The Best Education

Each year brings to the general public, as well as to the educators, the conviction that the present system of education is inadequate to the demands of the day. The great public, which is more directly interested in school methods than the oilscators themselves, are waking to the conviction that there is much useless expenditure of time and effort in patting the boy and girl through the course of study in the schools. Tals convirtien is not limited to any class of intelligence.

It is permeating all classes. With this more complete view of a location comes among the higher classes a greater re-
