How can a boy succeed? I am often asked? Is it true, as many people contend, that all walks of life are overcrowded, and there is no place for the younger generation? I think not. I have in mind the sort of a boy that can succeed, and I say to all boys now, there is fame and fortune for them if they are made of the right sort of stuff.

The boy who is wanted in the office, the shop, the store, the banking house, in fact in any branch of mercantile or professional life, is the boy who is not afraid to work, who is educated, gentlemanly, polite, neat in dress, honest, trustful, and self-respecting. Such lads are in demand everywhere. They are sought for with eagerness, and, when found, employers delight in pushing them forward, in opening to them new fields of entertheir confidents, and finally taking them into partnership. Boys who are slovenly in attire, who
