(Applause.) And while we are prevented from putting with pride to the achievements of our party on account of our tardiness for the Democratic party...

MINNEAPOLIS, June 8.—Governor McKinley, on assuming the chair, spoke as follows: GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION: I thank you for the honor of presiding over the ninth National Convention of the Republican party.

There is one thing that can be said of our organization, which cannot be said of any other. It can look backward without shame or humiliation, and it can look forward with cheer and confidence. It cannot be said of any other political organization in the United States.

When we get through with this convention its conclusions will be the law of the Republic, as they will be the law of the people. We are for a protective tariff and for free trade.

Does anybody know what tariff reform means? It means a tariff that will protect the American farmer, the American manufacturer, the American miner, the American sailor, the American soldier, the American sailor, the American soldier.
