Report of County Superintendent J. M. Berkey to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, for the Year Ending June 1, 1891.

Educationally, the last year has been a prosperous and progressive one for the county. Compared with the record of previous years, our teachers us a class have held a higher grade of scholarship, and the work | resolved that the next reunion of the Regiin the schools has been marked by greater efficiency and zeal. Unfortunately for the schools, however, we can hold many of the most competent and successful but a very few years or until they have learned how to teach, when they are "called" to fill more remunerative positions elsewhere. Many good sitions in other counties and states are filled every year by those who took their first lessons in teaching among the " hills of Somerset." They can afford to go, but we cannot afford to lose them; and we confidently hope that in the near future our people, through their representatives, the directors, will inaugurate a more liberal, yet nomic, policy which shall retain and utilize all the teaching talent which our county develops. During the last year, seven new and good school houses were built, twenty-two rooms supplied with improved furniture and a large number of schools furnished with apparatus along the line of charts, maps, dictionaries ble, and the general criticism is that the con- etc. Paint township supplied some of the text-books from the district funds.
