Do Your Duty.

As each citizen is given the ballot, it is not only his privilege, but his duty to use it. It is an element of power and safety when it is properly used, and one of weakness and danger when neglected. It is useless to arm an individual for his protection, if he does not defend himself when the emergency arrives. No citizen has the moral right to disfranchise himself for it is a species of spicide and a neglect that must bring danger. This is a government of popular opinion, where the verdict should be made up by a full jury.-As our laws are for all, and to protect all, so it is the duty of each and all to select those who make and execute them. Each voter should have an opinion, and if he does his duty he will express that opinion at the polls. We ask you to give form and expression to that opinion. Confidence in the future of our nation, and faith in the fitness of the people to govern, do not imply that all can or will have a clear perception of right or wrong, but it will tend to an enlightened public opinion. Some voters are blindly Democrats, and others are as decidedly Republicans from instinct or prejudice, but the masses lie between these extremes, and Democrat and Republican alike seek to that which is best for the country.-Those who will study the plans, and plots, and policy of the present national administration should have no difficulty in deciding which party to support.

Such people cannot fail to advocate the placing of honest, reputable, and loyal persons in power, and an examination will convince them that men who are blistered with disloyalty, bleared with fraud, and who are devoid of conscience or character, have been elevated to high places of trust and honor. No man can avoid feeling that the government is not safe in the hands of a party which seeks spoils and not principles and which subsidizes everything to sustain itself in power. The Democratic party has been on trial and it has demonstrated its want of principle, its greed for office, and how unscrupulously many of its officials serve party and self, dodging every vital question and avoiding every effort for the public welfare that may lose them

Our people fully comprehend that it is the duty of our government to promote honest trade and productive industry instead of dangerous speculation. But they have seen, under the present administration the wildest riot of speculation deliberately fostered by inflation of the currency in order to help Democratic candidates in elections. They have seen industries hampered and destroyed by wild speculation, and also by partisan agitation of Free Trade. Business interests and moral convictions pull in the same direction-a party that promotes gambling instead of legitimate business, destroys at once public prosperity and pubhe morals. They realize that it is a paramount duty of government to protect and build up industries, so that better conditions and larger rewards may be secured for the millions who earn their daily bread by their daily labor. If this had to be done at a heavy sacrifice it would still be a sacred duty to uplift the millions who would fall without the sustaining arm of a government instituted for the protection of all in general and the weak in particular. But the Republican policy that defends home labor no longer costs a sacrifice, for the time has arrived when yearly returns more than repay all the sacrifices which the protection of labor involves.-Thus interest and duty unite in requiring a maintenance of Republican policy which has given us progress and prosperity. And it will continue if you do your duty at

When we compare our laboring people with those of Europe, the beneficent effeets of the Republican tariff policy are apparent. The following facts were deducted from official reports sent by our Consuls to the Department of State. They are not visionary theories but cold facts and figures :

1. The rate of wages in the United States, roughly estimated, is more than twice those of Belgium; three times those of Denmark, France and Germany; once land; and more than three times those in Italy and Spain.

No Summer Dress Cambries to be carried 2. The prices of the necessaries of life are lower in the United States than in any of the foregoing countries; that is, the laboring people of Europe cannot purchase the necessaries of life which are common to the American people as low $1.25 and $1.50; to-day we offer ALL of as the same can be purchased in the United States; or vice versa, if the working people of the United States lived on the ber, perfect, and this senson's goods: they can't linger at these half and less than half prices. As to how many, it's neither here same quality of food, or comparatively the same, and exercised the same frugality as the working people of Europe, nor there; we want you to remember the fact that these goods are to be sold quickly, the prices insure that, and then again that they could live as cheaply as the working people of any country in Europe.
