EDWARD SCULL, Editor and Proprietor.

WEDNESDAY.....February 19, 1890.

THE Salt Lake Gentiles are rejoicing. They certainly have cause to. They likewise have the offices.

IF Parnell lived in the United States the Commission report would make him a formidable Presidential candidate.

EIGHT of the twelve presbyteries thus far voting for revision of the Presbyterian confession of faith have been in Pennsylvania.

THE debate on the World's Fair question will be commenced in Congress on Thursday. The chances are in favor of Chicago carrying off the prize.

DEMOCRATIC Congressmen were not as smart as the Democratic Senators in Montana. The latter did not dodge behind desks, but chartered trains and left the State.

GENERAL GREELY, of the Signal Service, predicts that there will be no February thaw. Any one could have made that prediction. There is nothing to thaw.

THE Democratic rebellion against the right of the majority to rule having been thoroughly quelled, the wheels of legislation will begin to go round once more in Washington.

IF the constitution of Mississippi is amended so that only those who can read and write are eligible to vote very nearly one-half of the present voting population of the State will be disfranchised.

CONGRESSMAN GRIMES, of Georgia, paid his bill and indignantly left the Riggs House at Washington, because a colored man, Mr. Astwood, the ex-Consul to San Domingo, was entertained there as a guest. The country will undoubtedly set Congressman Grimes down as an ass.

IF Senator Elect Brice is a citizen of Ohio he should walk up to the Treasurer's office at Lima and pay his tax on personal property like a little man. The law says he must. If he is not a citizen of Ohio, the sooner he resigns from his senatorial office the happier he will be. He is "standing between two haystacks," and the country is watching to see upon which he will feed.

THE school-house and the open Bible will conquer and redeem Utah and Idaho if given a fair chance. No other agency ever can succeed in curing such moral disease and transforming such monstrosities. The best laws, backed by ignorance and supported by atheism or Buddhism or Mohammedanism, never have and never will lift up a people. Good laws grow naturally, as the seed is planted by the schoolmaster and the Bible-teaching missionary.

DEMOCRATS say that Republicans will complain when a Democratic majority in Congress apply the rule laid down by Speaker Reed. They ought not to. There is nothing morally wrong in the majority ruling—when it is a majority. The rule of the majority is a doctrine dear to Republicans. The majority ought to rule. It is their right. If they do not rule righteously or justly they will soon cease to be a majority. It must not be forgotten that Congress is new every two years.

SAYS the New York Mail and Express: "The sudden and overwhelming fear which has come over the Democrats in regard to the alleged plan of the Republicans to 'loot' the United States Treasury, is decidedly ludicrous. The idea that the Republican majority in Congress, representing by far the greater portion of the nation's wealth and intelligence, is so incapable or so dishonest as to be unable to administer the government in a just and economical manner is so ridiculous that the Democratic organs will only waste their breath in howling "loot" in the people's ear."

TO THE credit of the Fifty-first Congress be it recorded that a majority of the committee with a view to expediting business and preventing one or two obstreperous and obstinate members from defeating legislation demanded by the people, has been adopted. The news of this victory of the Republicans over the Democrats will be welcomed by every one who cast a ballot in the fall of 1888, in the hope that the Republican party would be restored to power with a sufficient majority to carry out the legislation which that party had promised in its National platform, and had mapped out to the people on the stump and through the great organs of public opinion.

THE bill to provide a government for Oklahoma, as amended in the Senate, would complete the formation of Territories in the United States, unless it might be in Alaska. Possibly that vast region of rock and snow will have a population some day to justify the organization of a territorial government there, but the United States, as a compact continental domain, needs only the passage of the bill referred to to become subject to the reign of law throughout its entire length and breadth. The amendment includes in the proposed territory what is fitly known as No Man's Land.

This strip of country lies between Colorado, Texas, and Kansas, belonging to neither of the three, a menace to them all. It contains an era of about 4,000,000 acres, said to be well watered and rich in agricultural resources. Hitherto it has been a wild grazing country, the few people living there recognizing no allegiance to law, and largely given to outlawry as a livelihood. The population is roughly estimated at 10,000, mostly cowboys, if not cattle thieves.

THE Fifty-first Congress is now ready for business. The House has been drifting along without rules all winter. Their adoption was accomplished Friday, and that under circumstances admitting of no doubt as to the validity of their adoption. At the last the Democrats entirely abandoned the policy of obstructive silence and voted, thus removing all question of a quorum. The vote was partisan. Every Democrat opposed the adoption. Every Republican favored it. With the exception of contested election cases there has been no marked drawing of party lines in the House, and hardly any in either branch of this Congress, except on the rules. It has taken all this time for the Republicans to overcome the obstacles put in the way of legislation by the Democrats. It was a stubborn fight, but the end accomplished justifies the persistence of the Speaker and his political associates in waging the battle.

The American people can now hold the party in power to a rigid accountability for the conduct of National affairs.

The Senate and the House not only, but the Executive and Judicial Departments of the government, are in the hands of the Republican party. This clean sweep does not abridge the rights of State and municipal governments, and as a consequence a great deal of political authority still eludes the Republicans which by right belongs to them. Throughout the entire South the Democrats have unbroken sway, albeit in the minority nearly everywhere. With this general exception, it will be their own fault if the Republicans do not put Republicanism into practice in the enactment, execution and interpretation of law. By 1892 the people will have a fair chance to renew their confidence in the party, or withdraw it, as the case may be. And popular judgment will not turn on back numbers and prejudice, nor yet on the qualifications or disappointments of personal ambition, but upon the fidelity with which the party adheres to its principles, redeems its pledges, and conducts the public business.

The Democrats and the Veterans.

N. Y. Press, Feb. 15.

Mr. Bynum of Indiana offered an amendment yesterday in the debate on rules which, if passed, would bury all pension legislation in the House. His proposition is, and in this he had the substantial support of the Democratic party, that when a bill for the increase of pensions or for granting pensions not formerly provided for is pending, it shall be in order to offer an amendment providing by taxation for the payment thereof. Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio did not exaggerate when he declared that this amendment so far as the veterans were concerned, was the most thoroughly antagonistic and hostile proposition ever made on the floor of the House. It is understood as an attempt on the part of the Democrats to prevent all legislation favorable to the soldiers. In fact, it was intended to stop future pension legislation. It is fortunate, therefore, that this amendment was rejected, though ninety-six Democrats voted in favor of it. The veterans of the war will, before this session of Congress is over, have reason to rejoice that the country did not have four years more of Cleveland and a Democratic Congress.

The Press is opposed to extravagance and wastefullness in the administration of public affairs, but it has always advocated fair and even liberal treatment for those who fought for the Union.

Murdered While On Duty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The following telegram, dated Jacksonville, Fla., February 14, announcing the assassination of a Deputy United States Marshal, was received by Attorney General Miller this afternoon: W. B. Saunders, one of my bravest and most efficient regular deputies, was brutally assassinated at Quincy, Gadsen county, yesterday about 3 o'clock, where he had gone with myself and other deputies on official business. For particulars by mail. (Signed) J. R. Mizell, United States Marshal.

The Times-Union says of the Saunders murder that Saunders went to Quincy to arrest a negro charged with forging a postal order. He drank heavily all day and late in the afternoon was being driven out to Santa Clara tobacco plantation with two men whom he had become acquainted with in a saloon. On the road they stopped to take a drink, and as they got into the buggy again three shots were fired and Saunders fell dead in the buggy.

Saunders was a prominent Republican. The Times-Union denounces the murder in bitter terms and says that the good name of Florida demands that the murderer be detected and punished.

It is stated that a man has been arrested by the local authorities.

A Criminal's Piteous Story.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 13.—Yesterday afternoon a business man saw two rough-looking men emerge from St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Woodlawn avenue, and as they acted in a suspicious manner he gave chase. One of them escaped, but the other ran into St. Bridget's Church, where he was captured. In the police court this morning he claimed to have stolen nothing from St. Joseph's, but the officials of that church report a valuable communion service missing. The thief, who gave his name as George Burke, stated on the stand that he had spent twenty-four years in different penitentiaries, his last term being two years in the Trenton (N. J.) State prison for aiding in a Newark jail delivery. Speaking of his crimes, Burke said: "I have never had any encouragement to lead an honest life. Ever since I was first wrongfully convicted I have been kicked down hill. Whenever I got work some one would come along and tell my employers that I was a criminal, and I would be discharged. I don't care what becomes of me; I have lost hope." He was fined $200 and sentenced to two months in the work-house.

Generous Indians.

CARLISLE, Feb. 12.—While the pupils of the Indian School were at dinner to-day, the appeal sent out from Agent Cramsil, of the Devil's Lake Agency, North Dakota, asking for relief for the starving Indians was read.

After a brief discussion, Dennison Wheelock, Oneida, moved, and William Pivis, Comanche, seconded that the students contribute $550 of their savings. The motion was carried unanimously. Captain Pratt telegraphed Agent Cramsil to draw on him at sight for that sum.

The students earned this money through the system of the Carlisle school. The earnings of the pupils last year amounted to more than $12,000. The Indian boys are much sought for as help by Pennsylvania farmers.

An Awful Crime.

BUTTE, Mont, Feb. 13.—A revolting crime was committed yesterday in Burlington, a quiet mining village three miles from here. Mrs. Bryant, who kept a boarding house for miners, had saved about $300, with which she intended to pay the passage for herself and children to join her husband, who left for Australia about a year ago. About noon yesterday she discovered her 16 year old son Thomas, rifling her trunk, and in the quarrel which ensued Thomas shot his mother dead. The boy then escaped. Later a dozen men started in pursuit of him, but the young man eluded them and gave himself up, and is now in jail. He had $220 in his pockets when locked up.

Four Babies at a Birth.

SCOTTDALE, Feb. 13.—This morning Mrs. Michael Newton, of Everson, gave birth to four healthy, well-formed children, all girls. The father of the children is a coal miner, an Irishman by birth, and has lived here for eleven years. Mrs. Newton is a robust woman of 35 years, and was the mother of eight children. Hundreds of people visited the Newton residence this morning, and the citizens are going to present Mr. and Mrs. Newton with a handsome purse. The mother is getting along well, and the attending physician, Dr. A. J. Rogers, says the children will all live, as they are healthy and strong, though slightly below the average size.

Her Dead Babe in Her Arms.

NEW YORK, Feb 13.—Mrs. Margaret Hines, a young mother, thinly clad and shivering from the cold, with a dead babe in her almost bare arms, was found in a doorway on Fourteenth street, near Broadway, last night. The moans of the distressed woman attracted the attention of a man who was hurrying by. She did not know her child was dead. Her husband had deserted her, and when she left the Charity Hospital a few weeks ago she had no money. Her search for work was not successful, as she found only a little scrubbing to do, and yesterday she said she only secured a little work to do, for which she was given something to eat. When night came she had no money, and, instead of applying to the charity organizations, she walked the streets. She appeared halfcrazed by her loss.

New Rules Adopted in the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The new rules of the House were finally adopted to-day, and the House may now be expected to do some business.

The closing scenes were comparatively unexciting. The benches were nearly empty and only one incident of the day caused any excitement. That was when Mr. Bynum, of Indiana, offered an amendment providing that when any bill for the increase of a pension, or for granting pensions not provided for, is pending, it shall be in order to offer an amendment providing by taxation for the payment thereof.

The amendment was opposed by Mr. Thomas, of Wisconsin, who declared that its object was to bury all pension legislation in the House.

After further discussion the amendment was rejected, yeas, 93; nays, 164. Other amendments met the same fate, and the rules were finally adopted by 161 yeas to 145 nays.

IMPORTANT TO SOLDIERS.

The Senate to-day passed bills for the relief of soldiers and sailors who enlisted or served under assumed names while minors or otherwise in the army and navy during the war of the rebellion. The bill provides that certificates of discharge shall be issued to these soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged.

SEATS FOR TWO MORE REPUBLICANS.

The House Committee on Elections has decided that Mudd is entitled to the seat in the Fifth Maryland district and Featherstone in the First district of Arkansas.

Kilrain in Trouble.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. Feb. 14.—A special dispatch from Dallas, Tex., to the Post-Dispatch says Jake Kilrain and his sparring troupe exhibited at the Opera House last night. It was announced to be only sparring and wrestling match. After some uneventful sparring by others, Tom James of Dallas encountered Banzia, the combination's champion light weight, for $25. The conditions were that James should stay four rounds. In the fourth round Banzia struck James in the neck, knocking him limp on the stage. James was unable to rise. He was sponged and restoratives applied, and the show continued, no one supposing that James was hurt seriously.

When the entertainment had about concluded, Muldoon announced that James was unconscious and called for a physician. As soon as the serious condition of James became known officers began a search for Banzia, but he had fled. At 12:30 this morning James died, and the entire combination, excepting Banzia, was put under arrest on a charge of murder. Kilrain was so overcome that he wept like a child. A few hours later Banzia returned and surrendered to the officers. It is generally supposed that James' neck was broken, but one doctor gives it as his opinion that James died from paralysis of the heart.

His aim was Sure.

CRESTLINE, February 17.—Last night at 9 o'clock two burglars went to the residence of J. F. Fringle, two miles east of here, and rapped at his door. Mr. Fringle got up, but before he opened the door they said they had a telegram for him. Upon letting them in they made a rush to the bedside of his wife and began choking her.

Mr. Fringle seized his revolver, shot twice in quick succession. One of the burglars ran out, closely followed by the other. Mr. Fringle shut the house up, afraid to show himself till this morning, and looking in the yard found that his aim was good, for there lay a dead burglar.

The alarm was given here this morning, and 100 men have gone out to investigate. It is supposed that the other burglar has been locked up this morning, as he was limping and his face is tied up.

A White Cap Horror.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 16.—A terrible White Cap outrage is reported from Wood county this State. At Rockwood a party of men went to the house of Charles Smith, took out Smith and his wife and whipped them until they fell senseless. When they recovered they were warned to leave the State, and they fled the next day. It is claimed that the outrage was instigated by a prominent citizen whose advances Mrs. Smith had repulsed. The Smiths are highly respectable.

Important Pension Measures.

WASHINGTON, February 14.—Two pension bills of importance passed the Senate to-day. The first repeals the sections of the Revised Statutes which require that the claim for pension by a State Militiaman for disability incurred while temporarily on duty must be filed before July, 1884.

The other provides that oaths required in pension or bounty cases, may be taken before any officer authorized to administer

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. It is peculiar in that it strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. Give it a trial.
