LUMBAGO.

The day is done!
Across the water sky
Are golden streaks of light,
As if the chariot of the sun
Had left them in its flight.

The day is done!
The spring and babbling brook
In each requested note
Has faded down to slumbers sweet,
And nestling down to slumbers sweet.

The day is done!
The daisies nod on coo and bill,
Voice of bird grow hushed and still,
And through the forest silence broods,
For this is Nature's sweetest mood.

The day is done!
On the mossy marble, 'cross the way,
The ancient light gleams dim and gray;
And on the names carved o'er the tomb
It settles with a lonely gloom.

The day is done!
One by one, from the village near,
The lights begin to disappear.
Oh! weary hearts, with sorrow prest,
The night has come 'tis time to rest.

The day is done!
Peace, blessed peace, broods over all;
Night enters in her lonely hall,
All to silence give their claim,
For now behold the Night doth reign!

BACKACHE.

It is commonly known that I was in bed three months with backache, and could not get up. I was cured by Dr. J. C. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY.

THE END OF DAY.

The day is done!
Across the water sky
Are golden streaks of light,
As if the chariot of the sun
Had left them in its flight.

Preparations for Spring Work.

Except in the extreme North West, the soil is now so warm that it is possible to plant early crops. The farmer should be prepared to plant early crops. The farmer should be prepared to plant early crops.
