrecking about twenty-five cars, which afterward caught fire, and with their contents were consumed. The engineers and firemen jumped and saved their lives, but three brakemen were fatally injured. The loss is $100,000.

AT A Train Dynamited.

FENWAY, O., September 19.—A fearful and peculiar accident occurred this morning one mile west of Fenway, a village near this city, on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad, resulting in the loss of six lives and the maiming of many others. The train was composed of a freight train and a passenger train. The freight train was struck by a dynamite train, which was carrying a large amount of dynamite. The explosion was a terrible one, and the train was wrecked and destroyed. The passengers were killed or maimed.

Novel Spectacular Wedding.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 16.—The novel spectacle of a wedding by torchlight and in the presence of a military guard from Fenway Post O. A. R., was given by a vast gathering of people at the Fenway schoolhouse, Fenway, O., last night. Between 9 and 10 o'clock a carriage was driven to the grounds containing the bride and groom—Miss Edna Fry and Mr. A. M. Gwaltney—and their attendants. The carriage was followed by another in which was Rev. W. H. Lintmire, who was to perform the ceremony. As the wedding party descended the platform a band played the wedding march from "Norma" and there was a display of pyrotechnics, the great number of crackers being exploded. Pastor Lintmire repeated the marriage service gallantly and kissed the bride and shook hands with the groom. All on the platform followed the example of the pastor, with the exception of the bridesmaids, who were standing in the oscillatory fashion were rejected by the bride.

A Servant Girl With Nerve.

PAID, Sept. 16.—With the family of Charles McArthur, a farmer living near Harrisburg, an unknown man entered the house and demanded of Myrtle McArthur, the servant girl, some money which she said was there. The stranger soon found $300 with which she left. Then the girl reflected that she would be accused of stealing the money and started after the thief with a pistol. She ran after him and threatened him, but she demanded the money. On his refusing to give it up she promptly hit him on the head with the fork handle. The thief made a run for it. She followed him to the edge of the woods and saw him stop. She ran after him and threatened him, but she demanded the money. On his refusing to give it up she promptly hit him on the head with the fork handle. The thief made a run for it. She followed him to the edge of the woods and saw him stop.

Novel Cause of a Extra Session.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 15.—A special session of the fifteen legislative assembly adjourned last evening after a session of about three weeks. Probably never before have three dogs and ground squirrels necessitated a special session of a legislature. The legislature last winter authorized a bounty of ten cents for dead prairie dogs, and five cents for dead ground squirrels, and to date the territory has paid for 68,601 ground squirrels and 13,709 prairie dogs, a total of over $300,000. The bounty was intended to pay for the loss of the territory and the loss of the territory was a great loss.
