Bloodshed at the Polls.

The State election occurred in Arkansas on Monday of last week, and a very large vote was polled, with enormous Republican gains reported from all quarters. Trouble was expected in several places, and it came. In Monroe county there was a riot growing out of the differences about the county ticket, and two men were killed. One of the killed was a negro and the other a white man, J. W. B. Dobinson, sheriff of the county. In Garland county there was also a fatal fight in which a man by the name of Day killed Squire Law. In Eastman township, Pulaski county, there was also a riot between negroes and whites, but no one was killed.

A Pine Bluff special says that in a fight over the election two negroes were shot and killed.

Ten ballot-boxes used in the election on Monday were stolen from the Clerk's office at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Cloud-Burst and Cyclone.

QUINCY, ILL., Sept. 9.—A cloud-burst struck this city last evening doing much damage. Scarcely a tree in the city escaped. Numbers of houses and outbuildings were unroofed and demolished. The storm lasted not more than ten minutes, but did more damage than any storm for years. The corn in this section is somewhat injured in places, but not destroyed.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Sept. 9.—A gentleman from Vanburen, Ark., says a water spout broke on the mountain side near that town and flooded a portion of the place, causing great damage. The main business street was inundated and also many residences.

On Friday a town six miles west of Vanburen, known as Colony, was visited by a destructive cyclone. The track of the storm was three miles wide. Houses were demolished and trees and fences leveled. Hail accompanied the wind, greatly damaging cotton fields, leaves were stripped from the stalks and balls left hanging by the threads. No lives were lost as far as known.

The European Wheat Crop.

The shortage in the European wheat crop turns out to be greater, and a good deal greater, than had been supposed. According to the latest estimates, it will amount to between seventy and eighty million bushels, or in other words, the wheat buying countries will need 370,000,000 bushels to supply their needs, while in the wheat selling countries the salable surplus of this year's harvest will only amount to 285,000,000 bushels, leaving a deficit of 75,000,000 bushels to be made good out of the stock in hand. In England a crop which never promised to reach the average has been almost ruined by a recent storm, and John Bull will have to buy wheat to the extent of at least 170,000,000 bushels. France usually has enough for her own wants and something to spare towards satisfying the needs of others, but it is not so this year. The harvest has been a failure, and importations to the amount of between eighty and ninety million bushels will be necessary to fill the consequent vacuum. Italy and Germany will also be in the market, so that the man with wheat to sell is not likely to have much difficulty in disposing of it at remunerative prices. Of the great growing countries it is estimated that Russia may be counted upon for 200,000,000 and India for 35,000,000 bushels. As this leaves 245,000,000 bushels to be made up elsewhere, and the United States is the chief wheat growing country in the world, dollar wheat may be said to be in sight.—West Chester Village Record.

Mother and Five Children Dead.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 6.—A letter has been received in this city disclosing a terrible state of affairs in the town of Bayard, a small settlement on the line of the Jacksonville & St. Augustine Railroad, about twenty miles north of here. William Orthgne, the son of a farmer living at Sampson, about five miles from Bayard, had occasion to visit the latter place. On nearing the settlement he was attracted by a strong stench emanating from the vicinity of a house supposed to be vacated. Through curiosity he hitched his horse and proceeded to investigate. On reaching the house a ghastly spectacle met his eyes. Stretched upon a couch was the body of a woman, and in the same room were the bodies of five children. They had evidently been dead for several days. The boy, on realizing the horror of the scene, fled precipitately, and, mounting his horse, rode back to his home and told the startling story to his parents. As St. Augustine is strictly quarantined against Bayard and that vicinity the news did not reach here until several days after the occurrence. The country people are horror stricken, and even if it were known that any one was occupying the houses it is unlikely that any one of them could have been induced to go near it if he knew there was a case of yellow fever. It is supposed that the unfortunates were refugees from Jacksonville and were stricken with the disease after leaving town.

Our Influence.

This world is a chain, strongly and curiously wrought, in which the past is closely linked with the present, the present with the future; the generations of the past join hands with those of the present, the generations of the present with those of the invisible future; the lives long dead live after them, and their influences are wide and far-reaching. Franklin often attributed his life of usefulness to the "Essays to do Good," which grew out of Cotton Mather's life experiences, and we can trace Luther's inspirations to his perusal of the "Life of John Huss."

Not only do these great men's lives live after them, but the lives of all of us, be we rich or poor, king or peasant, will in some way affect the future.

Smiles says, "There is something awful and solemn in the thought that there is no act nor thought in the life of a human being but carries with it a train of consequences, the end of which we never trace. If we fully realized the meaning of these words, how much more carefully would we guard our actions, our thoughts, our words.

And not only will the future be affected by our lives, we live also for the present. We may be in the most humble walk of life, in the most secluded position, yet there are none of us but will come in contact with some one, somewhere, over whom we exert some influence. How careful, how guarded we should then be that our lives be not stumbling blocks to others, that our deeds be not such as will injure our fellow-men. And have you ever thought what a weight our words carry with them? How an unkind or thoughtless word may sink a fellow mortal in despair, and how a kind and encouraging word might goad him on to greater efforts and higher resolves?

Many a young man who, when first erred, was pushed down the hill by the thrusts of those who once pretended to be his friends, and, and maybe were the indirect cause of his fall. How much more noble and Christ-like would it be to assist those stumbling over the rough places, and lift the fallen from the dust, instead of trampling on them when they are down.

Since in this world of ours, no man lives to himself, and nothing is lost, let us live such lives as will be a help to those around us; let us live such lives that, when our earthly career is ended, we will leave behind us a legacy, not of great wealth or fame, but a legacy, of such deeds as will live and bear fruit to the honor and glory of our Father in Heaven.

A peculiarity of Hoods Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood, it impar ts new vigor to every function of the body.

Murder in Cambria County.

CRESSON, Pa., Sept. 7.—The town of Glasgow, in Cambria county, has been thrown into a fever of excitement over a terrible tragedy. Perry Troxell, a farmer residing near that place, left home yesterday morning, accompanied by his family, leaving the home in charge of a granddaughter, Addie Troxell, about 18 years of age. After the family had left the young lady, in company with a small child, repaired to the fields to pick elderberries. On returning to the house she noticed some one inside, and Miss Troxell sent the child to a neighbor to summon aid, while she remained to investigate. When a neighbor arrived at the childs summons, he found Miss Troxell upon the back porch breathing her last. She had been shot through the right breast, and only lived a few moments after she had been found. The house had been ransacked, but what valuables, if any, were taken is not known. There is no clew to the murderers.

Registry Books Stolen.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 9.—The registration in Fayette county shows the vote will be unprecedentedly large. In Uniontown borough the number of voters registered is about 1,500, which is an increase of nearly 300 over the registration at the Presidential election of 1884. In George No. 3 and German townships the registry books were stolen from the polling place, and Republicans were compelled to go to the County Commissioners office to have the names of voters put on.

John Dungan, of McClellandtown, a lifelong Democrat, will vote for Harrison and Morton. Mr. Dungan was a Union soldier and believes in protection, and says he dislikes Cleveland's free trade policy and pension veto record enough to work and vote against him.

Ground in a Mowing Machine.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, September 8.—George Warhurst, a farmer of Coitsville township, while cutting millet with a mowing-machine to-day, was terror-stricken on hearing the screams of a child, and, stopping, found the almost lifeless body of his grandson, aged three years, nearly cut to pieces in the machinery. The child lived but a short time. Mr. Waarhurst supposed the child was at home, and is nearly crazed over its terrible death.

An Offensive Breath

is most distressing, not only to the person afflicted if he have any pride, but to those with whom he comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has parted not only friends but lovers. Bad breath and catarrh are inseparable Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases as thousands can testify.

Loved Until Death.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—This week Mrs. Mary Moore, a widow, of Brooklyn, received word that a legacy of $4000 had been left her by a lover whom she had not seen for a quarter of a century. At the time of the battle of Gettysburg her father's house in that town was converted into a hospital. Among the wounded treated there was Henry C. Willett, a Confederate Lieutenant from Memphis, Tenn., who fell in love with the daughter of the household.

Before he went away under an exchange of prisoners he made known his feelings to the girl, but she could not love a confederate, as her brothers had been shot down by the foes of her country. Before he went away he begged for a lock of the hair of the girl he loved and carried it with him to the South. Miss Miller never saw him again, and she went afterward to live in Staten Island, where she married Robert Moore and went to live in Brooklyn. He died two years ago.

She was greatly surprised a day or two ago by receiving information from a lawyer in New Orleans that Mr. Willett was dead and had left her a bequest. He also sent her a package containing the lock of hair she had given her youthful lover so long ago, which it was his dying request should be returned to her. He never married. Mrs. Moore keeps a boarding house at No. 1723 Atlantic avenue, and the legacy will be a substantial benefit to her.

Hay Fever.

I have been afflicted with hay fever from early in August until frost. My eyes would run a stream of water, and I sneezed continually, I was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm; it has worked like a charm, and I can say I am entirely cured.—Mrs. Emeline Johnson, Chester, Conn.

I have been for several years a sufferer from hay fever and severe head colds. I have found nothing that can compare with Ely's Cream Balm. I would not be without it for any consideration. It is simply wonderful in its effect upon the nasal organs.—S. A. Burtt, Wilmington, N. C.

Intelligent Dogs.

Senator Kenna and Senator Blackburn are great sportsmen, as every one knows.

Each is the owner of a pointer, the relative merits of which they are frequently engaged in discussing in the cloak rooms of the Senate, much to the annoyance of their more staid colleagues. The other day Kenna said to Blackburn, lighting a fresh cigar.

"Joe, you may talk as much as you like about your dog, but mine won't go out with me when the cartridges don't fit my gun."

An audible smile went around the room, and everybody thought: "Well, for once Joe Blackburn has been beaten at his own game. The junior Senator from Kentucky, however was equal to the occasion. He looked at Kenna for a minute and then quietly remarked:

"Well, Kenna, I admit that your dog exhibits an intelligence almost akin to reason, but I don't mind backing mine against him. I was in the fields one day with that dog, and a man I was not acquainted with came along near us. My dog pointed at him. I called to that dog but nothing would induce him to move

So I went up to the stranger.

"Sir," I said, "would you oblige me with your name?"

"Certainly," replied the stranger, "my name is Partridge."

Without another word Kenna took Blackburn's arm and both disappeared in the direction of the Senate restaurant, followed by the shouts of their friends.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

Is one of the most disagreeable diseases caused by impure blood. It is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. R. Stanton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Athlo-pho-ros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

A Malicious and Unprovoked Murder in Washington County.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 6.—One of the most malicious and unprovoked murders ever known in Washington county was committed at Taylorstown, seven miles from Washington, last night at 8 o'clock. A party of hunters, supposed, to be from Wheeling, drove into town, all under the influence of liquor. Some small boys hooted at them, upon which one of the party jumped out of the wagon and challenged any one in the crowd of men about to fight. The first man walked up to E. P. Hood, an oil man, and struck at him. The remaining four in the wagon alighted, gather around with shot guns and then fired into the crowd, killing Adam Staubbs, a liveryman, who was standing twenty feet from the party leaning against a tree. After the first volley the horror-stricken crowd scattered and fled, whereupon the assailants ran across the street to Fisher's grocery store and fired at the retreating crowd from the back door, none of the shots taking effect.

Straubbs, the man shot, staggered into Anderson & Buchan's store, where he fell unconscious to the floor, lingered until 12 o'clock, when he died. Officer Hill, of Claysville, arrested the desperadoes and lodged them in the Washington jail. They gave their names as Peter Gress, the one supposed to have fired the fatal shot; Adam Shaffer Frank Riddle and John Rust. One escaped. All are strangers. The murdered man was 45 years of age, and leaves a wife with three children.

A Problem and its Answer.

How can any one have a perfectly beautiful set of teeth, and healthy gums? Use Minot's Dentifrice, the safest, best, and most popular toothwash ever introduced. Price 25 cents;—used by millionaires and mechanics, and praised by all. Sold everywhere.

A Creek Turned Into a Burning Mine.

HAZELTON, Sept. 6.—A serious mine fire is in progress five miles north of this place, at the Latimore Colliery, operated by Pardee Bros. A portion of the workings known as the counter chute, on the inside of the slope which was abandoned over a year ago was ignited yesterday. It was impossible to get close to the fire on account of the bad air and heat, and lines of hose were found useless. It was decided to-day to adopt the plan of drowning out the mine, and to this end a stream of water known as Black creek was turned into the workings. Should this be successful the fire will not spread to the adjoining working of that section, which are all connected and honeycomb the entire district. It is impossible to get within half a mile of the fire on the inside of the slope, and the water running from the fire at that distance is a point in boiling temperature. The colliery gave employment to 350 men and boys, all of whom are now idle.

The Population of Somerset

is about two thousand, and we would say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the Throat and Lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. Price 50 cents and $1 00. Trial size free. For sale by all leading druggists.

One Shot Went Wrong

ST. LOUIS, September 6.—Charles and George Ashman, brothers aged sixteen and fourteen years respectively, were met near Cameron, Mo., by a tramp umbrella vender named Goodie Walters. The tramp learned that Charles Aultman had $9 and assaulted him with a knife to secure it. The younger boy drew a revolver and fired six shots at Walters. One of the shots struck the brother, inflicting a wound from which he died four hours later. Walters was hit three times and will die.

The Handsomest Lady

In Somerset remarked to a friend the other day that she knew Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs was a superior remedy, as it stopped her cough instantly when others had no effect whatever. So to prove this and convince you of its merit, any druggist will give you a sample Bottle Free. Large size 50c. and $1.

Dug Out of Jail.

ALTOONA, Pa., September 6.—At an early hour this morning William Anderson and Edward Hannigan broke jail at Hollidaysburg, this county. They removed a number of stones from the wall in their cells and by this means made their escape. Anderson is a Pittsburgher and is a noted character. He was placed in jail in July last for the robbing a store at Tyrone, Pa. A reward has been offered.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning? The signal, perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50 cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup and Whooping Cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For Lame Back, Side or Chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by G. W. Benford & Son.

All White Caps Safe.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—Attorney General Mecliener, in reply to a letter from Governor Gray, ordering him to investigate the White Cap outrages, submits a reply which details 14 cases brought against different alleged White Caps for various violations of the law and murder in Crawford county during two years past. In not one of these cases could conviction be secured. In most the prosecuting attorney could not obtain evidence. In one, where conviction could have been secured, the principal witness mysteriously disappeared from the State. One of the 14 is in prison for some offense, and the White Cap case against him has been continued.

Circus Train Wrecked.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—The rear part of John Robinson's circus train of thirty-five cars, westbound, which left Xenia shortly after midnight Saturday was run into by a freight train at the Waynesville water tank, on the Little Miami Railroad, 51 miles east of this city, at 2 a. m. to-day. Four persons were killed outright and one has died of his injuries. Seventeen others were hurt, but none of them seriously.

The engine of the freight train and five coaches of the circus train were badly wrecked. No other damage was done. The loss of property is estimated at $30,000, about equally divided between the railroad company and the owner of the circus. Engineer Long, of the freight, is blamed for the accident.

CATARRH.—Prof. C. B. Cook, Principal High School, Gl. Bend, Pa., secretary of Somerset county, Pa., says of NATURE'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH: "It is the best palliative for Catarrh I ever tried. It is the first catarrh cure I ever tried. It is the simplest and cheapest remedy of anything I ever tried. If any friend of mine should read this, I wish him to understand that I say with all, sincerity that I am acquainted with Mr. I. M. Gray, one of the proprietors of Nature's Remedy for Catarrh. He is an upright, honorable gentleman, and his medicine is the best catarrh remedy that can be found. It has cured me, and, I believe it will cure any person suffering from catarrh."

It is sold by druggists and dealers. It may be sent by mail; price $1. Every package contains a full quarter pound of medicine. Send for our book (16 mo. 32 pp.) entitled "How to cure Catarrh." Address, I. M. GRAY & CO., Rush, SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY, PA.
