Up at the Mechanics' library on West Sixteenth street an old man had been a frequent visitor. He was fully 85 years old and feeble at that. He had a mania for reading books on longevity, and bored for hours over "Inman's Preservation of Life," "Collins' Secret of Long Life," and books of the kind.

"Look at that old man," said the librarian one day to his assistant. "I don't think his deep study on the preservation of life will keep him from the grave much longer. He has been looking badly for a week or two, and appears to be at the edge of the precipice now." The prophecy proved correct, for the next thing heard of the old man was that he had been called from this weary world, and the knowledge gleaned from Collins or Inman did not suffice to Another character at the Mechanics' library is an old lady who revels in the most sentimental love stories. A correspondent writing in Hoard's Dairyman, who has had considerable experience with cattle bloating from eating clover, claims to have had great success with kerosene and linseed oil as a remedy. He gives to the affected animal a tea cup two-thirds full of kerosene and linseed oil mixed in equal parts. He says: To prevent bloat, about a week before you turn the cows into a clover pasture give them a teaspoonful of copperas in some bran or feed of some kind. Copperas is good for calves. In the spring give them a quarter of a teaspoonful and they won't bloat, nor will it do them any harm, but it will give them an appetite.

They Exchanged Sentences.

Bosron, August 26.-An embezzler and a 'drunk" exchanged sentences and names in the Municipal Court dock this morning, after being tried and found guilty. The embezzler had received a sentence of six months and the "drunk" had been sent to the isembezzler bemoaning his fate.

The young man who had received the longer sentence offered the other ten dollars for an exchange of positions and names. The exchange was made. The embezzler paid the drunkard's fine, and walked out o

Montana Fires

HELENA, August 29.-The fires which have prevailed near Helena have subsided and there is now no danger to the city. The timber fires near Anaconda on Tuesday traveled so rapidly that the game in the mountains came down to the valleys for protection and two bears actually came to the town sitbut quickly disappeared as some horseme started after them. The fire also started in French Gulch, and it is feared it will reach the Anaconda fluming company's camp where there are over 75,000 cords of wood. Over one hundred men have gone to the camp to fight the fire.

A Family Gathering.

Have you a father? Have you a mother? Have you a son or daughter, sister or a brother who has not yet taken Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the guaranteed remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles.? If so why? when a sample bottle is gladly given to you free by any druggist and the large size costs only 50c and $1.00.

An Aeronaut's Peril

LONDON, September 1 .- An exciting scene was witnessed at an exhibition by Miss Beaumont, the aeronaut, at Fort Shields yesterday. In descending from her baloon with a parachute, the woman got caught by a lighting conductor, from which she hung suspended by one arm far above the ground. There was a great crowd of spectators, and the excitement was intense. Ladders were brought as quickly as possible, and by their aid the daring aeronaut made a safe descent. Card Of Thanks.

If the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam should publish a card of thanks, containing expressions of gratitude which come to him daily, from those who have been cured of severe throat and lung troubles by the use of Kemps Balsam, it would fill a fair sized book. How much better to invite all to call on any druggist and get a free sample bottle that you may test for yourself its power. Large bottle 50c
