I am exceedingly anxious to have all accounts on my books settled before the 1st of February, either by cash or note.

J. B. SNYDER.

There is a tide in the affairs of women which, taken at their flood, lead on to marriage, and leap year is the time to watch for that tide, and go with it to the desired end.

A physician says he never knew a case of death from diphtheria or scarlatina where onions were freely used. As a vermifuge, also, there is nothing better than a frequent use of boiled onions.

The Sixteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry survivors will erect a monument of granite fourteen feet in height on the Gettysburg battlefield, on which will stand the statute of a soldier of the regiment, also of granite.

Some men never need money, as they always have it; other men always need money, but never have it. I am neither of the above, but I want my books settled up at once.

Lehigh county's newly-elected Register of Wills had scarcely warmed his office chair, when the wealthiest lady in the county, Mrs. Rebecca Guier, died, leaving an estate worth $60,000, netting him about $1,000 to start with.

The Commissioners allowed the Westmoreland County Treasurer for the ensuing term of one year to those found by his predecessor, five per cent. on the first $75,000, and 1½ per cent. on all sums over that amount.

I have just received fifty (50) pieces of carpet from the city, the first installment for the spring season. They never were as pretty or as cheap as they are this season. If it's loud of a new carpet, do not buy until you see them at J. B. Snyder's.

In placing a stamp on an envelope, the best way is to moisten the corner of the envelope with the tongue and then apply the stamp. By this means you avoid the unsavory taste of the mucilage, and also the risk of poisoning yourself with the ink.

We have just received all our load of Portland and Swedish Cutters of different styles and of good quality. It will pay to call and examine them before you place your order for a sleigh.

JAS. B. HOLDERBAUM.

It will interest hunters to know they can find a good line of Powder, Shot, Caps, Gun Wadding, Primers, Turkey and Duck Calls, Powder and Shot Flasks, Cleaning Implements, reloading tools, and all kinds of Gun Repairs at Jas. B. Holderbaum's Hardware Store, Somerset, Pa.

MEAT MARKET.—We have just added a large Beiserker to our Meat Market, in which all meats can be kept cool and clean. Mutton, beef, pork, &c., kept constantly on hand. Open daily. Parties buying meat can have it kept in the refrigerator until wanted.

J. K. CORNPROBST, P. M.

John Wanamaker, the great Philadelphia merchant is, all will admit, a shrewd business man. He accounts for his success in this way: "I never in my life used such a thing as a soldier, a dodger, or a handbill. My plan for fifteen years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up with what I wanted. I would not give an advertisement in a newspaper, even of but four hundred circulation, for five thousand dodgers. If I wanted to sell cheap jewelry or run a lottery scheme I might use posters, but I never insult a decent reading public with handbills.

A little more snow would make the sleighing most excellent.

Augustus Hoffley, Esq., of Stoystown, was granted an increase of pension last week.

Some people are already beginning to preserve their New Year's resolutions in alcohol.

Mr. Nathaniel Horne, of Johnstown, had another attack of paralysis a day or two since.

Cyrus Elder, Esq., will lecture in Library Hall, Johnstown, on Saturday afternoon, January 21, 1888, on "The President's Message."

The Pennsylvania State Editorial Association will meet at the Lochiel House, Harrisburg, to-day.

Welty McCullough, of Westmoreland county, is said to be the handsomest man of the present Congress.

The copious rains have continued during the week, making the streams higher than they had been for nearly a year.

Mr. Ed. S. Kantner has greatly improved the appearance of his tobacco store by having it neatly papered and painted.

The County Commissioners will within the next few days distribute the necessary blanks for holding the spring election.

County Treasurer Black has rented Mr. John J. Hoffman's house, on Union street, and will move into it on the first of April next.

Reformation Day will be observed in the Reformed church, Somerset, at the morning service next Lord's Day; also at Lavansville at 2 o'clock p. m.

The new officials of the Court House drag into their positions very rationally, and business runs along just as smoothly as if changes had not taken place.

Sheriff McMillen has retained Mr. John A. Walter as one of his deputies. Mr. Walter was elected Sheriff of the county in 1881, and has acted as deputy for every Sheriff elected since.

The first drawing of jurors from the recently filled wheel took place Saturday. The jurors drawn are to serve at the February term of court. Their names will be found in another column.

We were glad to meet our friend "Billy" Kreger on the street the other day, and take him by the hand. It was his first appearance after a fifteen weeks' siege with typhoid fever. He is still very weak, but is gradually regaining health and strength.

It said that Mickey Smith, the Cambria county murderer who escaped from the Ebensburg jail in 1884, is living in Montana, and that for nine months after his escape he lived in a cave on a farm belonging to his uncle, near Johnstown.

Colds among the little ones are now very common, and even the older portion of the population are not exempt from the sneezing and coughing epidemic. The greatest care is necessary during the present changeable weather in order to be assured of good health.

Our ice men have been kept very busy for the past few days. The ice is from six to eight inches thick, and of a fair quality. A great deal has already been harvested and should the present cold snap continue for a few days longer, every ice house hereabouts will be filled.

Judge Furst presided at the Clearfield court last week, Judge Krebs, of that county having gone to California for his health. He allowed sixty-two licenses, refused fifty-three and one application was withdrawn. This is twenty-three less than was granted last year by Judge Krebs.

Persons contemplating going west will find it to their advantage to call on or address W. W. Picking, Traveling Passenger Agent B. & O. R. R., Somerset Pa, who will furnish them with all desired information. Can sell tickets to all points, and check baggage through to destination.

At Johnstown, several men got into a dispute as to whether the hind feet of a rabbit were larger than the fore feet. To settle the matter they hit upon a novel expedient. They caught a rabbit, painted its hind feet and then let it run through the snow. Measurement was made of the painted tracks and they were found to be larger than the others.

W. J. Cramer, Superintendent of the schools of Cambria county, receives a salary of $1,500. W. A. Cochran, Superintendent of Indiana county receives as a salary $1,197. J. M. Berkey, the Superintendent in Somerset county receives $1,143. M. G. Brumbaugh, Huntingdon county's Superintendent, receives a salary of $1,200. John H. Likens, of the Blair County schools, $1,000.

An act was passed by the last Legislature making $5 per day the compensation of the Auditors of each county. "For each and every day necessarily employed in the discharge of their duties, together with six cents per mile circular, from and to their homes, once for each and every week they are so employed." The Auditors of this county entered upon the third week of their labors Monday.

There will be a total eclipse of the moon on the evening of Jan. 28th, visible generally throughout the eastern and western continents. The moon will enter the earth's shadow at 4.23; the total eclipse will begin at 4.30, and end at 7.09; and the moon will leave the earth's shadows at 8.00. On the same day, the planet Saturn will be in conjunction with the moon, at 8.28 a. m., and during the eclipse will be a little west of the moon, shining brightly.

There have been ten applications for retail liquor dealers' license filed in the Prothonotary's office. Remonstrances have been filed against all but three—two from Addison and one from Conemaugh township. The remonstrance against the Somerset applicant contains 402 names, of whom 277 are females and 125 males. Of the latter all but one are over the age of twenty-one years. The applications will be taken up by the Court Tuesday of next week.

The busiest man in Bedford County is the ubiquitous John Cessna. One day he can be found in his office, over head and ears in work, almost too busy to breathe, and the next we hear of him in Philadelphia or New York, and sometimes in both of the latter places in the same day. Just now he is away, and, whilst it be but six hours until we go to press, we would not be at all surprised to hear of his having been home and having gone away again in the meantime.—Bedford Inquirer.

Oil was struck at well being drilled for gas by the State Normal School at Clarion, Pa., on Thursday last, at a depth of thirteen hundred feet. After a few flows, which reached the top of the derrick, the well settled down and has been flowing for two days at the rate of five hundred barrels per day. No tanks have been provided and the oil is running away, making quite a stream. Watchmen have been employed to look after the safety of the Normal School building. The flow is retarded by the tools which are yet in the hole.

A very important question was recently decided by the court in Jefferson county. A defect in the pavement, in front of the General hotel, in Reynoldsville, led to an accident to Mrs. H. H. Brown and injured her seriously. She brought suit against the borough claiming $5,000 damages. The borough endeavored to fix the liability upon Richard Arthurs, the owner of the hotel. The question to be decided whether the property holder or land is held liable for injuries caused by a defective sidewalk after he had been notified to repair the same. The court decided in the affirmative, and a verdict for the full amount of the claim, with interest, aggregating $5,647.87, was returned against Arthurs. The case will be taken to the supreme court.

The Pennsylvania Railroad and the Pennsylvania Company are said to be contemplating the erection of elevated tracks through Pittsburgh and Allegheny City, a distance of five miles, at an expense of $5,000,000.

The following notice of our townsman, Captain Augustus C. Davis, is copied from the Milford Mail, a paper published in Dickinson County, Iowa. Captain Davis, as our readers will remember, was the Postmaster for years in Somerset, as well as the Register and Recorder for Somerset County for one term. The many friends of Capt. Davis will always be pleased to hear of him, and hope he may enjoy a long and successful life:

After a good night's rest and a substantial breakfast at the hotel, a comrade there named A. C. Davis, who lost his arm at the battle of Gettysburg, showed us a great heating apparatus which he is introducing and selling county rights for in this part of the state for the Granger company of Waterloo, Iowa. It consists of a gas generator, from oil and water, which he claims will give a steady and constant heat at about one-half the expense of hard coal, and without the offensive, and often dangerous emission of carbon acid gas. Its heating qualities we can vouch for, and have no reason to doubt that the gentleman's word as to the expense. We may expect a visit from him soon in this county.

The readers of the HERALD will recall the account published in these columns several weeks ago, of a forged draft on the Somerset County Bank that had been cashed by the banking house of S. K. Linscott, of Holton, Kansas. Captain Harrison last week received a description of the forger and as he is evidently well acquainted in these parts, if not a former resident, we give it, in the hope that he may possibly be recognized:

CHAS. J. HARRISON, Esq., Somerset, Pa.

Dear Sir:—Replying to your favor of January 5th, will say that the party who obtained the money on the draft on your correspondent was a man about 25 years old; had black eyes, heavy black moustache, and very dark skin; black hair, cut short; rather broad shoulders; weighed about 160 or 170 pounds; full face; claimed to be the son of Fanny Miller, of your place, and had a niece living here; he completely described her. She says he must be from that county, for he knew every one she did, and knew where they lived, and what kind of houses they had, and told of some who had built new houses since she left, and told where they were located in reference to the old ones. I should say that his cousin has been here over 25 years and had never seen this man and when he came was a little doubtful of his identity, saying that she did not know her aunt had a child so young as he was. Miller claimed to have been first a clerk in a store, then a partner, and to have lately sold out and come here looking for a location. He was here some time and claimed to have rented business property and would go into business about the first of January. Hoping you may identify him, I am

Yours Truly,

S. K. LINSCOTT.

A New Departure.

In order to afford the opportunity of a pleasant trip to Florida to every one who has the leisure to go, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has arranged for two personally conducted pleasure tours to that sunny land. The dates of the tours are fixed for January 26th and February 9th. The tourists will be carried through to Jacksonville via Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Wilmington, Charleston and Savannah, by a special train of day coaches and Pullman buffet sleeping cars, running on a fast schedule. The tourist agent of the company, assisted by a chaperon, who will have a special care to the ladies unescorted, will direct the party. Round trip tickets, including sleeping car accommodations and meals en route in both directions, good for the return trip in fifteen days, will be sold at a rate of about $42.50 from Philadelphia and $45.00 from New York. The party in each case will be limited to 150 persons. Names may be entered on the lists at any time in advance.

*Detailed information as to the tours will be published within a few days.

Hooversville Items.

The creek is again covered with ice, and skating is good.

Sleighing was pretty good last week, and we hope it will be better this week.

Mr. Joseph Lambert and family were the guests of Mr. Koontz on Saturday night.

Rev. Houseman, of this place, started his protracted meeting at Graef's church last Sunday evening.

Among the sleighing party to W. S. Morgan's Woolen Mills on Saturday were Hiram Miller, E. E. Swank, S. P. Zimmerman and H. W. Pepley. The boys had a very good time.

Our friend Mr. Wiltrout, flagman on the S. & C. gravel train, made a mistake Saturday night, and started up the public road toward Shade. He didn't have his flag with him.

The Baptist meeting that has been in progress the past week, has been successful in adding two members to their number, Rev. Cooper, of Harrisburg, is conducting the meeting, assisted by Rev. Lambert, who officiated at the Immersion.

Messrs. Samuel Hoover and Michael Washer are doing a very brisk business in their fire clay bank. The orders come in faster than they can fill them. Mr Walker has for some time been trying to employ Mr. Daniel Lohr, an old miner, but they are unable to agree on terms.

HANS.

The South Penn Bills.

A long article, purporting to detail hitherto unwritten history of an important period of the administration of Gov. Pattison, has been prepared for publication. It contains the assertion that Gov. Pattison was violently opposed to the South Penn Railroad bills and retained the late Jere. S. Black to write a veto message. "Judge Black wrote a ringing veto message and submitted it to the Governor and left with the impression that the message would be sent the Legislature the next day. When the Legislature assembled instead of the veto message word came that the Governor had changed his mind, had, without notice to the Judge, had signed the bills. Judge Black was greatly surprised at the Governor's action, and this caused a coldness between the two which lasted as long as Judge Black lived.

An Agreeable Surprise.

On the 5th of January, 1888, a number of sleds and boggies halted in front of the parsonage in Stoystown, loaded with members of the Hoffman congregation. They at once alighted and began to carry baskets into the parsonage. It is needless to say we fared sumptuously. In a short time the tables were loaded with good things. The parson's steed was also remembered with provender, and the coal bin and cellar liberally supplied. God bless the donors. It cheers a pastor's heart to know that his people remember him. "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Call again.

MR. AND MRS. A. SELL.

Pennsylvania's Schools.

The annual report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction has been given out. The general advances of the schools during the past year has been very satisfactory. Fifteen new school districts have been formed, making the present number 2,881. The increase in the number of schools has been 379, making the total at present 21,062. The increase in the number of graded schools has been 357, making the present number 9,444. Four superintendents have been added to the work of school supervision, making the present number 115. The increase in the number of teachers has been 519; male teachers, 349, and female teachers 170, making the present total 23,822.

There has been a slight increase in the average monthly salary of male teachers and a small decrease in the average monthly salary of female teachers. The average monthly salary of male teachers is $38.33 and of female teachers $30.86. The length of the school term is steadily advancing. The average term is now 7.76, an increase of .02. The increase in the number of pupils, excluding Philadelphia, has been 9,235. Many new and excellent school buildings have been erected throughout the Commonwealth and "the increased appropriation of $500,000 to our public schools," the Superintendent says, "ought to give great encouragement to our educational work, removing the necessity of too severe local taxations. The purpose of all State appropriations to the public schools is to help the children of the Commonwealth that all may have every opportunity of securing that culture without which the possibilities of their personal being cannot be realized. Any movement, therefore, upon the part of directors, to weaken the autonomy of their districts by making them dependent on the State appropriation, or to lessen in any way their sense of the necessity of vigorous, self-supporting work, violates the very spirit of the act of appropriation.

"Let the increased fund be used in granting better salaries to teachers, now underpaid; in securing better teachers by a general advance of salaries; in lengthening the school term and in increasing the apparatus and libraries. We are gratified that at last the minimum school term has been extended to six months. It must not be supposed for a moment that the Legislature in fixing the minimum term now at six months intended to favor so short a term or establish it as a standard."

"The aim of the law is to lengthen short terms, not shorten long terms; and it is an encouraging fact that our average school term is quite beyond what has been fixed as the minimum term and is steadily advancing. The benefit of this law must be apparent. It will give during the coming year one additional month of school discipline to every 225,000 children in Pennsylvania. We must guard against weakening the benefits of this law to teachers as well as to children. Directors should not make the teachers bear the burden of this effort to advance by bearing their monthly salaries so as to make the cost the same as before.

"The act prohibiting the employment of children under twelve years of age to work in or about mills, manufactories or mines should in many localities largely increase the school attendance of children under the age named. To be made properly effective this law should be supplemented by legislation requiring a careful school census under the direction of the authorities of each school district in the Commonwealth and providing for the appointment of inspectors, whose duty it shall be to see that its provision are not violated by employers.

"Thus fortified and the law enforced it would prove a vast boon to the State. The payment of the teachers at institutes is recommended. The estimated value of the school property in the State is placed at $38,860,147 of which Philadelphia's contribution is $7,607,815 and Allegheny's $4,200,210."

Judge Wm. D. Kelley, the protectionist leader in the House of Representatives, has written a plain statement of "How Protection Protects," which is likely to be the protectionist platform for the Presidential Campaign. It will appear in the Forum for February. In the same paper Senator Colburn will have a paper advocating the Governmental control of the telegraph. Prof. John Tyndall writes about "The Sky;" Dr. Austin Flint about "The Mechanism of the Singing Voice," and Darius Lyman about "Impediments to our Domestic Commerce." Prof. John Tyndall spent some time last fall on the Alps taking observations of the sky, and he has written one of the most interesting and important of his popular scientific essays on this subject, which has been bought for exclusive use by the Forum, and will appear in the February number. Senator Colburn will write in the same number on "The Government and the Telegraph;" Prof. W. T. Harris on "What shall the Public Schools Teach?;" Judge W. D. Kelley on "How Protection Protects," and Dr. Austin Flint on "The Mechanism of the Singing Voice."

Salaries of County Superintendents.

W. J. Cramer, Superintendent of schools of Cambria county, receives a salary of $1,500. W. A. Cochran, Superintendent of Indiana County, receives as a salary $1,197. J. M. Berkey, the Superintendent in Somerset County, receives $1,143. M. G. Brumbaugh, Huntingdon County's Superintendent, receives a salary of $1,200. John H. Likens, of the Blair County schools, $1,000.

Marriage Licenses.

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following named persons since our last report:

Samuel Kiester, of Somerset township, and Rebecca C. Vogel, of Salisbury.

Obadiah Lohr, of Shade township, and Sarah Carver, of Stonycreek township.

Jeremiah Zorn and Mary A. Rubright, both of Berlin.

Jacob H. Sumpetine and Jennie Helple, both of Somerset township.

Irvin G. Walker and Cynthia W. Carver, both of Stonycreek township.

State Agriculture.

At the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Board of Agriculture and General Farmers' Institute in Harrisburg, in the Supreme Court room, on January 25th and 26th, there will be an address on "The Work of the Pennsylvania Forestry Association," by Prof. J. T. Rothrock, West Chester, Pennsylvania University; "Arbor Day and the Public Schools," by Dr. E. E. Higbee, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and general discussion of the forestry question from its sanitary and economic bearing. There will also be a lecture by Dr. Elwood Harvey, from Delaware county. Subject. "The Near Future of Farm-Interest.

Store Room For Rent.

The best located store room in Somerset, now occupied by Mrs Schrock and family as a fancy, notion, millinery and paper establishment, is for rent from April 1888. Here is a splendid opportunity for a live man or woman to go into business. The room is large and commands a good trade, with good light, healthy location, in Mammoth Block, on Main Cross street. Persons desiring to rent must call on or address

With a firm grip on what is best in Literature and Art, the February number of Harper's Magazine issues in excellent form from the great presses in Franklin Square. Its pages contain the most recent efforts of such writers as Henry James, Wm. Black, Wm. Dean Howells, Chas. Dudley Warner, the Hon. George F. Edmonds, George William Curtis, Bishop Hurst, J. H. Rosny, F. L. Hagadorn, the late Gen. Randolph B. Marcy, C. H. Farnham; new verses by Miss Hytchinson, Amelie Rives and C. P. Cranch, and the latest artistic work of Frederick Barnard, Kruell, Heard, Reinhart, C. Parsons, Stewart, Wellington, Howard Pyle, E. H. Blashfield, Ida Maurier, and a score of other artists and engravers.

Quite a number of our citizens are talking of going on the B. & O. excursion to Washington and Baltimore Thursday of this week.

Daley Items.

Sleighing is good, and mercury below zero.

Hunting season is past, and hunters are unhappy.

The Cherry Ridge school is progressing finely under the instruction of D. R. Haines. The enrollment is small, but the attendance good.

The protracted meeting at the new St. John's U. B. Church, conducted by Rev. Smith, is making considerable progress. Smith is almost blind, but is a very zealous worker in the moral vineyard.

A few bear have made their appearance, and panthers also exist. The panthers have not yet been seen, but tracks have been recognized as those of a panther. Foxes and wild cats are far more numerous.

Mr. Bender is apparently contented since he came from Somerset, and we can see no reason why he should be otherwise, as he enjoys reasonable health, and has as quiet and happy a home as before he left us.

On Sunday evening last the congregation gathered in at the usual time at Talor, expecting to hear the sermon to be delivered by Rev. Alsborne, but were sadly disappointed by his absence. As this rarely happens they all will forgive him freely, but were sorry they were disappointed.

The vacancies are now filled which were caused by the resignation of teachers in this township. J. D. Ripple fills the place M. G. Specht vacated, and Charles Specht that of H. W. Manges. We hope they have resolved to quit resigning; that is, the remainder of the teachers now employed in Shade township.

Logging is the principal occupation of our inhabitants at present. For this purpose oxen are used in dragging the logs to the mills, where they are sawed into boards, etc., by a slow and old process that requires many days of labor to saw even a few thousand feet of lumber; but one man is all that it requires to do the work.

MAX.

Husband Items.

Miss Martha Wirt, of Mechanicsburg, is visiting relatives.

Everybody has been making good use of the excellent sleighing for the past week.

Mr. Wesley Friedline and wife, of Iowa, formerly of this county, have been visiting friends here.

Postmaster Bowman and daughter, Miss Lizzie, have returned home from Mt. Pleasant, where they had been visiting for some time.

A protracted meeting has been in progress in the Weller church for the past three weeks. The meetings are well attended and much interest prevails in the instrumentality of bringing the unsaved to a knowledge of the truth.

There has been considerable prospecting for coal in this section, and it is generally thought that the indications are favorable for a good vein of coal. We predict that a coal mine in this section of the county would be an important thing, and it cannot be otherwise than that these hills contain black diamonds.

Mr. Harvey L. Young, teacher of the Walker school, gave his scholars a society on last Friday afternoon. This is doubtless a very important step, and the scholars took an active part in the discussion of the various subjects assigned them. Mr. Young is meeting with flattering success in his school and knows how to make it interesting.

Midwinter Excursion to Washington City.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company announce a Popular Excursion to Washington for Thursday, January 19th. The round-trip fare will be $6.35 from Confluence, $5.30 from Ursina, $6.00 from Rockwood, $5.85 from Stoystown, and $6.25 from Somerset. Tickets will be valid for ten days including day of sale. They will be good going on both day and night express trains and connecting trains on Somerset & Cambria branch.

Through Parlor Cars on day train and Sleeping Cars on night train. The tickets will also be available to and from Baltimore, but must be used for continuous passage in both directions. No better time could be chosen for a visit to the Capital. Congress will be in session and the Galleries of both Houses, as well as all other public buildings will be open to visitors.

The long limit on the excursion tickets allows ample time for visiting Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, Richmond, Old Point Comfort and other points of interest within easy reach of Washington. For tickets and Parlor Sleeping Car accommodations call upon or address agents B. & O. R. R.

It is said that the following remedy for diphtheria, where it has been applied promptly, has never been known to fail in effecting a cure. It was a remedy that was discovered in Germany, and is said to be the best known. The remedy is simply as follows: At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of the child, make the room clean. Then take a tin cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts. Then hold the cup over a fire so as to fill the room with fumes. The little patient, on inhaling the fumes, will fall asleep, and when it awakes, it will cough up and spit out all mendacious matter, and the diphtheria will pass off. The fumes of the tar and turpentine loose the matter in the throat, thus affording the relief that has baffled the skill of physicians. The remedy is simple, and parents should cut this out and preserve it.

Wanted!

Hides, Furs, Bark. I will pay the highest cash prices for all kinds of hides, pelts and furs. I also want 500 cords of Rock Oak and Spruce bark.
