It was deemed that it would hardly be considerate to take Mr. Delmonico un awares, and in order to prepare him for so unusual an event as a swell dinner for two, the Kentucky gentlemen went to the restaurant early in the day, called for the head waiter and told him what they wanted. "Spare no expense" they

They dined at 6. It was a splendid dinner.

They called for their bill. The waiter placed a check, face down, on the menu. The gentlemen were toasting each other as the waiter did this, and when they placed their glasses on the table he was gone. They saw what appeared to them to be a scrap of paper on the menu and brushed it off. The old fellows were ignorant of the customs of French res-taurants, and they concluded that the menu must be the bill. The colonel be gan to figure up the prices. It seemed that they had eaten a great deal, but the names of the dishes were in a language unknown to them, and anyway they were not in a mood to bother about tri-

Francis Murphy brought sympathetic tears to the eyes of his hearers at the dinner of the Leather Manufacturer's Association by relating a story of benevolence which occurred in Newark, N. J. The man, whom Mr. Murphy called Jones, was touched by her apparent distress and asked her what was the cause

" I walked into town," she replied, " to have the baby baptized, and now it will cost me $3 to have the service performed. I haven't the money, and I don't know what to do."

"Well," that's a small matter," said Jones. I haven't $3 in change, but here's a $10 bill. Take it, and I will wait for the change."

and handed Jones $7. He patted the child's head and went down town, rejoic ing in his own goodness. He felt good all day, and his countenance shown with an unusual brightness. His associates all noticed the change, and finally one t'rem asked him the cause of it. "I am happier than usual to-day," said

Jones, "and the reason of it is that did three good things on my way down town this morning." He related the occurrence, and wound up by saying : "So I performed a deed of charity, star ted a little child on its way to paradise and-got seven good dollars for a counter

BLOOD SEARCHER Signing the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.-The President and his Cabines were at the capitol in a body this afternoon to examine and sign bills that had not previously been conveyed to the Execu-tive Mansion. The President's room from 2 o'clock until the work was completed was a bu-y place. Beside the President and his advisors, various Senators and Representalives crowded the rather small apartment. Private Secretary Halford and a force of executive clerks were busily engaged in re-ceiving and arranging the bills for the Presdent's signature, first submitting them to the head of the department to which they appertain for his inspection and judgment. The tariff bill was laid on the table at about o'clock, but the President then having

At 4:20 Private Secretary Halford, taking up the hulk of manuscript, placed it before Mr. Harrison, with the last page of the enrolled measure exposed. As President Har-rison squared himself to affix his signature, Secretary Blaine and Senator Aldrich, who had been conversing on a sofi, arose and stood against the table.

Mr. McKinley was directly opposite the President and the rest of the gentlemen were grouped about the table.

Looking up to Msjor McKinley, the Pres-

I am did so: "I will use plenty of ink." When he had finished Mr. Halford was about to dry the signature with a blotting pad, as had Blaine stopped him, with the remark : "Let it dry on." And the private secretary laid the bill aside without blotting it. Having seen the Executive approval given to the bill Major Mckinley moved toward the door followed by several others, while Representative Mason addressed the Pre ient: "Mr. President, I have Major Mc Kinley's permission to ask you for the pen you have just used for one of my little folks." With a smile the pen, an ordinary steel falcon in a plain cedar holder, was handed to the Chicago representative, and at 2:22 the scenes at the signature of the tariff bill

Malaria

Literally means bad air. Poisono germs arising from low, marshy land or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken up by the blood, and unless the vital fluid is puri fied by the use of a good medicine like FINE WHISKIES. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the unfortunate victim is soon overpowered. Even in the more advanced cases, where the terrible fever prevails, this successful medicine has effected remarkable cures. Those who are exposed to malarial or other poisons should keep the blood pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Reminder of Crossus' Spree.

New York, Oct. 5.-Ex-Judge Henry W. Leonard, of this city, received yesterday a triking verification of the adage "Cast thy bread upon the waters and it shall return unto thee after many days." Only the Judge didn't cast it in just that direction. He has been willed a quarter of a million dollars by a man whom he befriended five years ago in this city. In December, 1885, Louis Stremel hailing from the wild West, came to New York to see the town. He had plenty of money and a proportionally big thrist. He got so drunk that the physicians at Bellevue Hospital pronounced bim a raving lunatic, and sentenced him to confinement in the pavillion at that institution for an indefinite period. Ex Judge Leonard heard of the prisoner at Bellevue, and, after three days argument before the Courts, secured the sobered Stremel's release on habeas corpus, and absequently his entire freedom as a sane and went back west. On Friday last exudge Leonard got a telegram that caused im to jump about in great glee. It came from the firm of Wilson & Trainor, lawyers of Pueblo, and it said :

"A former client of yours, Louis Streme wner of the Guadelope Mines in this see ion, leaves you $250,000 in his will. Par possible to save much. If not, save a little. Do not think that a dollar or a body knows how little expenditures gets away with large sums. But few seem to know that the rule is one that works both ways. If a dime spent here and a dollar spent there soon make a large hole in a man's income, so do dimes and dollars laid away soon become a visible and a respectable accumulation. In this country any man can make himself independent or keep himself under the harrow for life, according as he wastes or spends his change.
