TAMMANY NEWS ITEMS. H. Knifer. CLEVELAND will miss Lord Spackville West during this campaign.

That Democratic Congress, in its vote on the World's Fair bill, has made all the canvass Republicans will need in Illinois this year.

The number of postoffices in the United States is 67,005, an increase for the year of 2,776. What a field that would be for Adlai Stevenson.

What makes Democrats mad is that the Democratic Governor is compelled by his oath and by the demands of the people to put down lawlessness even with bayonets.

If Carnegie could be induced to move his works to Scotland, Democrats and free traders would grow happy at once. It is the American manufacturers they are down on.

The free trade method of preventing strikes is to reduce the tariff to so low a point that the mills can't be operated. By the same token they can't cut off a foot to avoid pain from a corn on one of its toes.

Utah miners are killing non-union miners in Idaho with bullets and dynamite because they take the lowered wages which the Union men had refused. Yet there is free trade in the product of Idaho mines.

The Democrats' only hope of carrying the election is by either carrying New York or Indiana. Yet they killed and hooted New York's candidate for President and spurned Indiana's candidate for Vice President.

Why can't Congress abolish the Pinkerton police? No man, or set of men, except those under the control of the general government should be commissioned to pass from one State to another at the demand of individuals or corporations.

The sympathetic strike is a fraud and fortunately is becoming more and more unpopular among sensible workmen. The sympathetic strike merely adds to the number of idle men and thus hastens the depletion of the funds and resources of the strikers.

Just wait and see the G. A. R. boys get after the substitute ticket. The old veterans, General Sikes, was right when he said in Chicago, "There are 25,000 G. A. R. men in New York who will never vote for Grover Cleveland for President." They will be heard from in November.

Senator Ransom hopes that by making the "force bill" an issue the Democrats may carry North Carolina. Free trade is no longer a saving grace in the South, and the Democrats find it necessary to go back to the old cry of "negro domination" to save the solid South from going to pieces.

Democratic papers in Kansas and Colorado have run up the Presidential ticket of Weaver and Field instead of Cleveland and Stevenson. It is not because they have run out of type, either, but because the Democrats in those States believe in the doctrines of the People's party.—New York Press.

Mr. Cleveland says that "no sincere friend of honest tariff can be dissatisfied with the position the Democratic party has assumed on this subject." The Democratic convention declared the tariff a fraud, Mr. Cleveland is like the man who could not understand why the fellow he called a liar got mad about it.

FARMERS in the great Northwest are unable to get men enough to harvest the ripening grain crops. It seems that large numbers of able bodied men who ought to be at work in the wheat fields are devoting their time to addressing mass meetings of the People's party and telling their hearers about the depressing cloud of agriculture.

The Magwumps, in their joyous praise of Chairman Harritt's crafty deal in Congress, he was specially prominent as an openly avowed, fully equipped, and honest free trader. He acted as a free trade exponent among the great aristocracy of that theory in this country or England.

In a recent issue of the Press Mr. Hurd gave his own frank opinion of the tariff plan in the Chicago platform, from which this country came into competition with other articles produced in this country. It is that the law shall not be used for the protection of the manufacturer of an article in competition with like goods or articles produced in the same country.

CLEVELAND is the Democratic party. It was his belief that the honest convictions of Democrats in the House on the silver question was strangled in order to give Cleveland a chance to grind away on the only thing he can play—the free trade string. This is an assertion that the Republican party has absolutely solved the money question and that it is not an issue.

Not a Question of Politics.

Under the above caption the Democratic New York Sun says: "We regret to notice that some of our Democratic friends are treating the Homestead incident in a partisan fashion, for which there is no excuse. They assume that because Mr. Andrew Carnegie and his associates at Homestead have been engaged in an industry protected by the tariff, and because a dispute as to wages has arisen between the employers and employed, protection is responsible for the Homestead murders and mischief. In Congress, too, certain persons who suppose themselves to be Democrats have insisted upon this view.

If it strikes us never heard of in any protected industry, if in fact, the greatest strikes in the country had not occurred in unprotected industries like the steam railroads and the horse railroad, if free trade England were not a country of strikes, and if these facts were never known to a body with education enough to read large print, these assumptions might be worth contradicting. As the case, they are so far fetched and wildly absurd that we fear they will bring discredit upon the Democrats in the national campaign.

"This is not a question of partisan politics; it is deeper than that, for it goes to the very heart of social order and the protection of all that has been won for civilization. The Democratic party and the newspapers that are trying to obscure the real questions are doing all in their power to injure the Democratic party."

O'Donnell in Prison. PITTSBURGH, July 24.—High O'Donnell and Hugh Ross, against whom warrants had been issued, came to this city this morning, and held a consultation with their attorney, W. J. Brennan. At the close of their talk with Mr. Brennan, the two were proceeded to Alderman McMaster's office and gave themselves up and were by him committed to jail.

An Anarchist Attempts the Life of the Carnegie Chairman.

THE PISTOL AND STILETTO USED. Although a Very Badly Wounded Man, Frick's Physicians Think He Will Pull Through All Right.

Two Bullets Through His Neck.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 23.—A desperate attempt was made this afternoon to murder Henry Frick, the chairman of the Carnegie Steel Company, Limited, and the sole manager of the great Carnegie steel mills in Homestead and elsewhere. He was shot in the neck.

The murderous hand was thrown up, and the bullet embedded itself in the wall over Mr. Frick's head. The would-be assassin then attacked him with a knife and stabbed him twice in the back before he was overpowered.

The young man walked up and down the office once or twice and then went out and down the elevator without waiting for Mr. Bosworth or without a word of explanation. The following day he called again and went down to the office.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder. ABSOLUTELY PURE. The color came into the man's cheek and he answered "nothing," making an attempt at the same time to control the muscles of his jaw. The surgeon took and inserted a cork between the man's teeth. Frick opened his mouth and investigated the interior with his finger. On the left side he found a copper tube that looked like an ordinary blank cartridge. It was nearly an inch long and was half-filled with a brownish substance. Inspector McKelvey said at once, "That is a dynamite cartridge. Turning to the prisoner he asked, 'What were you going to do with that?'"

At the moment he did so, Mr. Frick looked around and instantly the man pulled the trigger. There was a sharp report. Frick started back and a stream of blood ran down his neck. The man took a step nearer and fired again. Again Mr. Frick started back and for a minute he appeared about to swoon.

At the second shot blood had spouted from the other side of Mr. Frick's neck and it was running down over his clothing. He recovered from the shock of his two wounds and he was able to speak. "What happened?" he asked. "You were shot," the man answered. "You were shot," the man answered. "You were shot," the man answered.

As he fell, he succeeded in drawing a stiletto from his pocket with his free left hand. Mr. Frick and Leishman were on their feet bending over him. The stiletto flashed through the air and was driven with force into the back of Mr. Frick. With hardly a moment's hesitation, the man again plunged forward into Mr. Frick's back. Then the wounded man succeeded in grasping his hand that held it, and in throwing his weight on it, pinned the arm to the floor. Leishman held the other hand. The man was helpless.

The clerks recovered their self-possession and ran to the aid of their two employers. Deputy Sheriff May was at their head. He had been up to see Secretary Lovjoy, and without further delay he got a pass to Homestead. He got to the door of the private office just in time to see the stabbing. He drew his revolver as he ran forward and was about to shoot. "Don't shoot! Don't shoot!" cried Mr. Frick. "Don't shoot! Don't shoot!" cried Mr. Frick. "Don't shoot! Don't shoot!" cried Mr. Frick.

The three shots that had been fired had been heard all over the building and out into the street, and a part of the struggle itself had been seen by persons in the street.

Within a minute or two after the man was overpowered no less than two hundred persons were crowding into the room. There were two policemen with them. They had heard the shooting. They relieved Mr. Frick and Leishman and took the prisoner in hand. No sooner had they got him than there were cries of "Shoot him!" "Lynch him!" "Shoot him!"

The patrol wagon in which the assailant of Mr. Frick was taken away was followed to the police station by nearly a thousand persons, all excited and many of them continually crying "Lynch him!" "Shoot him!" "Lynch him!"

When he had recovered sufficiently to speak he was brought out and the inspector questioned him as follows: "What is your name?" He responded "Alexander Berkman." "Age?" "Twenty-six years." "Where do you live?" "Forty second street, New York city."

Inspector McKelvey issued an order to exclude all persons from the police station except the officials who were needed. Berkman was asked: "Do you know Mr. Frick?" The prisoner replied: "We all know Frick." "When asked to tell why he attempted the murder, Berkman responded: 'That is a question for the court to ask.'"
