Hon. James L. Pugh is spending this week in Pittsburgh.

Lawyer A. J. Colborn, Jr., of Scranton and Mr. George Beall of Frostburg, Md., are the guests of the former's parents.

Mrs. John B. Hill, of Shanksville, and Mrs. Jacob Weigle and her son Leonard, of Coleman, are visiting friends and relatives in Johnstown.

Mr. Joseph Warren Scull, of the clerical department at Carnegie's Homestead Mills, Pittsburgh, spent Sunday and Monday with friends in Somerset.

Candidates for Associate Judge are looming up. We have already heard the names of six gentlemen mentioned who will enter the lists at the Republican primary election in June.

Nothing like the drouth of the present spring has ever been known in this county. Farmers complain that it is to dry too plow, plant potatoes and corn and that the grass is all burning up.

Miss Lizzie Parker, who has had charge of the Western Union Telegraph office at Hollidaysburg for a number of years is paying a visit to her mother, Mrs. E. H. Parker, of this place.

The Democratic primary election in Cambria county will be held on the first Saturday in June, and the three candidates for Judge of the Courts will make the fur fly from now till then.

The entertainment to be given in the Opera House Saturday evening, under the auspices of Lavansville and Somerset orders J. O. U. A. M., promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the year.

Principal Grant Kendall, of the borough schools, who has been confined to his room in the Somerset House with grippe and a threatened attack of diphtheria, resumed his duties Monday morning.

R. P. Cummins Post G. A. R. has appointed a committee to arrange a programme for Memorial Day. Rev. J. S. Harkey, who is a member of the Grand Army, has been selected to deliver the oration.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Hay celebrated the twenty-sixth anniversary of their marriage at the home of their only child, Mrs. Joseph Nutt, in Uniontown on Sunday 10th inst. Mr. Hay returned Monday.

Mrs Geo. C. Lichty and daughter Tillie left for Waterloo, Iowa, Thursday morning, where they expect to remain the greater part of the summer visiting Mrs. Lichty's two boys, who are residents of that city.

William A. Griffith, Esq., a well-known and prominent citizen of Jenner township, died Sunday morning, at an advanced age. He was greatly respected by his neighbors and acquaintances for his sterling worth and Christian character.

Miss Lilian Burkhart, of Pittsburgh, who enjoys a wide reputation as an elocutionist, will be assisted by local talent in giving an entertainment in the Opera House Saturday evening next, for the benefit of Somerset and Lavansville Councils Jr. O. U. A. M.

A Ligonier correspondent of the Greensburg Tribune says old man Nicely has sold his farm for a sum between $10,000 and 12,000, and that it is one of the finest farms and best located in the Ligonier Valley. He doesn't say how many acres it contains or what buildings are on it.

District Attorney F. J. O'Connor is having a fine residence erected on his lot on Stonycreek street, just back of Dr. Swan's. This is said by Mr. O'Connor's friends to indicate that he is contemplating taking a step which will take him out of the ranks of bachelorhood.—Johnstown Herald.

Cashier Parker, of the first National Bank, sold his handsome trotting mare to George Wilson, Esq., a well-known Pittsburgh attorney, Friday. Mr. Parker refuses to tell the amount he received for her, but there is no doubt that it was large enough to "open the eyes" of local stock dealers.

Mr. Thomas H. Levitte, passenger brakeman on the Somerset & Cambria Branch, who has been confined to his room in Rockwood for some time, died on Wednesday morning of heart failure. Deceased was a member of the Mystic Chain of Stoyestown, the B. & O. Relief, and the Royal Arcanum.

Mr. Mahlon Schrock left for Pottsville Monday morning, where he will attend the Grand Castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, as a representative of Somerset Castle. Mr. Schrock will take advantage of his holiday from business, and will visit New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore, before returning.

There are parties from abroad endeavoring to get farmers in this county, Somerset and other counties adjoining to take stock in two horses purporting to be imported Clydesdale horses from Scotland, and representing them to be worth $2,500 each. Farmers beware. There is a very strong probability that they will be taken in if they invest.—Jamestown Tribune.

Mr. Robert R. Roberts and family, who left this place six months ago and since then have been residents of Wellington, Kansas, returned to Somerset Saturday. Mrs. Roberts' health has been greatly improved by her visit to the west. It is rumored that Mr. Roberts will enter into a partnership with Henry Heffley in the dry-goods and clothing business.

J. G. Ogle, Esq., his sister, Mrs. F. J. Kooser, and their mother, Mrs. Harriet Ogle, left for Columbus, Ohio, Tuesday evening, whither they go to see their brother and son, Lieut. Alex Ogle, U. S. A., instructor of Military Tactics at the Ohio State University. Lieut. Ogle is in poor health and his physicians have ordered him to southern California, hoping that a six months' sojourn in that mild climate will permanently benefit him.

It is important for young women contemplating marriage with a veteran for pension purposes to note that a law has been passed on the subject. By the provision of the disability act, marriages contracted after last June do not entitle the widows thereof to draw a pension. This is rather rough on the old soldiers, whose chances of getting a young wife are largely reduced, but it will save our posterity several generations hence from such a pension roll as we are carrying, on which are the names of twenty three Revolutionary widows, over one hundred years after the close of that war.

Harry Gilbert, eldest son of policeman Gilbert, of this borough, was placed under arrest by a deputy sheriff from Westmoreland county Friday afternoon and taken to Greensburg to answer a charge of murder. Harry was a member of the Sheriff's posse which fired into the ranks of the strikers with such deadly effect at the Morewood mines, near Mt. Pleasant, some three weeks ago. He came to his home in this place the day following and was expecting to be placed under arrest every day. The prosecutions against the sheriff's posse were brought by the strikers. It is not probable that any of the officers will be convicted of the high crime with which they are charged.

Samuel Weller, one of the best known citizens of Somerset township, died at his home two miles north of this place, on Sunday, the 10th inst., in his 75th year. He had been an invalid for four or five years and unable to perform the hard labor required of a farmer. His wife preceded him to the grave only one week. Six children survive. Mr. Weller had lived on the farm where he died for more than fifty years, having removed there from Summit township shortly after his marriage. He was a consistent member of the Evangelical Association, and was highly esteemed by all of his neighbors for his integrity and fair-dealing. The funeral took place at the Weller church at 11 o'clock on Tuesday, the services being conducted by Rev. Domer, of the Evangelical Association.

The dwelling and barn of Esquire Elijah King, in Upper Turkeyfoot township, were entirely consumed by fire Friday afternoon. The family were all away from home at the time, and the fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. Mr. King and his brother were spending the day fishing for trout in the clear waters of Laurel Hill creek, near by, and had gone to the house and eaten a lunch at noon. There was no fire in the house at that hour. They discovered the fire shortly after 2 o'clock and too late to check its progress. A stable belonging to Mr. King's brother William, located a short distance from the barn, and in which from twenty to thirty tons of hay were stored, was also eaten up by the flames. A covered bridge crossing Laurel Hill creek, twenty rods from the house, was also ignited by the flames, but was saved from total destruction. Mr. King's loss is estimated at $2,500. He had a small insurance.

A destructive forest fire is now raging near Somerset and is trending in an easterly direction, sweeping all before it. Much valuable timber has been burned, thousands of acres having been licked clean. The farmers are busy fighting the flames, but many fences, houses and barns are threatened. The fire was started by a spark from a locomotive of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad falling among some dry leaves. The loss will already amount to thousands of dollars. The present fire is the most destructive one that has ever occurred in Somerset county. For miles there is desolation on every hand. In the vicinity of Bear's Rock, seven miles from Somerset, every tree and plant has been consumed. Forest fires are also raging in the vicinity of Scalp Level and in Paint and Ogle townships. It is not known how these fires started.—Johnstown Herald.

The writer of the above must have eyes of "double million magnifying power," to enable him to see a fire of such magnitude where no fire of any consequence exists.

The home of Daniel Stahl, in Milford township, was burned to the ground Friday night, with all of its contents. Mr. Stahl was away from home, and his wife and hired man did not discover the flames until it was too late to save any of the household effects. In fact, had it not been for the remarkable intelligence of the farm dog, the hired man would certainly have perished in the flames. He was sleeping soundly in a room above the kitchen, where the fire originated, and was only aroused by the dog jumping against his bedroom door and barking loudly. When finally aroused, he had barely time to make his escape through a window, and was compelled to leave the faithful dog to roast in the burning building. The fire is supposed to have resulted from a defective flue. The house was old and of very little value. It was fully covered by insurance. The loss of the household goods is considerable, everything being new. Mr. Stahl is a son of Wm. H. Stahl, of Somerset township.

Quite a stir of excitement was created among the crowd around the public square Saturday afternoon, when Policeman Gilbert undertook to "take in" two young gentlemen from the country, who evidently imagined they were "boozed" after drinking a glass of beer. The sidewalk was entirely too narrow for the young fellows, and they were jostling into ladies and gentlemen indiscriminately when the policeman collared the taller of the two and asked a bystander to take charge of the other. The bystander was too slow for the limber-legged youth, however, and before he could get to him the beer had left his legs, and kicking up the dust in the roadway, he disappeared down Turkeyfoot street, amid the shouts of the crowd. Persoli landed his prisoner in the lockup as speedily as possible, and a half hour afterwards came marching through the streets with his now sobered and frightened companion in tow. Both prisoners were kept in the "cooler" over night, and were brought before Burgess Weifley on Sunday morning, when they were fined and dismissed.

The prosecutions brought by Thomas H. Greevy, of Altoona, against Capt. Wm. H. Sanner, James M. Cover and S. S. Forney, Esqs., of this couty, came to grief in the United States Court at Pittsburgh last week. The bill against Capt. Sanner was ignored by the Grand Jury, and the bills against the other two gentlemen were quashed by the Court before a jury was called. The defendants were charged with refusing to allow the ballot boxes of which they were the custodians to be raped by Mr. Greevy's commissioner in the Greevy-Scull Congressional contest. The defendants were represented by F. J. Kooser and John R. Scott, Esqs., of Somerset, and Ed B. Scull, Esq., of Pittsburgh. Mr. Greevy, A. V. Dively, Esq. of Altoona, and W. J. Brennan, Esq., of Pittsburgh, appeared for the prosecution. By the time the prosecutor is entirely through with these gentlemen, whom he caused to be arrested, he may conclude that there is not as much fun to be derived from this sort of business as he anticipated when he instituted these groundless prosecutions.

The commencement exercises of the borough public schools will be held in the Opera House on Tuesday evening, the 26th inst. The exercises will consist of orations and essays by the graduating class. Ex-principal of the borough schools, J. J. Miller, Esq., of Pittsburgh, will deliver an address. Music will be furnished by an orchestra from Pittsburgh. The graduating class comprises the following young ladies and gentlemen: Misses Hallie Ogle, Lizzie Sampsell, Lulu Walker, Mary Tayman, and Masters John Miller and Orlo Knepper. The final examinations were conducted last Friday by County Superintendent Berkey and J. C. Speicher, and were much more rigid than in former years, the class having been instructed in studies of a higher and more advanced grade. All of the graduates passed the examination with flying colors. Miss Ogle, who has stood at the head of her class throughout the term, received the highest marks and was declared the valedictorian. In speaking of this young lady Principal Kendall says, "she has the brightest, clearest and most analytical mind I have ever come in contact with in my experience as a common school teacher."

Mr Walter Heffley, of Somerset township, returned Monday Morning from Cleveland, Ohio, where he had been in attendance at the great Emery & Fasig's combination sale of horses. 350 thoroughbred horses were sold, at prices ranging from $200 to $30,000. Mr. Heffley purchased four animals and brought them home with him. The Glade House stable was crowded all day Monday by lovers of horseflesh, who were loud in their praises of his selections. The first of Mr. Heffley's purchases is "Star Girl," a standard bred Hambletonian, brown mare, consigned by John A. Logan, Jr.'s Oriole Farm, Cleveland, Ohio. She is as handsome a brood mare as was ever seen in this county. A yearling colt of hers was sold at the Cleveland sale for $300. Mr. Heffley also bought "Jennie C," a standard and registered bay mare, three years old. She is pretty as a picture, and if she does not prove a fast trotter he will be woefully disappointed. His other two purchases are thoroughbred horse colts. A one-year-old, sired by Old Nickle Plate, with Hambletonian and Clay blood on the side of his dam. His brother, Valley Boy, a two-year-old, has shown quarters in 42 seconds and will no doubt be made standard this season. "Reveille," a two-year-old bay, sired by Reveille, 2:21¼. Both horses are beauties, and breeders of trotting horses in the county will doubtless appreciate Mr. Heffley's enterprise in securing thoroughbred stock for his stud.

Report of Text-book Committee.

A synopsis of the proceedings of the Committee appointed to recommend Text-books for Somerset County, follows:

In pursuance of the action taken by the Director's Convention, held at Somerset on March 10th and 11th, the committee, consisting of D. Compton, J. J. Darr, I. S. Snyder, Dr. S. S. Good, and Dr. C. P. Lenhart, directors, J. C. Speicher, E. E. Pritts, LeRoy McClintock, G. M. Baker and C. F. Livengood, teachers, and County Superintendent J. M. Berkey, Chairman of the Committee ex officio, met at the Rockwood House, Rockwood, on Saturday, May 9, 1891, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

After a careful consideration of the merits of the text-books presented, and the needs of the County, the following books were recommended:

Modern Speller; Swinton's Readers; Brooks' Arithmetic; Butler's Geographies; Reed & Kellogg's Grammars; Barnes' Histories; Steele's Physiologies; Spencerian Copy-books, large series; Columbian Copy-book, primary series.

The above-named books are the same as those recommended by the committee three years ago, except the readers, in which case Swinton's readers take the place of Appleton's.

Hill's Rhetoric, Groesbeck's Book-keeping, and Sharpless & Phillips' Natural Philosophy were also recommended for use in the grade and normal schools of the county.

A full report of the Committee will be published later.

Big Profit on Cattle.

Cattle feeding has been more profitable in Lancaster county during the past year than for a long time. This is also the case in adjoining counties. John Small has been an extensive feeder for some years on his several farms in York county. The 41 head on his Springgarden township Elmswood farm, was bought October 25, 1890, at $4 per 100 pounds, the average weight of which was 1177 pounds, making a total of 48,280 pounds costing at $4 a total of $1931.21.

There was fed 1281 bushels of corn, 70 pounds to the bushel, in cob at the mill. At 60 cents a bushel the corn cost $762.60; oil meal, three tons, $66; wheat bran, two tons, $57. Total cost of cattle and feed, $2,862.80.

These forty-one head of cattle were sold April 21, 1891. Their average weight was 1,553½ pounds; total weight, 63,750 pounds. At $5.60 per 100 pounds, the cattle brought when sold $3,580; cost when bought, $2,862.80. Profit over total cost, $707.20.

The full price realized would be $1.15½ for the corn fed. The average weight put on these cattle was 3771 pounds in about six months.

New Millinery Goods.

I have just received from the Eastern cities a large variety of the new styles of Hats and Bonnets, and a complete line of Ribbons and Flowers, Tips, &c., for trimming. These goods are handsome and cheap, and it will be to the advantage of all to examine my large stock.

The Dunkard Gathering.

Preparations for the great national annual meeting of the German Baptist Brethren (commonly known as Dunkards) in Hagerstown during this month, are progressing rapidly. Numerous buildings are being erected, the largest of which is the tabernacle, which will have a seating capacity of 5,000. In the tabernacle all the meetings and discussions of the convention will be held, and a reserved space is being erected especially for newspaper reporters. This meeting will undoubtedly be the largest gathering Hagerstown has ever experienced, as the indications are that 25,000 people will be in attendance.

Fatal Accident.

A strange and fatal accident happened to Mr. Jacob M. Carpenter, a merchant at Bard on Monday. He was running after some cattle when he came in contact with the sharp point of a scantling that was lying on a load of lumber. He was struck in the stomach, and though the injury was painful it was not thought to be serious. Mr. Carpenter was hurt internally, however, and he died on Tuesday. He was about forty years of age and leaves a widow and four children.—Bedford Gazette.

CHAS. H. FISHER.

Cold Snaps of Other Years.

From the Johnstown Tribune.

In the past sixty years there have been three entire failures of the fruit crop in western Pennsylvania. On May 12, 1834, snow fell sufficient to cover the ground, followed by a freeze, hard enough to kill both leaves and fruit on the trees.

The great frost of June 5, 1840, is ever memorable. The mercury went down to 20°, and the ground was frozen hard. Of course everything but the grass was killed.

The unprecedentedly mild winter of 1890 advanced all trees and shrubbery throughout the country, so that the freeze of March 18, 1890, destroyed all the fruit, and that season has gone down to history as the "scarce year."

The Pensioning of School Teachers.

From Harper's Weekly.

That teachers are now generally well paid especially the women, who are the larger part cannot be truthfully said. They must maintain a certain standard of living, and to do this and save enough for decent support when they retire is impossible. The result is that teaching is very generally regarded as a temporary make-shift, not as a profession. In the public school, teaching is an employment rather than a profession. A clever lawyer or physician constantly enlarges his practice and his emoluments. How can a clever public school teacher do that? Only by leaving the public school. The movement for pensions of teachers will do much if it leads to more liberal compensation.

PARKER & PARKER'S

FARMERS,

TAKE NOTICE.

I have leased the large warehouse of Peter Fink, at the B. & O. Depot, in Somerset, for 5 years. Also, warerooms at Berlin and Coleman. There I will keep on hand during the seasons, for delivery and re-shipment to all points every grade of manufactured by the well-known

Susquehanna Fertilizer Co.,

of Canton, Baltimore, Md. I have spent 5 years among you, while these goods have been used in for 8 years, having been introduced by Hon. O. P. Shaver. Owing to the large number of my patrons, whom I thank heartily, my agents and myself may be unable to call to see you all personally, so I take advantage of your excellent paper to call attention to the merits of our Fertilizers, and beg leave to say S. B. Yoder, of Pugh, Somerset County, Pa., and myself, have solicited orders for the fall crop of 90—100 tons, notwithstanding the strong competition.

Peter Fink, of Somerset, who resides near the depot, is acting as delivery agent for me. By addressing or calling on him, you can learn our prices. We can re-ship to any local point, on but would prefer at all times to have your orders as far in advance of immediate wants as practical, as it enables us to get our goods to you in better mechanical condition. In behalf of the Susquehanna Fertilizer Company, I am

VERY RESPECTFULLY,

A. J. KOSER.
