Subject to the decision of the District Conference.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE,
NOAH BIESECKER, of Quemahoning Twp.

FOR JURY COMMISSIONER,
DANIEL W. SAYLOR, of Somerset Twp.

FOR POOR HOUSE DIRECTOR,
JOSEPH L. MILLER, of Somerset Twp.

REMEMBER that it is our Republican Administration which has opened a market in Germany worth $12,000,000 to our American producers of pork.

THE Democratic State platform, boiled down, amounts to this: John Bardsley turned thief: John Bardsley was a Republican. Ergo—no Republican can be trusted.

CONGRESS is to be asked to loan the Chicago exposition $5,000,000, or possibly two millions more may be needed. It is doubtful if the next Congress will see its way clear to do this.

THE Democratic papers boast that Wright and Tilden are honest and capable men. Will they dare assert that Gregg and Morrison are not equally honest and capable? Then why should not Republicans stand by their own candidates?

THE Democrats have pitted a rich corporation lawyer and a make-believe farmer, who tills the soil in the State Department, against the two gallant soldiers nominated by the Republicans for Auditor General and State Treasurer. Choose ye!

MINISTER WILLIAM WALTER PHELPS has at last succeeded in having the German decree against the importation of American pork revoked. This will immensely enlarge the foreign market for this article and will largely inure to the benefit of American farmers and pork packers.

CITY TREASURER WRIGHT says the mercantile appraisers of Philadelphia are thieves. The mercantile appraisers say that City Treasurer Wright lies. It is now City Treasurer Wright's turn. Let him prosecute criminally and prove his case. If he does not, the public will take little stock in his statement.

WRIGHT, the Democratic nominee for Auditor General, is the champion modest man of the State. In fact, Wright is a corker. His speech accepting the nomination can be summarized as follows: There is not an honest man within the limits of the Republican party! Behold in me an honest man! Therefore, give me your votes, my sweet fellow citizens.

IN his speech of acceptance candidate Wright said: "The issue has now passed far beyond the question of the personal respectability of candidates." Very well; as Wright's only claim is one of personal respectability, he can step down. His own declaration that we have passed beyond that question settles his candidacy.

AFTER firing off twenty-one resolutions, principally devoted to the vilification of Republicans and Republican State officials, the Democratic State Convention in its twenty-first and last resolve feebly squeaked forth a declaration that it favors a Constitutional Convention only for the protection of the secresy of the ballot and to secure reform in registration. The handful of Democrats in the State who, under the lead of Chauncey F. Black, have been demanding a Constitutional Convention, have been thrown this little sop. Both factions know that there is no chance of a convention being called, and if one was convened, its action could not be limited by this barren resolution. We will never hear this little mouse squeak again.

WELL, the Democratic State Convention is over, and a ticket composed of Robert E. Wright, of Lehigh county, for Auditor General, and A. L. Tilden, of Erie county, for State Treasurer, has been placed in the field. The hand of the "Boss" was apparent, before and throughout the sessions of the convention. Secretary of the Commonwealth Harrity selected the candidates, run the machine and deftly controlled the Convention from its inception to its close. The duties of the delegates were simply perfunctory; they affirmed the dictates of the "Boss," and peace reigned at Harrisburg. Ancient quarrels and jealousies were quashed; men who had previously threatened what they were going to do, took their orders; aspiring candidates meekly submitted to the boss's collar, and enforced harmony reigned, where, the day before, threatenings and ill blood prevailed. Boss Harrity is entitled to high encomiums for the masterly skill displayed in running his machine. Another evidence of the Boss's skill was in his manipulation of the platform, previously prepared, and put through without submitting to a change, even to the dotting of an i or the crossing of a t. As announced in advance, it ignores all National issues, and attempts to make an issue of the thefts of John Bardsley, whose crimes it charges upon the Republican party, and the responsibility for which it alleges the Republican State officials are amenable. Apparently these very fresh politicians, these over-righteous members of a party noted for its corruptions, had never heard of Swartwout, or Boss Tweed, or the score of defaulting Democratic State Treasurers throughout the country, and they were in blissful ignorance of the fact that it was professed "reformers" like themselves that forced the nomination of "Honest John Bardsley" upon the Republicans of Philadelphia. Surely, no feebler or more ridiculous attempt was ever made to create a State issue out of the thefts of one individual—summarily prosecuted, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary by Republican authorities—and hold the majority of the citizens of the Commonwealth responsible for it. This "stop, thief!" cry, which embraces the sum and substance of this Democratic platform, is the merest balderdash as a State issue. No one attempts to palliate or defend the crimes for which Philadelphia's Treasurer is now suffering punishment. It is a mere bald attempt to throw dust in the eyes of the public and thus distract attention from the cowardly evasion of the paramount issues of the day. The all-important question of protection to American industry, through which and by which the thousands of toilers in the shops and on the farms of Pennsylvania are enabled to live and thrive; the proposed debasement, if not the destruction, of our currency, by dumping into the National Treasury the product of the silver mines of the world, for the enrichment of a few mine owners and speculators; these and similar issues of vast importance to our people are all dodged and set aside, because, forsooth, John Bardsley, a once honored and trusted Republican, fell from his high estate and turned thief! As well denounce the teachings of christianity, and overthrow the churches throughout the world, because an occasional wolf in sheep's clothing creeps in among the faithful and disgraces himself—not the church nor its doctrines—by giving the lie to his previous life and professions.

The sturdy Republicans of the Keystone State are not babes nor sucklings, and this brazen and mendacious attempt to fasten upon the entire party a crime for which a professed member of their faith is "doing time," is an insult so gross that it will be resented by every honest and self-respecting member of the party. Too cowardly to face the issues that their party leaders have raised, the representatives of the Democratic party, in convention assembled, attempted to sneak away from them by assuming that all the honesty and manly integrity in the State is confined within the narrow limits of their party. The people will file their answer in November next.

WHILE the present treasurer of the City of Philadelphia (an appointee of Governor Pattison) was bending all his energies to the discovery of some alleged frauds or thefts committed by his predecessor (Bardsley), wherewith to arraign the Republican party of the State, and while the leaders of the Democratic party were concocting their platform at Harrisburg, holding the Republican party responsible for Bardsley's crimes, like a clap of thunder from a clear sky came the detection of one of the Democratic treasurer's immaculate employes, who had taken a bribe and sworn to a false return, exonerating a butcher from a tax he was amply able to pay. Never was an engineer so completely "hoist by his own petard" as were the concoctors of the dirty campaign platform of the Harrisburgh Convention. If "sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," then the Democracy of Pennsylvania are responsible for the villainy and theft of their miserable partisan, detected with the stolen money in his purse. Common sense should have taught the Democratic leaders that theft is a personal crime, confined to no party, and common honesty should have induced them to charge guilt on the perpetrator of crime, and not on a body of men with whom he was in sympathy politically. A more pitiable gang of discomfited conspirators was never seen than are at present the leaders of the Pennsylvania Democracy.

American Grain for Export.

From the Chicago Inter Ocean.

The reports from the foreign grain fields continue to be discouraging. The latest intelligence from England is to the effect that the farmers are in despair and that the price of flour is going up. The excessive rain seems to be drenching the English farms and cutting off the last hope of good crops. In no foreign country is there any improvement in the crop outlook.

Already the exportation of American grain is on the increase. The value of the exports of domestic breadstuffs from this country shows the effect of an enlarged European demand. The value of the breadstuffs exported in July, 1890, was $10,733,669, and in July this year, $16,370,291, an increase of more than one-third. The increase of the entire half of the last fiscal year was less that of last month. The details, stated in quantity, rather than value, are still more notable. The wheat exported in July, 1890, was 4,360,554 bushels, and in July, 1891, 9,41,775, showing an increase of more than 100 per cent. The price per bushel was not so very different—a little less than a dollar last year and a little more than a dollar this year. The greatest change in price was in corn. The exports of July, '90, were 6,662,044 bushels, and 3,055,418 in '91, a falling off of more than one-half in quantity, but the figures for values are, July, '90, $2,976,137; July, '91, $2,052,401. There is every prospect that for the fiscal year as a whole the prices of '91 and quantities of '90 will combine.

The rye exportation during the period named was insignificant. Ordinarily this country exports but very little rye, about $1,300,000 last year. The highest mark ever reached was less than five millions. But this year will be different. The largest rye crop ever raised in this country was in 1882, 29,060,037 bushels. The yield of this year is estimated at something over 13 millions of bushels. Belgium and Germany led last year in the consumption of our rye, followed by Scotland, England, and Canada in the order observed. More than half of the rye of commerce is produced ordinarily by Russia. The total average yield of the rye-producing countries is 1,274,800,000 bushels, of which Russia furnishes 692,800,000 bushels. Evidently, in the face of the Russian ukase against exporting rye, the people of the rest of continental Europe who have depended so largely upon Russia for the raw material of their "black bread" will have to conquer their prejudice against corn as breadstuff, and be thankful that a product as good is so abundant.

Hundreds of Homes Wiped Out.

THE DALLES, Ore., Sept. 3.—As a result of yesterday's disastrous fire about one-third of the city is in ashes and not less than one thousand people are homeless. Eighteen blocks are totally consumed. The Vogt block, Opera House, Methodist, Baptist and Congregationalist churches, a number of business houses, and between 500 and 600 dwellings are but a mass of ruins. Had the high wind continued which prevailed during the early stage of the conflagration the entire city would have been destroyed.

The Cosmopolitan and Umatilla Houses were saved, and these two hotels furnished shelter last night for hundreds whom the fire rendered homeless. Others found lodging in houses of more fortunate neighbors, and others spent the night on the beach. Early yesterday evening the Mayor placed the city under matial law, which prevailed during the entire night. A number of suspicious characters were caught lurking about and were jailed until this morning, when they were ordered to leave the city. Militia and deputy sheriffs were withdrawn early to-day. At 6 o'clock to-night the total loss is placed at over $600,000. It is thought, however, that these figures will be increased. The insurance, as near as can be ascertained, is about $275,000.

WRIGHT AND TILDEN

Nominated by the Democratic State Convention.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 3.—Promptly at 10:30 o'clock Chairman Kerr, of the State Committee, called the Democratic Convention to order. At that hour the Harrisburg Opera House was filled with a representative gathering of the Democrats of the State.

Mr. Kerr announced the following as the secretaries of the Convention: Benjamin M. Nead, J. F. Snyder, J. P. J. Seusenderfer, George H. Hoffman, C. B. Kefer, F. E. Bible and J. D. Sella.

The representation in the Convention consists of 461 delegates, made up of one representative for every one thousand votes, or fraction of a thousand, cast for Governor Pattison at the last election.

Herman Kreitz, of Berks, nominated H. Willis Bland, of Reading, for temporary Chairman, and he was unanimously chosen.

The business of the Convention was then begun. Congressman William Mutchler was made Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, and a committee to select delegates-at-large to the Constitutional Convention was appointed. Committees on Credentials and Permanent Organization were also appointed, and the Convention at 12 took a recess until 1:30.

At 2 o'clock the Convention met again. Hon. George W. Skinner, of Fulton county, was made permanent Chairman, and a Vice President was chosen from each Senatorial district.

Mr. Skinner was conducted to the platform and delivered an address, after which the platform was adopted.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot for candidates.

Robert E. Wright, of Lehigh, was nominated for Auditor General, and A. L. Tilden, of Erie, for State Treasurer, after which the Convention adjourned.

The following names were selected for delegates to the Constitutional Convention:

Charles R. Buckalew, Columbia; C. F. Black, York; George A. Jenks, Jefferson; George M. Dallas, Philadelphia; David W. Sellers, Philadelphia; H. W. Scott, Northampton; Robert E. Monaghan, Chester; William S. McLean, Luzerne; Frank M. Vandling, Lackawanna; John Latta, Westmoreland; Roger Sherman, Crawford; William Wiehe, Allegheny; Thomas Lazear, Allegheny; Samuel Griffiths, Mercer; Grant Weidman, Lebanon; George B. Ziegler, Bucks; N. Morgan Root, Montgomery.

Water Instead of Cocaine.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Dr. C. L. Sleich, of this city, has made an interesting discovery. He was conducting experiments with a view to determining how weak a solution of cocaine will prove efficacious as a local anæsthetic in minor surgical operations, when he accidentally discovered that simple water injected under the skin with a syringe renders the flesh at that point insensible to pain. The effect of the water is to create a slight swelling, resembling that caused by the sting of a gnat. The space marked by the swelling remains insensible for some minutes, so that incisions can be made without causing pain.

The method of procedure is very simple. The skin at the point where the injection is to be made is first made asplic, then the point of a syringe filled with distilled water is inserted. The syringe is slowly emptied, and a white blister appears. The size of the swelling will depend on the amount of water used. A half minute after the syringe is withdrawn the space distinctly marked by the blister is insensible, and can be cut into without causing pain. The pain caused by the insertion of the syringe can at once be allayed by spraying with ether.

Of how much practical worth to surgery this discovery will prove cannot yet be determined. Dr. Sleich made use of it in the case of a huge carbuncle in the thigh. After the injection of water the doctor laid the carbuncle open by cross incisions eight centimeters in length, and took out the dead tissue, the patient declaring that the operation gave slight pain. The treatment had no ill effect on the healing of the wound. In the case here mentioned the cuts reunited and healed perfectly.

The Train Held Up.

DEL RIO, Tex., Sept. 2.—Telegraphic advices from Samuel, Texas, a small station on the Southern Pacific railway, located in a thinly settled section, gives a thrilling account of a daring train robbery committed by six masked men at that place shortly after midnight last night. Dynamite and Winchesters were used as a means of intimidating the express messenger and gaining entrance to his car.

All the money and valuables in the safe in the express car were secured by the robbers, as well as several sacks of mail and registered packages from the mail car. The amount of money obtained cannot be ascertained, but it will probably run into tens of thousands.

The train was just pulling out from the station when six masked men who had selected their positions, simultaneously mounted the engine, mail and express cars, two men for each of these positions. Over forty shots were fired, literally perforating the baggage and express cars without injuring anyone, when an unexpected mode of procedure was adopted, that of exploding a dynamite cartridge against a small window in the express car. The express messenger was stunned but he recovered in a few minutes, only to be overpowered by the robbers and made to give up his safe key. The train was delayed several hours.

The robbers took their time in doing the job, and with the utmost coolness and exhibition of great nerve. Horses were in readiness for them, and on completion of their work the bandits rode rapidly away and are now in Mexico, beyond the reach of the authorities. The sheriff of this city was telegraphed to secure a posse and give pursuit. A reward of $250 per capita is offered for the capture of the robbers.

Thought Labor a Disgrace.

WILLIAMSPORT, September 2.—At 6 o'clock this morning two railsmen discovered the dead body of a young man lying on a pile of stones on the bank of the river near the dam. A book in his pocket revealed to them his identity, proving him to be Alfred Travis, a 19-year-old son of Otis J. Travis, living on Park avenue, this city. His clothes were saturated with water.

Shortly after his discovery the Coroner arrived, an inquest was held and it was found that young Travis had committed suicide by taking poison.

It is supposed that he took the poison and went to the river to end his life by drowning before the poison could take effect and that his nerve failed him when he entered the water.

Travis was a well-known young man and was known to have possessed some very peculiar ideas, among which was that to work was a disgrace. Imbued with these feelings he allowed them to work upon his mind to such an extent as caused him to become insane upon that point.

Death of an Aged Woman.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Mary Butcher died last night at the residence of her son, Thomas F. Rogers, aged 104 years. The deceased was born in Middletown township, near New Monmouth, in 1787, and was married three times. Her first husband was named Brown. He was drowned. Her second was Ezekiel Rogers, and her third James Butcher. In her early life the deceased was noted as a singer and was also a writer of some prominence. During the war of 1812 she assisted in making clothes for the soldiers of the American army.

She was connected with the church from the time she was seven years of age, and was noted for her many acts of charity. Her blameless life won her many friends and the entire village is mourning her demise. The village authorities held a meeting tonight, when a resolution requesting all the places of business in the village to close during the time of her funeral, at 1 p. m. on Saturday, and that flags be displayed at half-mast during the day, was passed.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

An Explorer's Great Peril.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—The report that Lieutenant Peary, who left this port two months ago to search for the north coast of Greenland, will be lost, with all his party, unless an expedition is sent to his relief, is confirmed to-day. Dr. W. E. Hughes, who was one of the party which accompanied Lieutenant Peary and his fellow explorers to the point in Greenland from which the exploration is to begin, writes:

"It is the deliberate opinion of all our party—and this opinion is indorsed fully by all the officers of the Kite—that unless a relief expedition be sent to Lieutenant Peary next summer he and his party will never be seen again alive.

"Peary's position I cannot help regarding as a very serious one. Crippled as he is, it will be impossible for him to do any walking this fall before the winter sets in, and it was on this time that he depended for his preliminary reconnoitering and establishing of depots of food. Then no one can predict what will be the condition of his leg next spring, nor what effect the enforced idleness will have on his health. It is not an unheard of thing for a broken leg, even under the best conditions, to refuse to bear its master at the end of eight months. But, granting that the leg is in serviceable condition, two still more serious problems confront him—the food supply and the retreat southward.

"Peary is supposed to have a food supply for 16 months, but, judging from the enormous appetite the Arctic weather engenders and looking over what provisions he has, it is doubtful to me if he has full rations for more than half that time."

It was the intention of Lieutenant Peary to devote this winter to reconnoitering, and to start North next spring. After he was landed at McCormick's Bay, Greenland, 77° 42', north latitude, he broke his leg and this will delay his operations six or eight months. His party consists of five scientists and his wife. The Philadelphia Academy of Sciences supplied the money for the expedition, and this body is looked to to secure Peary's safety.

A Riot at Carrolltown.

EBENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 7.—Riot and bloodshed ran wild in Carrolltown on Saturday evening last. The day being wet, Italians and loguers, to the number of about one hundred and fifty, took the day off from their work, and, filling up with fighting whisky, proceeded to take charge of the town.

They marched through the streets, whooping, swearing, shooting, and fighting. Several of the belligerents were cut with knives, while others were battered with clubs. The Italians finally quarreled among themselves, when one of them ran a stiletto clear through the body of one of his companions.

The knife passed through the man's lung, and he fell prostrate to the ground, where he was permitted to lie until cared for by the inhabitants of the town. The Italians immediately left the town, and the fellow who did the stabbing has left for parts unknown.

An examination of the wounded man developed the fact that his injuries are such that they will in all probability prove fatal. The names of the parties to the affair could not be learned. The injured man has been taken to the Almshouse.

The authorities of the town were powerless to contend with the mob, which had full sway until they supposed one of their number had been kill, when they beat a hasty retreat for their quarters along the line of the new railroad.

Penetrated the Lung.

GREENSBURG, Pa., September 4.—For some time past the boys of Latrobe have been teasing and annoying a little twelve year old Italian named Pasquel Juliano and on Wednesday evening a boy named Willie Gainor aged about 13 years, commenced to abuse him by calling him a vile name, which angered the little fellow and a quarrel ensued. Gainor struck him a blow with his fists, after which the Italian drew from his pocket a knife and plunged it into Gainor's left side, near the region of the heart, inflicting a very dangerous and perhaps fatal wound, as the blade penetrated the lung. Officer Cannon at once arrested Juliano and took him to the lockup, and young Gainor was taken to Dr. Conway's office, where his injuries were dressed. While still living at this hour it is uncertain whether he will get well or not. Young Juliano was released on bail waiting the result of the wound.

More Train Robbers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Two masked men held up the Los Angeles Express near Mosdesto last night.

The robbers compelled Engineer Neff and Fireman Wallace to extinguish the headlight and fill the boiler with water. A conductor fired two shots at the robbers and then sought the assistance of Detective Harris and Detective Lamson, who chanced to be on the train. Harris got out of the car and walked toward the robbers. He then opened fire with a revolver on the robbers. The latter returned the fire, firing three shots, which took effect, hitting Harris in the neck and over the left eye.

The robbers rushed to the express car and threw a dynamite bomb against the door. It made a hole in it. They threw another bomb through the aperture, but it failed to explode. Then the robbers fled. A posse is in pursuit and is close to the robbers.

Snakes in Old Berks.

READING, Pa., Sept. 5.—Percival Hoffner, of Fredericksville, upon going into a cornfield near his farm-house, found his wife engaged in a close encounter with two big blacksnakes, when he rushed to her relief and dispatched them.

Mrs. John Knockstead, of Reinholdsville, was severely bitten on the hand on Wednesday by an angry copperhead snake which she had disturbed while picking cornecbs from the crib. Her hand and whole arm even to the shoulder, immediately swelled to great proportions. Her condition is critical. The snake was killed by Mrs. Knockstead's son.

Mrs. Joseph Reppert, who was bitten early in the summer by a copperhead near Windsor Furnace, was attacked the other day by a horned snake, but escaped from it before it harmed her.

Sixteen Men Annihilated.

WHITE PIGEON, Mich., Sept. 4.—The dynamite factory of F. A. Reynolds & Co., near this place, exploded last evening.

Sixteen workmen, mostly Swedes and Norwegians, were completely annihilated. Not an atom of the victims is to be found, and it is impossible to tell their names, as the company's books, pay rolls, etc., are lost. It is estimated that there were 20 tons of dynamite in the building, which was a three-story brick. Scarcely a vestige of it remains. The loss is estimated at about $35,000.

The concussion in White Pigeon was awful, and the citizens were badly frightened. Goods in the stores were thrown from the shelves, and houses rocked to and fro. The spire of the German Lutheran Church fell with a loud crash, and the walls of several buildings are cracked and otherwise damaged.

Save Yourself Money.

When you go to Pittsburgh, Pa., stop at the Anchor Hotel, corner Liberty and Fourth streets. It is a strictly first-class Hotel conducted on the European plan. Lodgings, 25—35,—or 50 cents.
