Is the Earth in Danger From the Drill.

Prof. Joseph F. Jones answers, in a recent issue of the Popu or Science Monthly, the question, "Is it safe to drill the earth too much 2" The Professor assumes the earth to be a hollow sphere tilled with a gaseous substance, called by os natural gas, and he thinks that by tapping these reservoirs will cause disastrous explosions, resulting from the lighted gas coming in contact with that which is escaping. He compares the earth to a balloon fleating and kept distended by the gas in the interior, which, if exhausted, will cause the crust to collapse, affect the motion of the earth in its orbit, cause it to less its place among the heavenly bodies, and fall in pieces. Another writer thinks that drilling should be prohibited by stringent laws." He, to, thinks there is a possibility of an explosion, though from another cause. Should such a terrible disaster occur, "the country along the gas belt from Toledo through Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, will be ripped up to the depth of 1,200 feet or 1,500 feet, and flopped over There are weeds for spring, summer like a pancake, leaving a chasm through and fall, and, as the farmer gets rid of which the waters of Lake Eric will come one, another springs up to add to his, la- down, filling the Ohio and Mississippi bor.
