PARKER & PARKER'S

A Rallroad on Pike's Peak. A cog-wheel railroad is at present in course of construction on Pike's Peak, a mountain in Colorado belonging to the Rocky range. The railroad when completed will extend from Manitou to the summit of the Peak. The mountain is about 14,215 feet in height, and its precipitous cliffs of solid granite, together with deep canons and ravines, form obstacles that combine to make the work of constructing the railway extremely difficult. The road-bed was commenced last fall near the top of the mountain, and continued downwards, because the intensely cold weather prevailing during the winter at such an elevation prevents work being carried on then. Mules and burros were used to transport by trail all the tools, camping outfit and provisions to the camps along the line of the road. Eight hundred men and one hundred and twenty teams of horses and mules were employed in making the road-bed.

The elevation overcome throughout the In all places along the road where it is necessary to guard against wash-outs. culverts will be placed built of solid masonry. All the bridges will be iron and no trestles will be used. The track will be standard guage laid on red spruce ties. Australia's Wool Clip.

The past wool season in Australia has been a highly profitable one, and not only have prices been satisfactory, but the clip is the largest on record. It is estimated that during the season 1,485,-000 bales were exported, against 1,385,000 in 1888-9 and 1,315,000 bales in 1887-8. A competent authority estimates that the total value of the clip at Aus alian ports was about £23,000,000, against a little over £21,000,000 for 1888-9, and about £17,500,000 for 1887-8.
