

The Somerset Herald.

EDWARD SCULL, Editor and Proprietor. WEDNESDAY, February 12, 1890.

Candidates for borough offices are not very numerous as yet.

Democratic seems to favor the Morones. They have ten feet of snow out in Utah, and no "rip."

An Allegheny county postmaster has applied for a retail liquor license. He must intend to resign.

General Sherman celebrated his 70th birthday Saturday, and the whole country wished the old hero many returns of the day.

An appeal for aid has been issued by about six thousand people in North Dakota who are in need of the actual necessities of life.

The Prohibitionists of Altoona have nominated a full municipal ticket for the spring election. A woman has been named for School Director.

Several of the Democratic ward committees of Philadelphia have elected delegates to the State Convention favorable to the nomination of ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison.

Charles Henry Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press, has been appointed by President Harrison, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Russia.

The Virginia Legislature has abolished the whipping post in that State. Now let it abolish the abominable vice pedagogue and Virginia may be considered on the road to civilization.

In Ohio and West Virginia, where the Democrats have a majority in the Legislature, they have no complaint to make against holding in session even by party vote. They do it without even leaving the evidence in the case.

The Republicans of Johnsonville nominated the following ticket for city officers at their convention Friday evening: Mayor, M. J. Kelly; Captain, Samuel M. Miller; Treasurer, E. T. Carwell; Assessors, Ensign West, August Hamner, and Irvin Rutledge.

State Senator John E. Rowley of Philadelphia, who has been nominated in the Fourth Congressional District to succeed Judge Kelley, has said as a Republican leader in his party for a number of years, and is a parliamentary experience and firm. He will be a useful member of Congress.

The spring election occurs Tuesday, February 18. Republicans in every township should select their very best men for the various positions. Particular care should be exercised in the selection of candidates for Supervisor and School Director. The spring election is an important one, and a full vote should be polled in every election district.

Most Democratic papers try to frighten Speaker Reed by abusing him and calling him a "New York Sun" man, but it is better to be a "New York Sun" man than to be a "New York Sun" man.

Mr. Reed is as indifferent to history as to building, and the Democrats might as well make up their minds now that he will be Speaker of the Fifty-first Congress.

Major Randall, the editor of the House Mole, has announced that he will contribute to the fund for the monument over the grave of Mary Washington, the mother of the first President. There was a time when such an appeal would have met with spontaneous and liberal response, and it will be a national shame if that time is gone.

The grip is upon us today, it is true, but there is a vast deal of imagination and a still greater deal of "care" about it. Nobody dies from it. All the rhetoric that is said to follow it is due to the fact that it is the season when pneumonia is very prevalent, and the unusual weather causes a great deal of carelessness that leads to disaster. The disease is in all probability "break bone fever," a winter that never kills. Happening in winter time it is contagious with curative symptoms.

George W. Childs and A. J. Drexel of Philadelphia, have started a "New York Sun" man, which now reaches the comfortable proportions of $50,000. His seriously impaired physical condition, which excites the gravest fears of his friends, will make this fund a grateful contribution. Mr. Childs' long public service entitles him to such recognition from his neighbors, who know him to be a poor man, and the fact that he has never accepted gifts of any kind during his career, or given contributions to his campaign excursions, makes this movement specially meritorious.

The strict party vote by which Mr. Fleming has been declared Governor of West Virginia by the Legislature of that State will always leave it an open question whether he is or is not a "New York Sun" man. The participants will always hold beliefs in consonance with their feelings. The shame of West Virginia rests in the fact that, although the election for Governor took place in 1888, neither candidate has been able to see this time to take the office, but both have seen it snatched by a man who was not a candidate for it. The West Virginia law clearly requires amendment when such an anomalous condition can exist under its face construction or contenance.

General Nathan Goff, who made a "leave" but unsuccessful fight to establish his right to the Governorship, has conducted his whole course with dignity and honor, relying solely upon peaceful and legal means to that end. His final defeat by a partisan vote will in no wise lessen the esteem in which he is held by the Republicans of the entire country, but will serve to strengthen it.

and the Democrats will be disappointed if they expect anything short of a united support from the majority. All talk of support from the majority. The same may be said in relation to the assertion that this crisis is a mere arbitrary power upon the Speaker. The new rules, as they stand, simply enable the majority to do business in a popular body elected every two years the republic is indeed in danger. If not, the country is to be congratulated.

Col. Passmore for Lieutenant-Governor. The first Chester Republican, Feb. 4. Col. John A. M. Passmore, of Philadelphia, is announced as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor. Col. Passmore is an active Republican, and by some means has managed to get into the position. His nomination would give general satisfaction, and especially in Chester county, where he was born and reared, and where he has many warm friends.

Arresting the Democrats. HENKES, Mon., Feb. 7.—When the Senate met yesterday and none but Republicans answered the roll call, a resolution, prepared by the Lieutenant Governor, was adopted requiring all Senators to be present on February 8 at 10 o'clock a. m. More Southern Justice. CHARLESTON, S. C., February 7.—The spectacle of a Coroner holding an inquest over a man he murdered was presented yesterday in Florence County. The Coroner S. S. Birch shot and killed a negro whom he caught in the act of stealing potatoes from his yard. After the murder Birch came to town and gave himself up to the Sheriff. He was released yesterday on $2,000. An inquest was held on the body yesterday, the coroner presiding, and the jury found a verdict in accordance with the facts.

The Mine Horror. LONDON, February 7.—The work of removing the bodies of the miners who lost their lives by the explosion in the colliery at Aberdare yesterday, is being carried on as rapidly as possible. Already 138 bodies have been taken from the pit and it is believed that thirty more may yet remain there.

Speaker Reed's Failing Causes Montana Democrats to Run Away. HELENA, Mont., Feb. 6.—After adjournment in the Senate yesterday afternoon, the eight Democratic Senators, increased at the request of Lieutenant Governor Richards in counting down, took train for Idaho. Under the late Speaker Decker was arrested at Glendive. He has hired a lawyer and will make a legal fight.

Government of West Virginia. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 6.—Judge A. B. Fleming was inaugurated as Governor at noon today, the ceremonies taking place at the main entrance to the State House. The Republican, and especially the Republican members of the Legislature, very generally showed themselves from the ceremony. The inaugural address was quite short. The Governor defended his conduct for the year, saying that he would have felt for his duty to the people as a right, and the Legislature, they said they were going beyond the State line to get out of the reach of the Senate-at-Arms. Their continued absence will block all legislation.

Speaker Reed Now "The Man From Maine." "The Man From Maine," which formerly meant Mr. Blaine, now means Speaker Reed. The latter has not only bound himself into the leadership of his party. His name is heard often in connection with the Presidency than that of any other man in the country, with the exception of Grover Cleveland. He has shown elements of greatness in the chair which have called forth the admiration of friend and foe, and which have paralyzed the tongue of his Democratic opponents who undertook to dispute his claims. In all that Mr. Reed has done he has been carrying out a well settled purpose. He knows the defects of the old rule and, as if in anticipation of his elevation to the Speaker's chair, as long ago as last March, he published an elaborate article in which he pointed out the proper remedy. His suggestions have been adopted by the Committee on Rules almost in the exact manner and form in which they were first nearly a year ago, and have been approved by the Republican caucus with only a dissenting voice. The new rule will be adopted by the House after the usual blundering resistance of the Democrats, and business will proceed unimpeded by dilatory motions and the refusal of members to vote. The result will be that a great many of the members of this session and in a shorter time than usual.

On to Washington via the P. R. R. No better opportunity of taking the capital by storm will ever present itself to the people of Western Pennsylvania than that offered by the Pennsylvania Railroad special excursion of February 12th, March 6th, April 20th and 21st. The round-trip tickets, valid for two days and admitting of a stop-off at Baltimore in either direction, will be sold at the usual excursion rates. A choice of trains may be made between the special excursion cars and day coaches, or the regular night trains leaving Pittsburgh at 7:15 and 8:10 p. m.

Those who care to make flying side-trips through the South may purchase at Washington, Richmond, Petersburg, or Old Point Comfort, return coupons which will be accepted on any train except the Pennsylvania Limited Express.

We are organizing a first class grange in Milford. Miss Susie Edfield is visiting friends in the west. The "grip" has visited Milford and gripped some of our citizens with a very light grip.

Miss Sallie Meyers, daughter of Rev. W. S. Meyers, has gone to Carroll county, Ill., to visit friends. Some of our farmers have tapped their sugar trees, and claim that syrup fit for buckwheat cakes run therefrom.

Our farmers are discussing the road question. None object to accommodating, but all think that taxation should first be equalized. The ground hog failed to see his shadow on Candlemas day. Suppose he is at work laying in an extra supply of weather for next winter?

Mr. Daniel Stahl, of Somerset township, has been in Milford for some time, looking after matters on the farm he recently purchased. We are glad to have young men like him settle in our midst.

Free Fight at a Baptizing. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., February 6.—Mary Hooper, aged 17, and Rachel Ferguson, 15 years old, had a desperate fight yesterday at Union, six miles from this city. The girls are recent converts to the Baptist Church, and were baptizing in the river. The Hooper girl objected to Ferguson going in first. She deliberately struck her on the nose and blacked her right eye, and when separated by Minister Wesley, made an attack on him. The Hooper girl broke up in a row, and great consternation in religious circles exists in the village.
