Willis, a Republican of this city, having written Senator Sherman that some person who had been inpressed with his speec! here during the Senator's Southern trip 1381 fail) thought they had discovered in his subsequent speech at Springfield a pledge of a reactionary policy in Southern affairs, the Senator, under date of Washington, February 18, has replied :

You are certainly right there was no difference in sentiment or purpose between my speeches at Nashville and Springfield. Every tion, except in Northern New Jersoy. word 1 uttered at Nashville I can repeat with entire sincerity. I do not wish to revive the osities of the war, and what I said there of Confederate soldiers, their honesty and courage, I have said over and over again in the North. My arraignment of the Demo cratic party at Springfield is also historically true and entirely consistent with my Nash ville speech. I do not think the Democrati party of the North, during and since the car, has occupied a much worse position than the Confederates of the South, The latter fought openly for what they conceived to be right, while the Democratic organization did precisely what I said they did in my Springfield speech. What I desire in the DOTSE. future is a frank and full discussion of the policy of protection as it affects the industry and prosperity of our people North an. South, I do think the Southern people ought to faithfully observe the fifteentl amendment and to make no distinction on account of race and color in the right to vote, and to have that vote counted.
