business as an auctioneer. He found this business congenial, and it was not long until he made his mark. Some of Sandy's orntorical efforts are well worth preserving: "Now, ladies and gents," he said on one occasion, "let me call your attention to this beautiful oil painting entitled "Washington Crossing the Delaware." Observe, if you please, the attitude of the Father of His Country on he stands in the bow of the boat and does the beavy pelling, while the men at the oars do the work. See him, with his august finger lifted pointing the way through the floating ice and urging the men to put in ladies and gents, you buy a picture of the But after all sick head noble Washington in his most heroic attstude. The crossing of the Delawate was an event of the utmost importance in our country's history. If Washington had not crossed the Dalaware on the memorable occasion where would be

"He would have been on dis side," shouted a fellow on the outskirts of the Sandy checked the levity and went on: "That was an occasion and this is a picture to stir every patriotic heart. And what am I bid for it? Do I hear a dollar? Look at the frame, ladies and gents. There's a frame that is worth a dollar, to say nothing of the subject and the picture. Do I bear ninety cents for this magnificent masterpiece? Not even ninety cents? Why, ladies and gents, is it the rich, red American blood that dances in your veins, or is it the sluggish, pule gray liquor that trickles through the British subject? Does not the sight of the star-spangled banner stir your pulse? And yet I do not hear ninety cents for 'Washington Crossing the Delaware.' I am amazed and pained. Was the Revolutionary war fought in vain? Was blood spilled on Banker Hill to be so soon forgotten? Think of Valley Forge and the sufferings of the Continental soldiers during that awful winter, and then give me a bid on this picture. What no bid! Ladies and gents, I intended next to put up this magnificent American eagle, stuffed in the highest style of the Ask for Scott's Emuision and take no of art, but I can't do it in the face of this sentiment. In this crowd, the bird with the broad and sweeping wing wouldn't etch the price of a placked jaybird. I will now proceed to sell this beautiful Enlish hunting-case watch - N. Y World,

Dragged to Death by His Dog-

Passar, N. J., June 7.-Garrett Fleming. a resident of this city, last night started with his large dog to go to Dundee canal to give the animal a bath. As he was crossing over the railroad bridge the dog gave a sudden bound and jumped into the river. Fleming had hold of the animal by a long chain. He held on to the chain and was dragged into the water. Being unable to swim he was drowned. The dog swam ashore and made is way home.

The plans for the building of the Cambria Library Association have been approved by Andrew Carnegie, the donor, and work will soon begin on the building. It will contain a lecture bill on the ground floor, library and reading rooms upon the second floor, and a gymnasium and class rooms on the third floor. It will be of fire-proof construe tion and present a handsome appearance.

Saved by a Boy.

ONAHA, Neb. June 5.—The heroism of a boy named Mike Haley prevented the wreck of the Union Pacific flyer between here and South Omaha at a place called Summit. Young Haley was returning home, when he naw two men unlock a swith and turn it. He san to South Omnha and notified the trainmen, just as a train consisting of twelve coaches was pulling out. There was an unusual number of passengers on board, and had the plot not been discovered the loss of His colts have sold for more money than any other Draft Colts in the county. Walt Heffley sold one, coming three years old, to the Farmers' Stock Co. at Stoyestown, for $500. Two others, same age, to parties in Ohio, for $300 each. Peter Dumbauld sold a gelding three years old, past, for $280, the highest price ever realized for a gelding in the county. John Meyers, near Berlin, bred, and has a weanling that weighs 900 pounds. Weanlings repeatedly sell for $100 to $115. It only pays to breed to rested under circumstances mysterious and the best, and it is the big draft horse, weighing fifteen to eighteen hunlred, with action like a pony, that commands the big prices, and in inger called upon Mr. Foltz and said that breeding to this horse you get the remarkable action. To the breeders of Berlin and vicinity, it seems unnecessary to say anything. As to the stockmen of the Meversdale district, we can assure them that they never had a superior Clyde in their section.

I will also stand my i blood Clyde horse, Prince, brown in color, weighing 1500 according to instructions, agreed to kill Foltz, in the hope of learning the woman's stand as follows: First week, beginning April 14th, at Berlin; second week, beginning April 21st, at Somerset—week about throughout the season. A Log Thirty-three Feet Thick.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5,-Preparations are being made to take a section of the big Redwood tree for the purpose of exhibition at the world's fair in 1892. This will be the largest section of any big tree ever taken from California. The tree measures 90 feet in circumference and 33 feet in diameter. The section to be taken out will be nine feet in beight and 60 feet in circumference. It will take ten men several months to complete all the work to be duce. Three flat cars will be necessary for the transportation, as the total weight will not be less than 65,000 pounds. Several suggestions have been made to the board of trade for setting up the entire tree at the fair, but no plan to that end has yet been matured.

WASHINGTON, June 2.-Contrary to expecation, the matter of pensions came up in the Republican caucus in the House to-night, and a long discussion ensued over the kind of agreement that the conferces on the part of the House on the Senate Dependent Pendon bill should make. It was agreed that he conferees should insist on the retention of the amendments made by the House and also that a further amendment should be made providing that no pension shall be ess than $6 per month. Massacred by Indians.

DENYER, Col., June 5 .- J. H. Holt, a cate dealer of Wyoming, arrived here this orning and gives an account of an Indian esacre which occurred in the upper Green liver compley several days ago. He says that a party of Indians that had become inmen came to the camp of the Government surveyors and demanded more "fire water. It being refused, the Indians attacked the Bay horse imported from Scotland party, killing Chief Engineer Crittenden, in he lies in a precarious condition.

Hired to Murder,

NEW CASTER, Pa., June 4 .- "For soliciting person to murder Wm. S. Folz, President of the First National Bank of New Castle." is the charge upon which Mrs. Sarah A Randolph, alias Ars. McGinty, has been arsensational. Three weeks ago Samuel Kisshe had been importuned by Mrs. McGinty to kill him, she saying that there was $1,500 in the job. Mr. Foltz was induced by Kissinger to employ detectives, who were secreted at several meetings at which Krissinger. Foltz, in the hope of learning the woman's motive. She explained that she had been employed by another man to work up the ssassination, but did not give the man's name. Since her arrest Mrs. McGinty says that Mr. Foliz's name was only used as a blind, and that when the contract was completed the real victim would be made known to the murderer. Kissinger and Mrs. Mcby are both ex penitentiary convicts.

Good Progress Made. Washington, June 6 .- The Republican numbers of the Senate Finance Committee this morning completed schedules A and B of the Tariff bill, and they will be submitted to the Democratic members of the committee to-morrow. Representative Farquhar, of New York, accompanied by some maltsters of his district, was given a brief hearing. He asked a reduction on foreign barley from 30 to 15 cents a bushel. At the afternoon session the Bepublican members dis-posed of the metal schedule. They will take up the lumber schedule. They are confident of reporting the bill next week. They still talk of the prospect of adjournment by July . Senator Cockrell said that while the Democrats in the Senate would not fillbuster hey would insist on a reasonable time for debate, and he does not think it possible to each an adjournment before August 1.

Nebraska's Fatal Cyclone.

YORK, Neb., June 5.-The fatalities at Bradshaw now reach fifteen. Governo Thayer, Attorney General Leese and other State officials arrived at the cyclone stricken village at 11 o'clock this morning. The wounded have been removed to other towns or into the country. York people are supplying provisions.

The great need is for money and lumber. At a meeting last night the people of York raised $1300 for the sufferers. It is estimated that the loss will reach $250,000. Of the 300 stricken households it is estimated that not ten persons will be oble to erect roofs over their heads.

Willing to Spend $5,000,000.

RISMANCK, N. D., June 4.-The efforts to secure a charter for the Louisiana Lottery in North Dakots are being renewed with great energy The State is swarming with agents of the lottery, and it is said that $5,000,000 will be expended with the view of securing the election of a Governor and Legislature favorable to the scheme.

Mrs. Hobbs, of Albany, New York, was annoyed by English sparrows, and soaked hominy in strychnine with which to poison them. They ate it and relished it, apparently. It did not kill them, but ery one of them turned snow white.
