

It is Mr. Speaker Crisp.

The thirty-second Congress convened at noon Monday.

Too busy will have more fun in Congress this year than he had last.

PRESIDENT HARRISON will give politicians and statesmen something to think about to-day.

The political complexion of the United States Senate which met Monday is, Republicans, 48; Democrats, 37; Farmers' Alliance, 2.

When it comes to receiving salaries Governor Hill believes in addition. He only practices subtraction when he is footing up the Republican tally sheets.

The resignation of Redfield Proctor as Secretary of War was accepted by President Harrison, Saturday. Mr. Proctor took his seat as Senator from Vermont in the United States Senate Monday.

It is Crisp is nominated Governor Hill will get Governor Cleveland's right eye. If Mills is elected Cleveland will poke a snipehead underneath Hill's fifth rib and smash the head of the New York Sun.

The first two-dollar Treasury note printed by the United States with the portrait of Secretary Windom has just been issued and was sent to Mrs. Windom as a souvenir.

Bessie Crane is trying to let it be known that he is just as good a free trader as Brewster. The only difference, perhaps, is that he has not done as much grinding in public as the Texas machine.

PENNSYLVANIA will elect two Congressmen next November. General William Lilly, of Mauch Chunk, is being favorably spoken of by the Republican press throughout the State for the position.

The lower house of the South Carolina Legislature has passed a bill which absolutely prohibits the sale of beer, wines, liquors, etc., within the limits of the State, or their transportation through the State.

The defeat of Governor Hill's attempt to send the New York Legislature has narrowed down to the New York Herald. That is Hill's only defender, and no one ever accused the Herald of holding convictions of any kind.

The Democratic members of Congress are said to be fairly loaded down with tariff reform bills for the placing of pretty much everything on the free list. They will have their labor only as their reward. The Republican President and Senate are still on guard.

The Republican caucus Saturday afternoon unanimously renominated the Hon. Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, for Speaker. Mr. Reed will not be elected, for he will probably lead the minority on the floor of the House and will make it extremely lively for the majority.

The name of Judge Harry White, of Indiana, will be urged for the Republican nomination for Supreme Judge. At a meeting of the Republican members of the Westmoreland county bar, Thursday, Judge White was unanimously endorsed for the place.

The new Pennsylvania election law, commonly known as the "Baker Ballot Act," has been pronounced unconstitutional by ex-Judge Briggs, of Philadelphia. The Supreme Court will be asked to pass upon this question at an early day.

The new Speaker of the National House of Representatives will be the thirty-second man to hold that enviable position in public life. There have been fifty-one Congresses but only thirty-one Speakers. Henry Clay was elected Speaker six times, and Rufus B. Sprague, Carlisle, and Nathaniel Macon, of Georgia, filled the office three times each.

The opposition to Senator Sherman in Ohio has brought to the surface the high esteem in which he is held by all thinking people over the entire land. It is undoubtedly true that no other Statesman holds as high a rank as does Senator Sherman, and no living man could take his place. His name is identified with every great national measure for more than a century, and it would be party suicide and a national crime to dismiss him from service at this time.

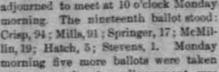

J. S. CLARKSON, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, is attributed by the Minnesota Tribune as saying: "The renomination of Harrison is inevitable. I do not care to explain why I think this, but such is the fact. The course of the administration has not been such politically as to please me always. In fact, in common with other members of the National Committee, I have often felt aggrieved, but it has been the ablest since Lincoln, and this, combined with other circumstances and the logic of the situation, will make Harrison the nominee. I think this will be accepted as a fact by all within the next sixty days."

It is rather amusing to read of the resolutions that were passed on Wednesday at the meeting in Charleston, S. C., of the Sea Island Cotton Planters' Protective Union. They want Congress to put a duty of 15 cents a pound on cotton, and an export tax of $20 a ton on cotton seed. It has been the influence of the cotton planters, more than any other cause, that has for many years kept the South solid for free trade. Now the planters begin to want protection for themselves, and that puts the case in a new light. By and by South Carolinians may come around to the old ground of John C. Calhoun, and advocate the protection of American industries as strongly as he did before he turned secessionist.

The Legislature of the Cherokee Nation has agreed to sell to the United States the 6,000,000 acres in the Cherokee strip. The price offered—$125 per acre—has been advanced by conference agreement to the $400 per acre. This would make the Cherokee strip worth $2,400,000,000. The Cherokee strip will be divided up into homesteads and held in severalty. The Cherokee last week awarded a long contested lawsuit with an award against the United States of $25,000, and will about the richest Indians on the continent in ready funds.

THE SOMERSET HERALD.

EDWARD BULL, Editor and Proprietor

WEDNESDAY, December 3, 1891.

It is Mr. Speaker Crisp.

The thirty-second Congress convened at noon Monday.

Too busy will have more fun in Congress this year than he had last.

PRESIDENT HARRISON will give politicians and statesmen something to think about to-day.

The political complexion of the United States Senate which met Monday is, Republicans, 48; Democrats, 37; Farmers' Alliance, 2.

When it comes to receiving salaries Governor Hill believes in addition. He only practices subtraction when he is footing up the Republican tally sheets.

The resignation of Redfield Proctor as Secretary of War was accepted by President Harrison, Saturday. Mr. Proctor took his seat as Senator from Vermont in the United States Senate Monday.

It is Crisp is nominated Governor Hill will get Governor Cleveland's right eye. If Mills is elected Cleveland will poke a snipehead underneath Hill's fifth rib and smash the head of the New York Sun.

The first two-dollar Treasury note printed by the United States with the portrait of Secretary Windom has just been issued and was sent to Mrs. Windom as a souvenir.

Bessie Crane is trying to let it be known that he is just as good a free trader as Brewster. The only difference, perhaps, is that he has not done as much grinding in public as the Texas machine.

PENNSYLVANIA will elect two Congressmen next November. General William Lilly, of Mauch Chunk, is being favorably spoken of by the Republican press throughout the State for the position.

The lower house of the South Carolina Legislature has passed a bill which absolutely prohibits the sale of beer, wines, liquors, etc., within the limits of the State, or their transportation through the State.

The defeat of Governor Hill's attempt to send the New York Legislature has narrowed down to the New York Herald. That is Hill's only defender, and no one ever accused the Herald of holding convictions of any kind.

The Democratic members of Congress are said to be fairly loaded down with tariff reform bills for the placing of pretty much everything on the free list. They will have their labor only as their reward. The Republican President and Senate are still on guard.

The Republican caucus Saturday afternoon unanimously renominated the Hon. Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, for Speaker. Mr. Reed will not be elected, for he will probably lead the minority on the floor of the House and will make it extremely lively for the majority.

The name of Judge Harry White, of Indiana, will be urged for the Republican nomination for Supreme Judge. At a meeting of the Republican members of the Westmoreland county bar, Thursday, Judge White was unanimously endorsed for the place.

The new Pennsylvania election law, commonly known as the "Baker Ballot Act," has been pronounced unconstitutional by ex-Judge Briggs, of Philadelphia. The Supreme Court will be asked to pass upon this question at an early day.

The new Speaker of the National House of Representatives will be the thirty-second man to hold that enviable position in public life. There have been fifty-one Congresses but only thirty-one Speakers. Henry Clay was elected Speaker six times, and Rufus B. Sprague, Carlisle, and Nathaniel Macon, of Georgia, filled the office three times each.

The opposition to Senator Sherman in Ohio has brought to the surface the high esteem in which he is held by all thinking people over the entire land. It is undoubtedly true that no other Statesman holds as high a rank as does Senator Sherman, and no living man could take his place. His name is identified with every great national measure for more than a century, and it would be party suicide and a national crime to dismiss him from service at this time.

J. S. CLARKSON, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, is attributed by the Minnesota Tribune as saying: "The renomination of Harrison is inevitable. I do not care to explain why I think this, but such is the fact. The course of the administration has not been such politically as to please me always. In fact, in common with other members of the National Committee, I have often felt aggrieved, but it has been the ablest since Lincoln, and this, combined with other circumstances and the logic of the situation, will make Harrison the nominee. I think this will be accepted as a fact by all within the next sixty days."

It is rather amusing to read of the resolutions that were passed on Wednesday at the meeting in Charleston, S. C., of the Sea Island Cotton Planters' Protective Union. They want Congress to put a duty of 15 cents a pound on cotton, and an export tax of $20 a ton on cotton seed. It has been the influence of the cotton planters, more than any other cause, that has for many years kept the South solid for free trade. Now the planters begin to want protection for themselves, and that puts the case in a new light. By and by South Carolinians may come around to the old ground of John C. Calhoun, and advocate the protection of American industries as strongly as he did before he turned secessionist.

CYRUS W. FIELD PENNILESS.

Robbed of His All by His Insane Son.

New York, Dec. 1.—The habits of Field Lindley, who is a son of the late Cyrus W. Field, are so notorious that he is now estimated at $2,000,000. Thus far only $2,325 of assets have been ascertained. The individual members of the firm, who owned the assets, have all died, and their families have suffered also. It is known that two banks are affected, but their names are withheld.

New York, Dec. 2.—It is now known that Edward Field not only robbed and deceived his partners, but stole every cent of his trust-fund father had. Mr. Field realizes the fact that he is poor as a day-laborer, and he is now as poor as a day-laborer. "I am as poor as a day-laborer," he said to the world.

A moon Dr. Fuller said there was a favorable outlook for Mr. Field. Field, for a considerable time, with every slight hope of ultimate recovery. "Mr. Field," Dr. Fuller said, "is in no immediate danger of death. He is listless and apathetic, and in the face of his great misfortune quite indifferent as to whether he dies or lives. In fact, I believe he would welcome death as a happy release from his great troubles. The condition of Mrs. Lindley, Mr. Field's daughter, remains about the same."

After having tried to commit suicide, Edward Field has been placed in a private asylum near Mt. Vernon.

A friend of the Field family this afternoon said: "The family have decided to take Edward Field's case before Judge and jury at once. They are determined to have everything open and above board, and I know that the family lawyers are drawing up the necessary papers now. The family want to have Mr. Field's sanity proved on public trial, so that it cannot be said that he is being sent to a lunatic asylum to escape the results of his financial wrongdoings. The physicians who have examined him will go upon the stand and testify fully and freely in regard to Mr. Field's condition."

The members of the Field family deny that young Field attempted suicide, and their statement is undoubtedly true.

Fifty-one years ago today Cyrus W. Field stood at the altar, and was married to Miss Maria Weston. His strength made its impress upon the century, his work has been rewarded with medals with knighthood and with the thanks of the United States Congress. To-day, he is a wrecked and penniless man, with the hand of an ingrate and disgraced son, Cyrus W. Field, lying at 72 years of age in the handsome home that no longer shall be his.

Mr. Edward M. Field has done more for the world than any other man of his time. He has been the hand of an ingrate and disgraced son, Cyrus W. Field, lying at 72 years of age in the handsome home that no longer shall be his.

This is the pitiful condition of a family which a few years ago was envied for its wealth, happiness and social eminence. And the fact that to-day is the fifty-first anniversary of Cyrus W. Field's marriage, adds a new sadness to the story.

A Great Warship Launched.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—The U. S. armored cruiser New York was launched this afternoon from the yard of the Cramp Shipbuilding Company in the presence of fifteen thousand people, including among them the Secretary of the Navy, Treasury, and Interior Departments, U. S. Senators, Congressmen, high naval officials, and representative business and professional men from all parts of the country.

Miss Helen Page, daughter of J. Stearns Page, Secretary of the Union League Club of New York, broke the traditional bottle of wine upon the great steel ram of the cruiser as she slid from her wooden cradle onto the Delaware river, and christened her "New York."

When the New York is finished she will be the most formidable cruising vessel that ever floated the Stars and Stripes, and, in addition, she is the largest and most powerful torpedo boat ever built in America.

South Carolina Goes Dry.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 6.—The House of Representatives to-day passed by a vote of 40 to 34, the Prohibition bill, which absolutely prohibits the sale of beer, liquors, wines, etc., in any portion of the State, or their transportation by railroad, express companies, etc., and heavy penalties.

The law is said to be framed on that now in force in Iowa. It is generally believed that if this bill becomes a law it will divide the Democratic party in the State and result in the complete enfranchisement of the negro voters, who will be called in to take part in the State and National campaign next year.

The Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—The Republican caucus of the House met in caucus to-night at half-past 7 o'clock to decide who should receive their complimentary votes for speaker and officers of the coming house. Ex-Speaker Reed and the officers of the last house were renominated. Mr. Burrows of Michigan, in an address, commended Mr. Reed to which Mr. Reed replied with applause. This caucus was very brief, lasting only about an hour.

Two Papers for the Price of One.

We have affected an arrangement by which we are able to offer this paper and The Pittsburg Weekly Post both for the sum of $2.50 a year. Every man ought to take his copy of paper. This goes without saying. In no other way can he learn what is going on or has transpired among the people with whom he lives. In no other way can he get the proceedings of the county courts, the plans of the business men, the reports of the courts, and the thousands of other local events of the course of a year which are never reported fully in the city papers and most of which are never even mentioned. No indeed! no person should think of doing without his copy paper. It is a necessity of life, and we suggest to you that among the city weeklies there are few that equal and none that surpass The Pittsburg Weekly Post. It is a 12 page, 3-column paper, printing 100 columns of news every week, and with such an enormous space of course has room for a vast variety of news suggested above. In no respect in this great paper surpassed by a single contemporary in the United States. In politics it is staunchly Democratic, as everybody knows, but it is a great thing for a paper as well, special attention being paid to making it as entertaining for the women as the men of a household.

The Christmas number of Harper's Bazar, published December 15th, will be remarkable for the variety and entertaining character of its contents. There will be a story by Mary E. Wilkins, entitled "The Other Side," a story by Heathcote Butler, entitled "My Boy in the East," a poem by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Elizabeth Boland, and Margaret E. Sangster; and a strikingly beautiful picture by Rosina Emmet Sherwood, entitled "Before the Fall," with an accompanying poem by Mr. John Storer. In politics it is staunchly Democratic, as everybody knows, but it is a great thing for a paper as well, special attention being paid to making it as entertaining for the women as the men of a household.

Orphan Girls' Shot Gun.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 5.—A new railroad in the north of this county recently ran a line through a dwelling occupied by two orphan girls. When the road foreman asked them to vacate they drove him off at the point of their shot gun. The shot-gun was kept by their parents. The girls' father left him and a brother at home, never dreaming they would have a bottle of medicinal whisky on a shelf. While climbing up, a couple of the liquor, and drank it down. He was soon in a sick stupor, and when his mother came home, he said: "I guess I'm drunk, mamma, for I drank a couple of the whisky."

A Doctor was summoned, but the lad died in convulsions next morning.

A BOMB'S WORK.

Thrown by a Maniac—Tried to Kill Russell Sage in His Office.

New York, Dec. 4.—At 12:15 o'clock this afternoon a small, shabby-looking man, apparently about thirty-five years old carrying a satchel, entered the office of Russell Sage, the second floor of No. 71 Broadway, and asked to see Mr. Sage. Mr. W. B. Laidlaw, Mr. Sage's clerk, told him that Mr. Sage was busy and could not be seen.

The man persisted and continued to talk in a loud tone. Mr. Sage, who was in an inner office, came out to see what was the matter. He asked the man what was wanted. The man demanded a million dollars.

The demand was, of course, refused, whereupon the visitor opened the bag and produced a dynamite bomb and threw it at the venerable financier's head. A terrible explosion followed. The man who threw the bomb was blown to pieces, one of Mr. Sage's clerks instantly killed, and several dangerously wounded. Mr. Sage's injuries were only slight.

Russell Sage, who takes the drug store opposite the office, where it was found that his injuries were not very serious. His face was badly cut and the hair on his head and face was burned off. He was much excited, and he said that he had never seen his name as H. D. Wilson, came to my office just now. I had never seen him before. He had a carpet bag in his hand and said: "If you will not give me one million two hundred thousand dollars, I will blow you to pieces. I am positively further except bearing two great explosions."

New York, Dec. 5.—For over an hour after the dynamite explosion in Russell Sage's office yesterday afternoon confusion reigned in the vicinity of the office, and in the streets in the vicinity of the building, and it was impossible to get any accurate information.

Finally the excitement died down somewhat and the police found the body, and something a correct list of the victims was obtained. But one person had been killed outright—the bomb-thrower himself—supposed to be H. D. Wilson. Benjamin F. Norton, who was thrown through the window, a skull fracture, was taken to a hospital, where he died yesterday.

Charles W. Osborne, Sage's private secretary, sustained a fracture of the skull and will probably die. Several other persons were hurt, but not dangerously injured.

At his home last night Russell Sage saw the head of Wilson and identified it as belonging to the man who had come to his office and demanded the money. Inspector Byrnes sent the head to the morgue.

Five mercantile appraisers of Philadelphia, Messrs. Patton, Houseman, Crawford, Bell and Hunter, indicted for fraud in office, were yesterday sentenced to dismissal from office. The costs of prosecution are assessed against them.

The barn and contents, including two horses, two mules, four cows and several hundred bushels of grain, of J. W. Wright, in Union township, were destroyed by an incendiary fire Thursday night.

Henry Bowman, a burglar, was shot dead Thursday morning while trying to break into the residence of James Taylor, of Duquesne, Pa. Taylor was awakened by the noise, and he fired a shot at the front window on the first floor. He rose, and, taking a revolver, went down stairs, and seeing Bowman trying to pry open the window, he shot him through the heart. Bowman was a resident of Duquesne and had a bad reputation.

Ladies' Gaiters and children's Windsor Ties, Plain, Silk, Polka Dot solid colors, Cords, Straps, etc. How is this for Xmas? M. M. TRAWELL & Co.

Kid Gloves, Plain, and colored Fancy White Apsons M. M. TRAWELL & Co.

Ladies and Gents Handkerchiefs, Plain, White, Colored Border, Hemstitch, Embroidered Edge. Stock too big to enumerate. M. M. TRAWELL & Co.

Stamped Lines for Outlining Work Bureau Cards, D. Oylets, Table Covers, Napkins, etc. M. M. TRAWELL & Co.

Jenner X Roads Items.

Miss Beattie Butler, of Pittsburgh, is the guest of her friend, Miss Martha Critchfield, of Louisville, Ky.

The signal of the porker is now heard in the still air, and everybody is busy eating sausage and back-bone cakes.

Messrs. Miller Hummel and George Kocher, and Miss Martha Leslie, of Stoyestown, spent Sunday with friends in our town.

Messrs. Henry Riebschager and David D. Griffin drove over to Johnstown one day last week. From all indications they had a good time.

Quite a number of our young folks drove to Fochoban, to attend the delightful services of the Abright church, on Sabbath evening last week. They report a very cold drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Pittsford, of Jewettown Borough, entertained a number of their friends last Friday evening, at their elegant new residence, which is just nearing completion. Quite a pleasant evening was spent, and Miss Pittsford it was the time for separation came.

All our teachers report good attendance of the pupils enrolled, and are enthusiastic while attending the County Institute, believing somewhat one of the places where a teacher can have good time. As a body, our teachers deserve credit for the way they show in their work, and the active part they take in township institutions.

The new Grange hall is completed, and a grand one it is. We have been in quite a number of lodges rooms, but this takes the honor of the Advertiser of said county. Last Wednesday evening the J. O. U. A. M. held their first meeting in this hall, and quite a large crowd of Juniors were present, including several members of Rippenstown Council No. 362. Business was done, and the J. O. U. A. M. will be held here in the future.

The J. O. U. A. M. meets every Wednesday evening, the Grange every Thursday evening, and the A. O. K. of M. C. meets every Friday evening, the last named in Myrtle Chain hall, in Jewettown. The Junior Order held a festival over the holidays.

PAT ROST.

DIED.

FILE.—On the 24th of November near Rippenville, Pa. Mrs. Malissa Pile—wife of Jacob Pile—aged 41 years, 3 months and 25 days.

COUNTRYMAN.—On the 30th of Dec. near Lawrenceville, Pa. Lydia, the widow of the late Jacob C. Countryman, aged 65 years, 7 months and 25 days.

MARRIED.

GOOD.—Butler—On the 3rd of Dec. at the Lutheran parsonage of Lawrenceville, Pa. Franklin B. Good, of Somerset township and Sarah E. Butler, of Lincoln township.

BARNHART.—Coleman.—At the Lutheran parsonage in Fridens, on the evening of Thursday, December 3, 1891, by Rev. J. J. Welch, Mr. Oliver G. Barnhart and Miss Mary M. Coleman, both from near Fridens, Somerset Co., Pa.

RINGLER.—Zerpos.—At the residence of the bride's parents in Snyceyock township, Somerset county, Pa. by Ed. D. W. Walker, Mr. Wilbur H. Ringler and Miss Elizabeth Zerpos, both of Somerset county, Pa.

STOCKHOLDERS MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank of Somerset, for the election of Directors for the year A. D. 1892, will be held at the banking rooms in the First National Bank building, Somerset, Pa., on Tuesday, January 12, 1892, between the hours of one and three o'clock, P. M.

ANDREW PARKER, Cashier.

ELECTION NOTICE.

The annual election of the Farmers' Union Association and First Insurance Company will be held at the residence of the President, on Friday, December 10, 1891, at 7 o'clock, P. M. The President, Vice President, Secretary and all directors, to serve for the ensuing year, will be elected by ballot on Wednesday, December 10, 1891, at 10 o'clock, P. M. ALEX. HUSSEY, President. HENRY P. FRIZZ, Secretary.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

In a Nut Shell.

Fannie Winslow, the young heroine who attempted to save her sister, Christie, from murderer Almy, is being persecuted by some correspondent who signs himself "Jack the Ripper," and who writes from Boston stating that he will visit Hanover and pursue the night and day until she meets Christie's fate.

The richest farm of Castle Shannon, a Pittsburgh suburb, was Frederick Abbott. But he contracted with some one the other day, because his sons, Herman and George, had given him a thrashing for his alleged abuse of their mother on Saturday.

Under the new law which went into effect December 1st, giving a bounty of two cents for the head of each English sparrow killed in the State of Illinois, the slaughter of the little birds has been inaugurated with vigor. The sparrow man in the county clerk's office, at Chicago, took in 172 heads Wednesday. One man brought 107 heads.

Dom Pedro, ex-emperor of Brazil, died Friday night. The ex-emperor's complaint was diabetes, and for the past six years his life has been a struggle with the disease. He was at his father's bedside at the time of his demise and was overwhelmed with grief to such an extent that it is feared that she, too, may be seriously ill.

It is claimed that it is impossible to secure enough in Kansas to haul away the surplus grain. Over eighty thousand bushels are stored in elevators at Gaylord, Kan., awaiting shipment.

In a spirit of revenge James T. McKibben, a prominent Illinois Alliance man, it is charged, has burned many farmers' buildings near Centralia, that state, and is under arrest.

The treasurer of Allen county, Ohio, filed a suit against United States Senator Calvin S. Brice, Wednesday morning for $17,330 delinquent taxes. The senator has constantly refused to pay taxes in Ohio during the last few years, alleging, when called upon for a settlement, that he had no residence in Allen county. The amount asked for includes over $2,000 in penalties.

Five mercantile appraisers of Philadelphia, Messrs. Patton, Houseman, Crawford, Bell and Hunter, indicted for fraud in office, were yesterday sentenced to dismissal from office. The costs of prosecution are assessed against them.

The barn and contents, including two horses, two mules, four cows and several hundred bushels of grain, of J. W. Wright, in Union township, were destroyed by an incendiary fire Thursday night.

Ladies' Gaiters and children's Windsor Ties, Plain, Silk, Polka Dot solid colors, Cords, Straps, etc. How is this for Xmas? M. M. TRAWELL & Co.

Kid Gloves, Plain, and colored Fancy White Apsons M. M. TRAWELL & Co.

Ladies and Gents Handkerchiefs, Plain, White, Colored Border, Hemstitch, Embroidered Edge. Stock too big to enumerate. M. M. TRAWELL & Co.

Stamped Lines for Outlining Work Bureau Cards, D. Oylets, Table Covers, Napkins, etc. M. M. TRAWELL & Co.

Jenner X Roads Items.

Miss Beattie Butler, of Pittsburgh, is the guest of her friend, Miss Martha Critchfield, of Louisville, Ky.

The signal of the porker is now heard in the still air, and everybody is busy eating sausage and back-bone cakes.

Messrs. Miller Hummel and George Kocher, and Miss Martha Leslie, of Stoyestown, spent Sunday with friends in our town.

Messrs. Henry Riebschager and David D. Griffin drove over to Johnstown one day last week. From all indications they had a good time.

Quite a number of our young folks drove to Fochoban, to attend the delightful services of the Abright church, on Sabbath evening last week. They report a very cold drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Pittsford, of Jewettown Borough, entertained a number of their friends last Friday evening, at their elegant new residence, which is just nearing completion. Quite a pleasant evening was spent, and Miss Pittsford it was the time for separation came.

All our teachers report good attendance of the pupils enrolled, and are enthusiastic while attending the County Institute, believing somewhat one of the places where a teacher can have good time. As a body, our teachers deserve credit for the way they show in their work, and the active part they take in township institutions.

The new Grange hall is completed, and a grand one it is. We have been in quite a number of lodges rooms, but this takes the honor of the Advertiser of said county. Last Wednesday evening the J. O. U. A. M. held their first meeting in this hall, and quite a large crowd of Juniors were present, including several members of Rippenstown Council No. 362. Business was done, and the J. O. U. A. M. will be held here in the future.

The J. O. U. A. M. meets every Wednesday evening, the Grange every Thursday evening, and the A. O. K. of M. C. meets every Friday evening, the last named in Myrtle Chain hall, in Jewettown. The Junior Order held a festival over the holidays.

PAT ROST.

DIED.

FILE.—On the 24th of November near Rippenville, Pa. Mrs. Malissa Pile—wife of Jacob Pile—aged 41 years, 3 months and 25 days.

COUNTRYMAN.—On the 30th of Dec. near Lawrenceville, Pa. Lydia, the widow of the late Jacob C. Countryman, aged 65 years, 7 months and 25 days.

MARRIED.

GOOD.—Butler—On the 3rd of Dec. at the Lutheran parsonage of Lawrenceville, Pa. Franklin B. Good, of Somerset township and Sarah E. Butler, of Lincoln township.

BARNHART.—Coleman.—At the Lutheran parsonage in Fridens, on the evening of Thursday, December 3, 1891, by Rev. J. J. Welch, Mr. Oliver G. Barnhart and Miss Mary M. Coleman, both from near Fridens, Somerset Co., Pa.

RINGLER.—Zerpos.—At the residence of the bride's parents in Snyceyock township, Somerset county, Pa. by Ed. D. W. Walker, Mr. Wilbur H. Ringler and Miss Elizabeth Zerpos, both of Somerset county, Pa.

STOCKHOLDERS MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank of Somerset, for the election of Directors for the year A. D. 1892, will be held at the banking rooms in the First National Bank building, Somerset, Pa., on Tuesday, January 12, 1892,