The New York quaralntine officers report-United States District Attorney Walter ed Friday morning as a result of their inspection of the infected steamships and of the hospital islands, that there were ten new on Tuesday morning, September 6, asking cases of cholera-six of the Normannia's crew, three of the steerage passengers on the Rogia and one of the Normannia's steerage passengers on Hoffman Island, and that These figures bring up the aggregate of cases developed in the harbor to 42 and the deaths to twelve, the grand total of deaths on the three ships since they salled being 46.

> J. Pierpont Morgan purchased the steamer tonington, and the 409 cabin passengers of the Normannia, quarantined in New York Bay, were transferred to it on Friday. There are several new cases in the quarantined fleet and a few deaths. New York harbor is guarded as closely these days as ever harbor was in time of war. But the defenders are doctors, not soldiers, and they are armed with fumigators instead of fire arms.

FIRE ISLAND TO BE UNED.

NEW YORK, Sept, H.—A number of leading citizens on Fire Island, to-day telegraphed flower protesting arming the court of flower protesting arming the court of flower protesting arm ed Governor Flower protesting against the use of the island for quarantining healthy passengers from the infected ships. The overnor replied that in his belief the inhabitants of the island have nothing to fear from the landing of the passengers, who he says are as healthy as the inhabitants.

The Governor further directed Health flicer Jenkins to use the island for quaranine purposes and advised the State Board of Health of his action. The latter notified the local Board of Health of Islip that the latter body was powerless to prevent the occupancy of the island by passengers from the cholera ships. Governor Flower will arrive here in the morning to lend all possible aid in the work of keeping cholera from reaching the main. At midnight the residents of Fire Island formed an armed guard to patrol the coast and prevent the landing of passengers from the infected ships.
