Our of the funny things in the politics of the day is the awful surprise which some Democratic journals affect to feel that General Harrison is, in every sense of the term, President of the United States. They evidently believed their own manualgn lies, that if elected, some body would "boss him," ir looksus if Postmuster-General Wannmaker's Pkiladelphia friends and neighhors are trying to kill him with kindness. All the leading clubs of that city are giving him receptions and entertainments, and onless he has a steam arm and a cast-iron stomach, they will soon succeed in "knocking him out."

The agitation of 1-dent-latter postage" has been again inangurated; but the public is far more, interested in having its letters get there with 2 cents. Postage is cheap enough for letters. Certainty and speed are the things demanded by the people. It will be time enough for reduced postage when these desirable things have been achieved.
