Bunco Thieves Secure $10,000.

Nognestown, July 30 - A swindle by which Jacob P. Reid a farmer of Centre Squre, near Norristown, was defrauded out of $19,000 worth of Cincinnati and Midland Railroad bonds, readily negotiable, has been brought to light.

From what can be learned of the case i seems that the stranger insinuated himself into Reiff's good graces by expressing a desire to purchase his farm. Then he induced Reiff to exhibit his deeds, mortgages and other securities. Reiff hept these in the vanit of the Norristown Bank, but to ac commodate the oily tongued stranger he went to the bank and got the box. The stronger filled in the time with Reiff by playing three-card monte with him, win ning considerable money. Having gotten a glimpse of the box containing Reiff's securities he procured one similar to it, made an exchange of boxes, and departed ostensibly to drive to Norristown. If is believed that he boarded a train at Jenkintown for New York. Reiff's losses are estimated foom $10,-000 to $15,000.

The Ways and Means Committee and Ex-Confedarates.

Unhappily for the condition of the American people and the power and honor of the nation, the decision of the question of the symmetrical and complete diversification of our industries rests, for the present, with the adherents of the late southern Confederacy. The eighth section of the first article of the Constitution of that Confederacy prohibited the laying of any duties or taxes on importations from foreign nations, to promote or foster any branch of industry. Five of the eight gentlemen whom Speaker Carlisle, after frequent consultatations with President Cleveland, named as a junto to which the duties of the Committee on Ways and Means should inflicted by the protective system.
