EDWARD SCULL, Editor and Proprietor

WEDNESDAY.....November 20, 1889.

HON. LEWIS C. CASSIDY, ex-Attorney-General of Pennsylvania, died at his home in Philadelphia Monday morning. The cause of his death was heart failure.

WHEREVER tried intelligent women have been valuable additions to school boards. New York papers are now demanding their appointment in that city.

THE Democrats are already talking of a big gerrymander in Ohio. The innate disposition of the members of that party is sure to crop out on the slightest provocation.

Now that the exact size of the Democratic "victories" in Iowa and Ohio is becoming known, a considerable decrease of jubilation is distinctly visible among the horn blowers of the Democracy.

THE revolution in Brazil was accomplished in a very quiet way. In a single day, without the shedding of a drop of blood, the one empire on this continent was overthrown and a republic was established in its stead.

ALREADY the Ohio Democracy is having a lively time with itself over the glittering prize of the Ohio Senatorship. The Buckeye Democrats are "getting together" with blood in their eyes and knives in their bootlegs.

DEMOCRATS who have thought Iowa Republicans had retired from business will early find out their mistake. Allison will be returned to the Senate, and the old, rousing Republican majorities will be rolled up whenever called for.

THE Governor has appointed Mr. Livsey, formerly State Treasurer, and now Chief Clerk in the Treasury department, Treasurer for the unexpired term of Captain Hart. This is the second time Mr. Livsey has been appointed to serve out the term of a deceased Treasurer.

WORK on the Nicaragua Canal was begun October 22, the first sod having been turned in the presence of the local Governor and all the foreign consuls. Engineer Menocal has personal charge of the work, which is to be for the present mainly at the eastern end of the route.

THE death penalty by the use of electricity has not enough horror attending it to suit the New York papers. They are declaiming against its introduction. No scaffold, no drop, no solemn march up the steps, no cutting the rope—all sensationalism omitted. This is too much for New York reporters.

THE trotting mare, Sunol, that covered a mile without a break on the Sacramento course a few days ago in 2:09½, has been purchased by Robert Bonner, of New York, for $50,000. This is a tremendous price to pay for a horse; but, Bonner is rich, and his ambition is to own the fastest trotters in the world.

IT would seem as if Republicans this year made a mistake all along the line on candidates for Governor. In Iowa, while the Republicans have a majority upon other leading candidates, their Governor is defeated by 3,000. In Ohio the same condition exists, and the Governor is defeated by 12,000. In Massachusetts the State officers receive a plurality of 17,000, while the Republican Governor has but 6,000.

THE men and the journals who are now loudly declaring that the Federal Government has no right to create and enforce a national election law which would insure a free vote and a fair count in the election of Congressmen in the Southeastern States are the same ones that were frantically shrieking, about a score and a half of years ago, that the Federal Government had no right to "coerce" the "sovereign" States into remaining inside the Union if they wanted to secede.

THE Petersburg (Va.) Index-Appeal, a Democratic newspaper, does not intend that Mr. Cleveland's interpretation of the recent Virginia elections as meaning "Tariff Reform" shall be accepted as correct, and it certainly knows whereof it speaks when it says:

"If there is any tariff leaven working in Virginia it is the leaven of protection to American industries and American labor. So strongly do we believe that leaven to be working that it is our opinion that if an election could be held today squarely and fairly upon that issue and nothing else, a majority, a considerable majority, of the votes cast would be found to have declared for the protective tariff system. Of all the Southern States Virginia is, we firmly believe, the most pronounced for protection, with Georgia a good second and Alabama a poor third. Virginia will not take any free trade in 'her'n.' Mr. Cleveland ought to undeceive himself. The Democratic majority of more than 40,000 votes is a horse of an entirely different color."

JOURNALS of the free trade persuasion are vociferously proclaiming that the result of the late election in Ohio, and the proclaimed intention of the Democrats to so gerrymander the State as to prevent the return of Major McKinley to Congress, has effectually disposed of that gentleman's chances of being Speaker of the next House. This is the merest rot. No Republican believes that Ohio has left her moorings in the party. All concede that McKinley is a clear-headed, self-poised man, and that he would make a splendid presiding officer; and everybody knows that each Congress elects its own Speaker, so that if it was certain that he would not be returned to the 51st Congress, that is no reason why he should not be chosen Speaker of this, the 50th Congress, of which he is a member, and we do not believe that a single one of his colleagues in the House will, in the slightest degree, be influenced either by the result in Ohio or the possibility that he may be gerrymandered out of his seat in the next Congress.

THE most remarkable declaration that has been made in politics in recent years came from the lips of an Ohio Democrat in Cincinnati on Wednesday night. In a public speech at a jubilation meeting over the election of Campbell to the Governorship, Allen O. Myers, a member of the editorial staff on the Cincinnati Enquirer, the great organ of the Democratic party in the Southwest, said that the United States Senatorship in that State was for sale. The fact thus boldly proclaimed has been generally suspected to exist, but this frank avowal of it from an authoritative source is as unlooked for as it is startling. The language of the declaration will not bear paraphrasing. Mr. Myers, addressing Democratic members-elect of the Legislature, said:

"But let me implore you not to vote for a millionaire for United States Senator. Don't do it. Don't vote for Colonel Brice or John R. McClean or Thomas. The moment you send a millionaire to the United States Senate from Ohio, just that moment you beat the Democratic party for ten years to come. The Senatorship is for sale. It is for sale, but there is something that is not for sale, and that is public sentiment. Don't sell the Senatorship this time. Don't let any man buy it. I want to say that if you send a millionaire to the United States Senate, I will take the stump against the Democratic party and try to defeat it, and I am as good a Democrat as ever lived."

The Elections of 1889.

Media American.

Judgment is rarely passed upon the National Administration within the first year's exercise of power. It is too soon, and after the great contests necessary to bring about a change, there is a natural reaction, rather indifference, in the ranks of victors, who are not readily awakened to the struggles of the off year. Another reason is that these elections are not of National importance, since Congressmen are not chosen, while State and local issues dominate all others. This was the situation in all of the elections of 1889, and a summary of the results and their causes is easily made:

Rhode Island returned to the Republican column after passing the enactment and repeal of Prohibition—a cause so disturbing as to be sufficient of itself to revolutionize any State.

Connecticut's result was not significant of anything. It but showed the usual slim victory for the Democrats.

The four new States gave an emphatic endorsement of the Republican national issues, including the administration and the doctrine of Protection, for they had U. S. Senators and Members of Congress to elect.

Oregon gave a doubled Republican majority, elected a Congressman, and considered only national issues.

The November States, in many instances, disclosed local issues. Iowa, which once before went Democratic immediately after the adoption of Prohibition in 1887, repeated the operation last Tuesday, because of the law and the demand for its repeal. The Republican party there was its father, and it suffered from the weakness of its off-spring.

In Ohio the third-term and anti-Sunday feeling among the Germans, defeated the brilliant Foraker, and deprived the Republicans in the U. S. Senate of a man in place of Payne.

Nebraska had no disturbing local issue, and gave 25,000 Republican majority.

New York was not significant. It continued a Republican Legislature in power, but, as usual in off years, gave the Democratic State ticket a small majority.

Massachusetts recovered from its refusal to adopt Prohibition, and gave a reduced Republican majority—reduced only by the disappointment of Prohibitionists, who doubled their third-party vote.

Virginia is tainted with fraud and violence from end to end, and is not worthy of consideration. The same truth applies to Maryland in a less degree.

New Jersey but repeated herself.

Pennsylvania increased by 20,000 her recent off-year majorities. Here the liquor issues had passed away, and the Republicans had only to meet feeble attacks upon the National and State administrations. Both were overwhelmingly endorsed.

This is a truthful summary of results for the year. President Harrison and his administration has been emphatically endorsed wherever the opportunity was presented, or the issue accepted.

What of the future? It was never brighter for the Republican party, since in all of New England and Middle States the liquor issue will not again prove a factor, and can come in no weaker shape than High License—which is strong wherever tried. The same is true of the West, and Iowa and Ohio have seen the worst which can come from disturbing liquor issues. High License in both of these will restore complete Republican control, and it will be singular if they do not follow the example of other States. The year of weakness has been passed in comparative safety, and the Republican party is intact.

The Vote in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 13.—The complete official returns from the State election have been received at the office of the Secretary of State. The vote on the Lieutenant Governor has been verified, and the Secretary of State gave out the official figures this evening. They show Lampson, Republican, for Lieutenant Governor, to have a plurality of 41 over Marquis.

There was cast for the two candidates 750,179 votes. As Lampson was the lowest on the ticket, with the exception of Governor, the balance of the Republican ticket is surely elected. Dickinson, for Supreme Judge, is probably the next lowest, and he will have a plurality of 300 or 400.

The official figures on Lieutenant Governor are given: Lampson, 375,110, and Marquis, 375,069. Lampson had pluralities in 46 counties, aggregating 47,897, and Marquis in 42 counties, aggregating 47,856.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—C. M. Baker, a prominent Cincinnati attorney, in an interview here to-day, said that John R. McLean, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, can have the United States Senatorship if he desires it. It is believed Mr. Baker's mission to Washington is to secure Mr. McLean's consent to the use of his name as a candidate.

Senator Sherman says that the Democrat who has the most money to spend will get the prize!

McKinley's Seat in Congress Safe.

CANTON, O., Nov. 14.—The talk about Mr. McKinley being gerrymandered out of his seat in Congress meets with little belief here, as it will prove a difficult task to form a district in this part of the State which McKinley cannot carry. The attempt was made in 1884, when Congressman Dave Paige, of the Akron district, was pitted against McKinley and the latter was elected by a large majority. Should the Democrats succeed, however, in putting McKinley in an overwhelmingly Democratic district, it would be an easy matter for him to transfer to a Republican district; in fact, overtures in this direction have already been made to him.

Official Returns in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 13.—The total vote of the State for Governor is: Huchinson, Republican, 174,122; Boies, Democrat, 170,926; Boies's plurality, 3,804. For Lieutenant Governor, Poyneer, 177,400; Bestow, 165,184; Poyneer's plurality, 2,216. This shows that the whole Republican ticket save Governor, is elected, and the other pluralities will reach nearly 10,000. The Legislature is Republican by a majority of six on joint ballot.

On Suspicion of Murder.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—This afternoon the police authorities of Harrisburg were notified by telegram by Constable Waters, of Johnstown, that a man arrested here as a railroad trespasser, on the 5th inst., was wanted for murder. The man, when taken into custody, had a revolver on his person, two of the chambers of which had been discharged. He represented himself to be Charley Gibson, and said he had come from Altoona. The revolver he said he carried for self protection. Gibson's term in jail having expired, he was discharged this morning, but in the evening he was again arrested. His appearance tallies with the description given of him by Constable Waters. He will be returned to Johnstown to-morrow.

State Treasurer Livsey.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 13.—Governor Beaver to-day appointed Cashier Wm. Livsey to fill the unexpired term of the late State Treasurer Hart. Mr. Livsey was once elected State Treasurer, and was subsequently appointed by Governor Beaver to fill the unexpired term of Colonel Quay when that gentleman resigned the position of State Treasurer.

THE FALL OF DOM PEDRO.

Departure of the Deposed Emperor for Portugal.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 17.—The revolutionists have succeeded in overthrowing the Empire of Brazil and establishing a Republic, with General da Fonseca President.

The Emperor has sailed for Lisbon. He was notified by the Provisional Government of his deposition and informed that his civil list would be continued. He was treated with the utmost courtesy.

Bahia opposes the new regime, but most of the other provinces recognize the Republic.

Dr. Barbosa, the new Minister of Finance, announces that all contracts made by the late Imperial Government will be maintained by the new government.

The city is tranquil, but business is at a standstill.

NO SERIOUS TROUBLE APPREHENDED.

The opposition from Bahia will not amount to much. The province, with a provincial capital of a same name, adjoins the province of Rio de Janeiro on the north. Within its boundaries the liberated slaves are in greater proportion than elsewhere, hence the opposition. It is probable, however, that the city of Bahia will capitulate as soon as the ironclads appear at the port.

A MANIFESTO ISSUED.

Senor Constant, Senor Bocayard and General Da Fonseca, who compose the new Government, have issued a manifesto to the effect that the monarchy has been abolished and a Provisional Government organized. The official, military and wealthy noble classes are the instigators and leaders in the revolt. General Da Fonseca was under the Empire commandant of the Province of Minasgeraes. He was recently punished for insubordination. The manifesto of the Provisional Government declares that the object of the new regime is to promote peace and liberty. The permanency of the Senate will be maintained and all anterior legal acts will be recognized by the new Government.

The Emperor was requested by the Provisional Government to leave Brazil within 24 hours. He sailed with his family for Lisbon on board the packet Alagors, which by the orders of the President of the Republic was escorted by the ironclad Riachuelo.

A PENSION FOR THE EX RULER.

Dr. Barbosa announces that a pension or allowance will be paid the Emperor during his exile in Europe. Viscount Curo Preto, the former minister of the Interior, and Senor Mayunck, one of the leading bankers of Rio, have been arrested and are in prison.

A MINISTER ORDERED TO LEAVE.

LISBON, Nov. 17.—The Oporto Commercio De Porto has a certain cablegram from Rio de Janerio stating that the former Prime Minister has been ordered to leave the country and will sail immediately.

DEARTH OF NEWS AT THE CAPITOL.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Not a word of news reached the Secretary of State or the Brazilian Minister to-day from Rio de Janerio about the revolution there. At the Brazilian legation here it is believed that the revolutionists are in possession of the capitol and everything of use, including the telegraph. Consequently only revolutionists news is expected from Rio; but the Monarchists are expected to be heard from in a few days by way of Pernambuco or Para. The Brazilian diplomats here expect that the Provinces will stand by the Emperor, and that the revolutionists will not be strong enough to capture these cities.

His Horrible Death.

WOODBURY, N. J., Nov. 13.—Joseph M. Hillman, the young murderer of Peddler Seidemann, was hanged this morning in the county jail. The gallows was in the corridor of the jail, within ten feet of Hillman's cell. On it Van Hise, the Newark hangman has executed thirty-six persons.

The Sheriff's jury, three physicians, some ministers and a number of newspaper men and Hillman's brother witnessed the execution. As the time approached Hillman continued cool and firm. At 10:27 he was taken from his cell with the noose about his neck and paced the few steps to the scaffold. When asked if he had anything to say he said in clear tones:

My dear friends, all I have to say is that my wife had nothing to do with it. I am the only Hillman who ever did anything. I have forgiven all who had anything to do with it, and some day I hope to meet you in heaven.

Hangman Van Hise quickly pulled down the black cap, adjusted the noose, and at 10:31 cut the rope, and Hillman's body bounded into the air. Then there was a ghastly scene. Hillman's neck was not broken, and the knot slipped around under his chin. He struggled desperately and got his hands almost up to his mouth. Every one seemed paralyzed, and Hillman's brother, unable to see the sight, left the corridor. Hangman Van Hise lowered Hillman, whose strangling could be heard some distance, to within six inches of the floor and adjusted the knot.

Meanwhile the murderer was dying in fearful agony. At 10:55 the body was cut down, placed in a rough coffin and taken to his home, where it was buried near the house.

On November 9, 1888, Herman Seidemann a Jewish peddler, stopped at Hillman's house for the night. While he slept Hillmann crushed his head with a hatchet, robbed him of 14.09 and threw the body in a mill pond.

An Excursion of 6000 Miles.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—Just forty-two days after the morning of October 3rd, when the special train bearing the International American excursion party pulled out of the Pennsylvania Railroad station in Washington, the same train, headed by the locomotive which had drawn it nearly 6000 miles, rolled triumphantly into the capital city and drew up at the station, having successfully completed the most interesting, and, from a railroad standpoint, the most extensive trip ever undertaken by one train. It was planned that instead of taking the more direct southern route from Philadelphia to Washington, the train should run down by way of Harrisburg, so that the delegates might see the beautiful Susquehanna Valley, and the rich farming lands of that part of Pennsylvania. This plan was followed, but, unfortunately, the country was not seen at its best, as the lowering skies and heavy, driving rains confined the landscape within narrow bounds. Nevertheless, all was life and enjoyment aboard the train. The wives of some of the delegates, and other ladies who had joined the party at Philadelphia were on the train for the first time, and their presence added to the happiness of all.

Terrible Oaths the Mormons Take.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 14.—Several Mormons have lately applied for citizenship and objection has been raised on the ground that Mormons who pass through the Endowment House are obliged to take oaths such as unfit them for citizenship. The court is taking testimony on this point, and several apostle Mormons have made, under oath, terrible accusations against the church. They say that persons admitted through the Endowment House, swear to obey the priesthood above all other powers on earth, and to aim at the destruction of the United States Government. The penalty for violation or divulging oaths is to have the bowels cut out and the throat and tongue cut, and several witnesses swore they had seen this done. They also testified that the Mormon Church instigated the Mountain Meadow massacre.

A Conditional Bequest.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The will of the late John Crerar, of the firm of Crerar, Adams & Co., railway supplies, was probated to-day. His entire estate is valued at $2,500,000. The most important bequest is one of about $1,500,000 for the establishment of a public library, which its philanthropic founder directs shall contain no immorality in the way of French novels. The bequests to relatives and personal friends runs up to nearly $1,000,000.

Whirled to Death.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Nov. 13.—Frank Weina, a mine laborer, met with a horrible death at Lake Fiddler Colliery this afternoon. Martin McLane was engaged in feeding coal into a counter screen, when suddenly a thump sounded on the platform upon which he stood, followed rapidly by others, and several planks were raised an inch. Thinking that the machinery had broken, he dashed down a pair of steps leading to the screen shafting, when his blood turned cold.

CAUGHT ON A SHAFT REVOLVING 100 TIMES A MINUTE.

Wrapped around the shafting was his friend Weina, who had left him a few minutes previous to sweep dirt into the hopper, and had crawled under a heavy timber to brush away a small pile of dirt, when a set-screw caught his coat, which was instantly wrapped around the revolving shaft. This pinned Weina's body securely against the shaft, which was revolving 100 times a minute. Between its top and the platform there was a space of three feet, and every time Weina went around he received a terrible crushing.

SPELLBOUND WITH HORROR.

McLane was fascinated on first beholding the startling spectacle, and noticed as the body went around that Weina's boots had been torn off as well as his pantaloons. Through the leg a bone projected. The unfortunate man's face was as white as marble and bore a look of agonizing terror. McLane hurried into the engine room and gave the alarm. The engine was stopped, and Weina was found to be unconscious, with his body and legs frightfully mangled. With pocket knives the men cut off the clothing piece by piece, until, when almost in a nude state, he was released and carried into the air. An ambulance then conveyed him to his home in Springfield, where his wife and child witnessed his death an hour later.

"Black Bart" on the Stand.

BESSEMER, Michigan, Nov. 14.—Reimund Holzhay, "Black Bart," on trial for the murder of Banker Fleischbein, of Belleville, Illinois, and the robbery of the Gogebic stage, took the stand in his own defense to-day, and told the story of his life from the day of his birth in Germany, to that of his arrest at Republic, Michigan. He admitted that he robbed the Milwaukee and Northern train six months ago; that he held up the Wisconsin Central train at Cadott, Wisconsin, a month later, and that he waylaid the Gogebic stage and shot Banker Fleischbein.

Holzhay claimed that several years ago he was hurt by a fall from a horse, and since that time had been subject to "spells," during which he did not know what he was doing. He said he was under this "spell" when the various crimes by him were committed.

A Farmer's Terrible End.

AKRON, O., Nov. 14.—The dead body of Andrew Eck, a prominent farmer of Brimfield, Portage county, was found lying in the road three miles south from Kent this morning. Eck had frozen to death. His clothing was saturated with water and the cushions of his buggy were found floating in the city reservoir near Kent.

Investigation proved that he had been drinking, drove into the reservoir and lost his horse, after which he started to walk to the home of a relative in the country, but his clothing froze, and after walking about two miles and nearly reaching his destination, he fell and froze solid with the mud and water of the road. On his body was over $1,000 and valuable papers. He was widely known and prosperous.

Found Murdered After a Spree.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 14.—Michael Jagon was found murdered at Milnesville, near here, last night, and the authorities are seeking his cousin, Joseph Jagon, who is accused of the murder. The house in which the crime was committed contains a lot of broken chairs, while the walls are all bespattered with blood. A hatchet with blood marks upon it was found. Both are Huns, and jealousy is given as the cause of the murder, though the party had drank a gallon of whiskey. That there was a general fight is unquestioned, as John Toska was badly beaten, Mike Jimco lost an eye and a part of his right ear is missing, and Stephen Boskes is minus part of his nose and injured internally.

West Point Cadets Ill.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Nov. 14.—A report reached here to-night that half the corps of cadets at West Point (upwards of 150) had reported at the hospital, ill from poisoning. It turns out that the illness occurred a few days ago; that it was a trouble of the bowels, and the attack was general with all connected with the mess hall, drivers, gardeners, waiters, etc., faring as badly as the cadets. Even those who had not tasted food at the mess were as badly afflicted as the rest. The surgeon had his hands full of business for a time, but all recovered and to-day General Wilson, the Superintendent, appointed a commission, who is in charge of the men, to investigate the cause.

JOSEPH JEFFERSON.

"The Century Magazine" in 1890—Joseph Jefferson's Autobiography—Novels by Frank R. Stockton, Amelia E. Barr and others—A Capital Programme.

During 1890 The Century Magazine (whose recent successes have included the famous "War Papers," the Lincoln History and George Kennan's series on "Siberia and the Exile System") will publish the long looked-for Autobiography of Joseph Jefferson, whose "Rip van Winkle" has made his name a household word. No more interesting record of a life upon the stage could be laid before the public. Mr. Jefferson is the fourth in a generation of actors, and, with his children and grandchildren, there are six generations of actors among the Jeffersons. His story of the early days of the American stage, when, as a boy, traveling in his father's company, they would settle down for a season in a western town, playing in their own extemporized theater,—the particulars of the creation of his famous "Rip van Winkle," how he acted "Ticket-of-Leave Man" before an audience of that class in Australia, etc.,—all this, enriched with illustrations and portraits of contemporary actors and actresses, and with anecdotes will form one of the most delightful serials The Century has ever printed.

Amelia E. Barr, Frank R. Stockton, Mark Twain, H. H. Boyesen, and many other well-known writers will furnish the fiction for the new volume, which is to be unusually strong, including several novels, illustrated novelettes, and short stories. "The Women of the French Salons" are to be described in a brilliant series of illustrated papers. The important discoveries made with the great Lick Telescope at San Francisco (the largest telescope in the world) and the latest explorations relating to prehistoric America (including the famous Serpent Mound of Ohio) are to be chronicled in The Century.

Prof. George P. Fisher of Yale University is to write a series on "The nature and Method of Revelation," which will attract every Bible student. Bishop Potter of New York will be one of the several prominent writers who are to contribute a series of "Present-day Papers" on living topics and, there will be art papers, timely articles, etc., and choicest pictures that the greatest artists and engravers can produce.

Every bookseller, postmaster, and subscription agent takes subscriptions to The Century ($4.00 a year), or remittance may be made directly to the publishers, THE CENTURY CO., of New York. Begin new subscriptions with November (the first issue of the volume) and get Mark Twain's story, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," in that number.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional and not a local disease and therefore it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, working through the blood, eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and effects a permanent cure. Thousands of people testify to the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh when other preparations had failed. Hood's Sarsaparilla also builds up the whole system, and makes you feel renewed in health and strength.

Catarrh

"For several years I have been troubled with that terribly disagreeable disease, catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continual dropping in my throat, and stuffed-up feeling. It has also helped my mother, who has taken it for run down state of health and kidney trouble." MRS. S. D. HEATH, Putnam, Ct.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

HOW TO GET IT,

—AND—

WHERE TO GET IT.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE

PITTSBURG POST

FOR 1890.

The Fiction Department.

As a family newspaper THE POST will stand without a peer. Its fiction department will continue to be one of the most attractive in the country. The serial novels for which contracts for '90 have already been made, are the products of some of the foremost romance writers of the world. There will be several of these novels in the course of the year, and in book form any one of them would cost more than a year's subscription to the POST.

The Market Reports.

As a guide to buyers and sellers of merchandise and produce, THE POST'S market reports will be found full, reliable, extensive, and of very latest date, from every commercial centre. While in size and quality of reading matter it is equal to two of the ordinary sheets, all of which, and other excellent features, make it the largest, best, and cheapest paper in the country. The cattle, produce, and grain markets, especially prepared for the weekly edition, are always full and reliable.

The News Departments.

The news departments of THE POST are complete, giving each week the world's history for the week. Able correspondents at Washington, Columbus, Harrisburg, Cincinnati, New York, and other important points at home and abroad, contribute every week graphic letters on men and events. In all the departments that constitute both a great daily and weekly paper, THE POST admits no superior.

A Welcome Visitor.

The WEEKLY POST is the largest Democratic paper in the Union; and the aim of the publishers is to make it a welcome, instructive and entertaining visitor at the firesides. One of life's real pleasures is in an easy chair, a quiet corner, and a copy of THE WEEKLY POST. Each number of this sterling family magazine—it deserves the name—is a perfect encyclopedia of the doings of the world for a week. A pretty large field to cover, but THE POST does it. There is much, too, outside of mere news, to gratify the many tastes of the reading public. No feature, fictional, topical, or special, is omitted. The weekly New York fashion letter is a gem for ladies' eyes.

Some Extraordinary Premiums.

THE POST is offering some extraordinary premiums this year for subscribers. Send for a copy of its premium list. You can get the WEEKLY POST and an elegant watch, with gold filled case, guaranteed for ten years, for $11 50, or the WEEKLY POST and a silver watch, an accurate timekeeper, for $8 50; or the WEEKLY POST and a boy's nickel watch for $4 50; or the WEEKLY POST and the complete works of Charles Dickens, 15 vols., for $2 25; or the WEEKLY POST and the complete works of Sir Walter Scott, 12 volumes, for $2 25; or the WEEKLY POST and an elegant hand embroidery for $2 05. This embroidery will do the most beautiful kind of work. The WEEKLY POST and "Mrs. Parker's Complete Housekeeper," nearly 600 pages, will be sent for $1 75. The WEEKLY POST, and "How to be Your Own Lawyer," 500 pages, will be sent for $1 75. Do not forget to drop a postal card to THE POST, asking for a copy of the premium list. This is your chance to get cheap and elegant Christmas gifts.

Cash Premiums.

More surprising, indeed, than the offers of books, watches, etc., as premiums, are the POST'S offers of cash premiums for new subscribers. It offers $25 cash for 100 new subscribers at $1 a year; or $50 cash for 200 new subscribers; or $75 cash for 300 new subscribers; or $100 cash for 400 new subscribers. This is a great chance to make money.

The Daily Post.

No one who desires to be well informed and abreast of the times can do without his daily or weekly paper, bringing him in close touch with the whole world of business, industry, finance, legislation and politics.

The Pittsburg Daily Post prints all the news. Terms for The Daily Post:

By mail, one year, $8, postage prepaid; 6 months, $4; 3 months, $2; 1 month, 70 cents. Send for sample copy.

The Weekly Post.

The Pittsburg Weekly Post contains twelve large pages each week—84 columns of reading matter. Single subscription, postage prepaid, one year, $1 25.

In clubs of five or over, postage prepaid, one year, $1.

An extra copy, or its cash equivalent, for every club of ten subscribers. Send for free sample copy. Address THE POST PUBLISHING CO., Pittsburg, Pa.

RADAM'S

MICROBE KILLER

Cures all Diseases.

The claim to cure all diseases, may at first glance seem very absurd; but after reading our pamphlet, giving a history of the Microbe Killer, explaining the germ theory of disease, and reading our testimonials, which prove conclusively there is no disease it will not cure, the truth of our assertion becomes clear. No person suffering from any blood, chronic or contagious disease should let a day pass without getting and reading this interesting book, which will be given away or mailed free. The gentlemen connected with this company are well known business men of this city. A call is wanted every five. Address,
