 Under the sentence recently imposed by the court at Uniontown were the two following: John H. White, sentenced to 12 months for selling a counterfeit, was sent to jail for ten months, while Samuel Lee, who stole a cow for $400 from John H. Clark, was sent only three months to jail.
 For choice family groceries, provisions, and feed go to Mahon School.
 The people of Indiana county that keep their beer and whisky shipped into the county to minors and persons of intemperate habits is a violation of the law, and that the shipper should be returned.
 Mrs. George F. Bar and her daughter, Miss Helen, spent Saturday and Sunday in this place, staying with their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bar sail for Europe on the fourth of July, and will spend three months in traveling through Norway and Sweden, "the land of the midnight sun."
 The pupils of the Lutheran Sunday school celebrated Children's Day Sunday evening. The large auditorium was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants and was crowded to its full capacity by appreciative friends. The program had been carefully arranged and the performers acquitted themselves creditably.
 The following teachers have been selected for the borough schools for the coming term: Principal, E. E. Pritz; Assistant Principal, E. S. Frause, who will teach in room No. 5, old building; No. 1, Ella K. Vogel; No. 2, Cora Knapp; No. 3, Chas. F. Uhl, Jr.; No. 4, Daisy Pyle; No. 5, Kate Snyder; No. 6, Emma Pike; No. 7, Kate Dunham; No. 8, Mrs. Mary Connolly.
 "Uncle Joe" Stutzman, the well known popular educator, whose name has been household words throughout this county for more than half a century, has returned to Somerset after spending two years in Kansas City. He is nursing a very sore hand at present, having injured it while helping to stretch a barbed wire fence around a plot of ground at that flourishing Missouri city.
 Mr. Jacob I. Kaufman, of Conemaugh township, has been indicted for the crime of making and having in his corn, millions of them attacking the stalk near the top, generally, but sometimes getting up near the top, and cutting it off as clean as if done with a knife. Mr. Kaufman says they probably do not injure his crop, but that his neighbors will not be so fortunate, as they are not so careful to guard their corn from the pest.
 John Eisenhour, of Meyersdale, was lodged in jail last Wednesday to await trial on a charge of forgery, on information of John H. Sliker. Sliker called a check for $15.00, for the pleasure purveyor, to have been drawn by W. T. Hobbittell. When Mr. Sliker presented the check at the bank Cashier Philson refused to honor it, not believing the signature to be genuine, and when it was shown to Mr. Hobbittell, he pronounced it a clumsy forgery. Eisenhour is said to have frankly admitted the forgery when placed under arrest.
 A flash of light and a loud report caused the people of Stoyestown to leave their homes and rush into the streets on Wednesday, as it was thought an explosion had taken place somewhere in the vicinity. It was found to have been caused by lightning, which had descended from a dark sky, and only a few small fleecy clouds were to be seen anywhere. The lightning struck the brick house of David Clark, running down the water spout. The roof, cornice and porch were badly damaged, and some plaster loosened.—Johnston Democrat.
 At a regular meeting of Iroquois Council No. 125, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Somerset, Pa., held June 25, 1891, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: C. Frank J. Meyer; V. C. Frank Forester; A. S. W. B. Bremer; R. S. Josiah Swank; S. John W. Wought; Treas., Geo. S. Harlan; Cash., Geo. W. Benford, Jr.; Warden, Frank Dunham; J. S. R. Cooper; O. S. Joseph Johnson; Trustees, A. Lambert, H. F. Knapp; E. R. Meyer; Representatives to State Council, N. B. McGriff.
 Most gratifying reports have been received from all sections of the county in regard to the number of people who expect to visit Somerset on the 4th for the purpose of assisting the Junior American Mechanics' celebration. As before announced, elaborate preparations have been made for their reception and entertainment. From now until Saturday Troop-corn will leave nothing undone in the way of decorating the town in holiday attire, and it is expected that it will present the finest appearance on this occasion to its history. Not less than three thousand people are expected from the north of the county, and as many more are looked for from other sections. The celebration promises to be a great success, and everybody who can afford to do so should come to town Saturday.
 Last Saturday Landlord Crouse, of South Fork, Cambria county, who is a Democrat and a warm supporter of Lincoln for Judge, determined to erect a statue in front of his hestery in honor of his favorite. A trim stick of hickory was procured, a hole dug for its reception and a large crowd of the faithful collected to assist in the raising. When the pole was finally hoisted, hammer and pick went to work on the hickory, and by the aid of the Board, J. R. Hill, with the order for his job from the secretary, Elwell refused to sign it because Woolsey had not signed the full term. Woolsey contended that he had had no time to sign, but Elwell said that Woolsey had no authority to hire teachers for Perry township as that was the business of the school board, and he still refused to sign the order. The board then made a tender of his pay to Woolsey, minus the one week's wages, but he refused to accept that money, and brought suit against the board before Justice Schenk. At the hearing the board presented a letter from Deputy State Superintendent John Q. Stewart, to whom the case had been referred and who said the board had done right in refusing to pay Woolsey for the week he did not teach, on the ground that a teacher had no authority to employ a substitute. In order to make their annual report to the State Department and receive the township appropriation, the board had employed C. E. Elwell to teach the extra week after Woolsey quit. With that presentation of the case, the board left the matter to Justice Schenk, who took the papers and reserved his decision.—Chandeleur Courier.

The Water Question.

As is usual at this season of the year, the question of water works for Stoyestown is being very generally agitated. A meeting of business men and property owners was held in Moore, Croft & Ruppel's place Thursday evening for the purpose of discussing the advisability and feasibility of this project, which has been taken up, talked over and dropped periodically for the last decade. The old straw was all threshed over Thursday evening, in a rather desultory manner, it is true, the evening being very warm, and the average citizen in attendance at the meeting left it thoroughly satisfied with the demonstration of public spirit he had made and inwardly flattering himself that he had sustained his reputation in this respect as to little inconvenience and cost.
 The meeting took one step in advance of the previous ones, however, in that it adopted, unanimously, a resolution requesting the borough authorities to employ a capable engineer to make an examination of the various streams and springs in the surrounding country and ascertain whether a sufficient amount of water to supply the wants of the town can be obtained from the same, the expense of gathering this information to be paid from the funds of the borough. The meeting adjourned after spending several weeks at the residence of Mrs. Nevel's mother, Mrs. Henry Brubaker.
 Miss Dahl, daughter of John M. Holder, born last Friday evening, Tuesday morning, and will spend the summer visiting relatives. She was accompanied by her cousin, who recently graduated from Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and who is a resident of Lincoln.
 Mrs. George F. Bar and her daughter, Miss Helen, spent Saturday and Sunday in this place, staying with their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bar sail for Europe on the fourth of July, and will spend three months in traveling through Norway and Sweden, "the land of the midnight sun."

Ohio Pyle's Mytery.

Ohio Pyle has a sensation that is stirring the waters of this village into a ferment of excitement. Last April an unknown man was found one mile below that place with his throat cut from ear to ear. His name was afterward ascertained to be Patrick Warrant, of Beaver county, a highly educated man, who has been taken, talked over and dropped periodically for the last decade. The old straw was all threshed over Thursday evening, in a rather desultory manner, it is true, the evening being very warm, and the average citizen in attendance at the meeting left it thoroughly satisfied with the demonstration of public spirit he had made and inwardly flattering himself that he had sustained his reputation in this respect as to little inconvenience and cost.

Mt. Moriah Items.

Mrs. Daniel Smith, who has been falling in health for several years, is quite feeble. She is an aged lady bordering on four-score years and ten.
 Our butcher, Ed Mottler, who has been suffering with an injured spine the past two months, is just able to get around and will be unable to resume work for a month or two to come.
 Our apostle or bee man, say that this is the best season for bees, they have had in the past eight years.
 The Reformed congregation of this place, who have been without a preacher for four or five months, have secured a new pastor, Rev. S. M. Baker. The boys say he is a big preacher, as he weighs in the neighborhood of 250 pounds.
 All the crops make a very fine appearance. What will turn out extra fine, unless something unexpected should happen it. The same is true of rye and corn. The fruit crop promises better than for four years.
 H. D. Lehr raised his new barn on the 4th. Good judges pronounce it one of the best frames in the county. Mr. Lehr is a man of good judgment and fully shows it in building a barn on his lot. He is otherwise good barns have been spoiled by poor shingles. Philson Mower, of Sipewill, had charge of the carpenter work. There were 100 men and 100 women and girls at the dinner table. The old saying, "many cooks spoil the broth" failed here, or it takes a blamed big lot to make too many; while the other adage that "the best thing about a barn raising is the dinner," certainly held good on this occasion. The dinner was good enough for the gods to feast on.
 M. E. Schick carried a full and complete line of Building Papers, Wall Paper and Window Shades. The new Vermin and Water-proof paper should be put under the siding of all dwellings; it is rat proof, water proof, and a non conductor of cold. The use of paper on both sides of plaster is a novelty in the building trade. The old paper is cheaper than plaster, call and see it. Our stock of Wall Paper and Window Shades is the largest in the county. Fourth room, Bar's Block, Somerset, Pa.
 On Monday, July 6th, at 10 o'clock, A. M. at St. Paul's congregation of the New Centerville charge. Neighboring ministers are invited to be present.
 Wanted.
 Agent for Hammond Type-writer. A good chance for an active man. Address Thomas F. Hammond, 116 south 6th St. Philadelphia.
