

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1911.
The regular February term of court will commence on Monday, Feb. 27th.

Slighting parties are numerous. Splendid sleighing and beautiful moonlight nights.

Mr. Peter Heller, of Highland Farm, is spending the present week in Philadelphia.

Some eighty members of the Diocese Church indulged in a sleighing party to Berlin Monday night.

A splendid fire is being harvested. Every low house in town is filled or in process of being filled.

The telephone scheme has not yet materialized. The matter will be pushed in earnest as soon as spring opens.

Major William Jordan, of Mt. Pleasant, is spending a few days in Somerset. He is looking up a couple teams of good horses.

Mr. Abram Mauer has recently improved his residence on Union street by having it repainted and putting up additional outbuildings.

The County Auditors are still wrestling with the County accounts. They expect to complete their labors the latter part of the present week.

Wednesday, February 23rd will be the last day for filing accounts in the Register and Recorder's office to be confirmed at the February term of court.

Mr. C. H. Schmecker is having the stone laid for the foundation for his new house on Main Cross street. He will commence to build as soon as spring opens.

Masses, Paul Cawther and Benbow there were among the B. & O. excursionists to Washington and Baltimore last week. They returned home Monday morning.

During the past week pensions were granted to Abraham Bennett, of Shanksville, Henry J. Berle, of Berlin, Elizabeth Trent, of Somerset, and John Walter, of Confluence.

Mr. Ephraim Warner, of Dixon Hill, is visiting friends and relatives in this county. His former home. He left Somerset county for the west about twenty-five years ago. He is a brother of Professor Daniel J. Warner.

A Somerset sleighing party, composed of some twenty couples, old and young, drove over to Sturgeon's plantation on Monday night, and returned about midnight. The sleighing was excellent, and a most enjoyable time was had.

Saturday night was decidedly the coldest night we have had this season. Capt. Wm. M. Schrock, who has charge of the State Weather Service station at this point, reports that the thermometer registered thirty degrees below zero shortly before day light Sunday morning.

Saunders Galtier, Esq., father of Paul H. Galtier, Esq., of this place, with whom he has resided recently, was stricken with paralysis some days ago, and is now in a precarious condition. Mr. Galtier is in his 82nd year and has been a member of the Somerset County Bar—Lethal Advice.

A Pittsburgh genius has invented a process by which whiskey can be taken out and distilled in one's pocket like tobacco. This was the one thing necessary to complete the great achievement of the century. Man, by taking a chew of whiskey and tobacco alternately, will now be more lovable than ever.

Ralph Bagley, of Pittsburgh, one of the heaviest stockholders of the South Penn railroad, says that everything will be in readiness to proceed with the work in a short time, and that a majority had already signed the reorganization agreement. Mr. Carnegie has not yet signed, said he, but it is expected that he will.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch recently moved into a handsome new building erected expressly for it, on Diamond street. The rapidly increasing circulation of the Dispatch necessitated more extensive facilities than its former quarters afforded. It has had placed in its press room a Hoe press with a capacity of 90,000 single sheets, 48,000 folios and 28,000 eight page papers per hour to accommodate its circulation which now reaches 30,000 daily and 40,000 on Sunday.

Edward Coffey, condemned to death for the murder of William Evans, at Pittsburgh, a year ago, and confined in the Allegheny county jail awaiting his doom, celebrated his thirtieth birthday on Sunday by cutting his hair with a pen knife as soon as he heard the board of pardons had refused to commute his sentence.

As the season is approaching when public sales or vendues are held, it is thought that we would call the attention of those who intend to make sale to the fact that we print sale bills in the best and most workmanlike manner, and at low prices. We can print a bill of any size, on colored or white paper, in any style, and in any quantity, and we can send it to the printer to be sold, with day of sale and terms, and the bills will be forwarded.

The new game called "Soldiers' delight" is played in this way: Take a sheet of ordinary writing paper, fold it up carefully and enclose a bank note sufficiently large to pay up all arrears and a year in advance. What is necessary to the pleasure of the game is to send along the name of a new subscriber or two, accompanied by cash. Keep your eye on the editor, and if a smile alarms his eye the trick works like a charm.—Madison Blue Grass Clipper.

What are our farmers about that they do not grow enough potatoes for the home market? During the past fortnight, says a New York letter, we have imported from $100,000, Irish and German potato upwards of $1,000,000 of the excellent, and people who are well informed in the potato business, the movement promises to continue until a point will be reached where it will be profitable to grow potatoes. At present the wholesale quotations are $1.75 to $1.85 per bushel for Scotch, $1.80 and $1.90 for German. Last year our total importations from all countries amounted to $650,000. The duty is 10 cents a bushel. The potato crop is as good a one as can be raised. It is worth giving careful attention to, and it is the best of the vegetable crops. Like any other a slavy style of cultivation will not pay.—Ec.

The silk robes of the judges of the supreme court are one of the few surviving traditions of the last century. They are worn by the court members from the earliest days of the government. They are always worn black silk gowns. It is not believed that they ever were powdered white. John Jay, the first chief justice, wore a black silk robe and a white collar. This was for a long time deemed by some of the old lawyers of the court, but within a comparatively short time he has found the original robe and brought it to Washington and submitted it to the present judges for their inspection. The robes are quite expensive, a single one of them costing not less than $100—about three days' salary of a Supreme court judge. One of the other ancient usages of the court is that of the clerk of the court, who is appointed by the court, reports that the thermometer registered thirty degrees below zero shortly before day light Sunday morning.

Saunders Galtier, Esq., father of Paul H. Galtier, Esq., of this place, with whom he has resided recently, was stricken with paralysis some days ago, and is now in a precarious condition. Mr. Galtier is in his 82nd year and has been a member of the Somerset County Bar—Lethal Advice.

The Supreme Court decides that the act of June 25th, 1888, regulating the collection of taxes in this Commonwealth is a general law and is in all respects applicable, in the absence of local laws, to all portions of the State, and is not rendered local and obnoxious by the fact that it is applied to various local laws, passed prior to 1874, are not only not repealed by it, but are expressly saved from repeal. It was contended by the plaintiff in error, that as the act only applies to about two-thirds of the counties in the State, there being in the other counties local laws regulating the collection of taxes, it is, therefore, not a general law, but only a local law, and, therefore, unconstitutional. The Supreme court in two cases—one from Lancaster, and the other from Montgomery, has held against the plaintiff in error, and has held that the law is constitutional. There is an opinion prevalent to some extent that this act has been declared unconstitutional by some of the lower courts, and it is, therefore, important that this decision of the Supreme Court should be generally known.

The regular state argument court convened on 10 o'clock Tuesday morning with Judges Baer, Shickler and Walker on the bench. The bar list was called over and a number of motions were made by different attorneys. The applications for retail liquor dealers licenses were filed up and several hours were spent in discussing and reading the names of the signers to the various petitions and remonstrances. There are ten applications before the court and against all the various remonstrances have been filed. A large crowd, many of whom are ladies, are in attendance and are anxious and eager listeners to the arguments made by the attorneys. A. C. Hollier, Esq., opened the case for the State, and the other members of the bar followed. His address to the court was a strong one, his arguments in behalf of his clients being forcible and logical. He will be followed by Mr. A. H. Koonz, H. L. Baer, and J. H. Hill, Esq., in behalf of the applicants. A. H. Koonz, Esq., has the honor of the first case, and will argue the case on the side of the State. The probabilities are that a decision will not be reached in the matter before to-morrow night, and what that decision will be no man can say a good guess.

President Buchanan's Romance. The heroine of President Buchanan's early romance, Mrs. Lillie Boyd, died at her residence in Sugar Loaf Valley, Minnesota, last week, aged 101 years. She married at the age of 16, and lived with her husband after getting her property in his possession, and she became the object of care and assistance from neighbors. Mrs. Boyd, who was occupied for her beauty, was betrothed in her youth to a young man living in the same vicinity, but she was afterwards married to her husband, who was a young man of the name of Buchanan, afterwards President of the United States. Not being able to get the consent of her parents to marry the man of her choice, she fled to the mountains and lived there as a hermit for some time. Her husband could not marry her that he remained a bachelor all his life.

Knights of the Golden Eagle. The following are the officers of Rockwood Lodge No. 219 of Rockwood for the ensuing six months: Past Chief—John D. Miller, Noble Chief—Joseph D. Miller, Vice Chief—J. B. Smith, High Priest—H. M. Miller, Worthy Master—Robert Kirtley, Master of Records—H. C. Talbot, Clerk of Exchequer—John Short, Keeper of Exchequer—John Short, Sec'y—H. M. Miller, Worthy Master—Robert Kirtley, Second Worthy Master—A. C. Hollier, Treasurer—E. D. Miller, and John Lane, Representative to Grand Council E. D. Miller.

Car With a Fatal Number. A yard employe informs the Harrisburg Call that on No. 1213 of the special train, which is the one that runs on eight days, had a fatal accident. The car had killed several people who were breaking up it, and had damaged a horse. He affirms that there is a mass of iron bars connected with the car, which is known as the "Killing" and other parts, from Kittanning and the latter part is composed of pieces of iron. Mr. A. C. Hollier, Esq., is the attorney of the latter named company and was in Harrisburg Friday to secure the charter for the company which he represents.

Constables Attention. Constables will do well to remember that an act of Assembly, passed in 1877, requires that in boroughs and townships where Justices of the Peace are to be elected at the approaching election, to put up notices in their press room a Hoe press with a capacity of 90,000 single sheets, 48,000 folios and 28,000 eight page papers per hour to accommodate its circulation which now reaches 30,000 daily and 40,000 on Sunday.

Coffey Cheats the Gallows. Republican State Convention. Chairman Cooper gives notice that the Republican State Convention will be held in Harrisburg, April 25, 1888, at 11 A. M., to nominate a candidate for Supreme Court Judge, Presidential Elector—Large, Presidential electors for the Congressional districts to be named by the delegates therefrom, who are to be elected by the people, and four alternates to the Republican National Convention.

A Donation Party. Last Thursday evening the Lutheran parsonage, Lancaster, Pa., was visited by some of the Lancaster congregation bringing with them flour, sugar, oats, apple-butter, dried fruit, meat, coffee, butter, canned goods, etc., and the pastor and his wife brought glad tidings to the hearts of the pastor and his wife.

Supreme Court Argument Weeks. The Judges of the Supreme Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania have announced the following as argument weeks for 1888, beginning January 2, 10, 18, 23, at Philadelphia; January 20, 28, and Montgomery; February 1, Chester, Delaware and Bucks; February 15, Schuylkill and Lancaster; February 20, Lancaster, Wayne, Pike and Wyoming; February 27, Berks and Montour; March 1, Northampton, Carbon and Monroe; March 12, Bradford, Lycoming, Clinton, Cameron, Sullivan and Susquehanna; March 19, Luzerne, Wayne, Pike and Wyoming; February 27, Berks and Montour; March 1, Northampton, Carbon and Monroe; March 12, Bradford, Lycoming, Clinton, Cameron, Sullivan and Susquehanna; March 19, Luzerne, Wayne, Pike and Wyoming.

Mt. Moriah Items. Lately noticed in several papers items of news from various places, claiming they were the best in the county, and proved to be the property of the people. I claim that the vicinity of Mt. Moriah has as fair a proportion of aged people, according to its population, as any other part of the State. I will give you the names and ages of some of our aged people:

Elizabeth Miller is in her 87th year. She has her home with D. B. Zimmerman, one mile east of here, it being her birthplace. She is still in good health.

John Miller is in his 77th year and was born half a mile of this place. He is a hard working farmer and reared a large family, being the father of 20 children.

Sarah Miller is in her 74th year and lives with A. C. Miller, one mile northeast of this town. She was born in this town and she followed her father, which he is not expected to live long.

Joseph Zimmerman is now in his 57th year. He was born one and a half miles east of this place, and when he married he moved on the northern slope of the Mount, where he still has his home. He raised a family of four children, all of whom are now living in the town of Harrisburg.

John Maurel is in his 74th year, and was born one-half mile northeast of this place. In his younger days he taught school a number of terms, settled a number of estates and filled different offices of trust. He lived for some years at Johnstown, where he worked for the Cambria Iron Company. He returned here three years ago, and will enjoy good health.

Valentine Miller is in his 82d year, and was born in the French Republic. Some thirty years ago he moved to his present home, half a mile east of this place. For eight years ago, he lived engaged in a military service in the town of Bedford, he was seriously injured by the premature discharge of a cannon he was loading, thereby losing the use of his right hand. Mr. Miller was quite an intelligent business man, being able to read and write a number of different languages. His wife, Barbara, is in her 83d year, and is enjoying fair health, considering her age.

There are a number of other aged persons here, but I do not have room on your valuable space to too great an extent.

Store Room for Rent. The best location in town in Somerset, Pa., for a store room, is now for rent. It is a large, airy, well-lighted room, with a splendid opportunity for a live man or woman to go into business. The room is large and commodious, a good trade, with good light, healthy location, in Mammoth Block, on Main Cross street. Persons desiring to rent must call on or address:

John H. Hill, Somerset, Pa.

Just Arrived. It is all very well. For people to tell. Of the land of the isle and island. That she shines out. Comes the blast of his blustering blizzard.—Baldie Express.

For Rent. Comfortable offices on the first second floor of the new building on Main Cross street. For particulars, inquire of this office.

Wm. Weyand Dead. The following account of the death of Mr. Wm. Weyand, a former resident of this county, is taken from the Bloomington, Illinois, Daily Pantograph, of January 19th.

The death of Mr. Wm. Weyand occurred at 9:20 o'clock last evening. It had scarcely become known to his friends that his condition was dangerous before the silent messenger of death came to his bedside.

Mr. Weyand was one of the oldest and perhaps best known citizens of this city and county. He was about 65 years of age at the time of his death. He was born in Bloomington, Ill., in about 1843 or 1844. He was born in Somerset County, Pa. Just prior to his removal west, and to Bloomington, he was married to Mrs. Catherine J. Leber, sister of Mr. Wm. Leber, of Normal, and Masses, John and Charles Leber, lately deceased. She died December 30, 1884. Four children survive. They are Wm. J. and A. E. Weyand, Mrs. Mary J. Calkins and Mrs. Frances J. Williams. These were present at their father's death, excepting Mrs. Leber, who resides in Livingston county, near Pontiac.

Mr. Weyand engaged in the tailoring business when he first came to Bloomington. He was afterwards engaged in the dry goods business, but he is known to have been a successful merchant, where he was known as a most careful and faithful attendant of the justice's office. He was for a long time a member of the church, and was a most successful member of the church, and was a most successful member of the church.
