That the Philadelphia and Reading Rallread Company is in dead earnest in its pur-pose to secure a through western connection wante erident. From very good auherity a Patrict reporter learned 30 vening that the Philadelphia and I company has obtained control of the ego soury on the projected South Penn line, which means amount other things, that it has secured possession of the bridge pless in the Susquelianna opposite this city. If this be true (and the source from whence this information comes is not to be doubted) the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has given its consent to the purchase or ieuse of the South Paus musoney by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company. A union depot in this city is therefore one of the bilities of the near future. The bridge committee of common council will probably visit Philadelphia on Thurs-day for the purpose of conferring with the officials of the Philadelphia and Reading froad in regard to the right of way over the Susquebanua river at this city. The amittee will endeavor to get the best possibleterms out of the railroad company for the city and to do whatever is best in their ent to secure the construction of the roposed bridge. If the railroad company has already obtained control of the South Penn piers it basen a lyantage which was not contemplated by the committee when it made its original draft of the bridge ordinance.
