

CODE TO A MODERN SHIP.

Child of the digital age, the modern ship has a code to it. This code is written in the language of science and art. It is a code that has been developed by the shipbuilders and engineers of the world. It is a code that has been tested and proven in the most trying circumstances. It is a code that has been passed down from generation to generation. It is a code that has been refined and perfected by the hands of the shipbuilders and engineers of the world. It is a code that has been made a part of the lives of the shipbuilders and engineers of the world. It is a code that has been made a part of the lives of the shipbuilders and engineers of the world.

KEEP THE STAGE MANAGER'S STAGE CARPENTER IS PROBABLY THE PERSON WITH THE MOST AUTHORITY BEHIND THE SCENES OF A THEATRE—HIS DUTIES.

As the public must know, every well ordered theatre has connected with it a body of officials who are never seen on the stage except by accident. This mechanical staff differs in size and ability, but a fair number for a good house would include a stage manager, an assistant stage manager, a property man, two dressers and a gasman. We still call him a "gasmaster," though the latest full of knolls and levers and finest manipulative electricity installed in modern houses. The new mode of lighting is more expensive than gas, but it is easier to manage and there is much less danger of fire from it.

A Common Malady.

"I came into a little money a few months ago," said the man, "and I had been thinking for others all my life. I thought I would go into business for myself. I took a look at about five stores that were advertised for sale, and I found one that looked just the way I wanted it. I knew all and flattered myself that the man wasn't living who could get the better of me. Nearly all the places offered for sale, and I had to look around for a long time. I finally found one that was just what I wanted. I was quick to see that they were merely getting up to sell by shapers and had established trade all over the country." "At last I bought a cigar store. It was on the corner of a busy street. I had no capital, and no one could help me. The owner's word was law. He was a man of some means and I didn't know him. He was a man of some means and I didn't know him. He was a man of some means and I didn't know him.

EMINENT SUICIDES.

Clive and Castlerough Killed Themselves and Napoleon Attempted To. The history of suicides presents a long array of eminent victims. The suicide of antiquity are not considered, for men were educated in those days to embrace death as a noble thing. We do not find many conspicuous instances of suicide in the Middle Ages. Outdoor activity and an intensely practical life were the rule with men of sensibility outside of convent walls, and the practice of suicide was common until the eighteenth century, when men of sedentary lives began to multiply. The nineteenth century is conspicuous for suicides compared with the eighteenth, and the most notorious names in the world, Germany, furnished the largest list of suicides.

HOW A WOMAN CAUGHT A THIEF.

It was on Shipboard, and the nearly forgotten was the story. When you can't get a thief to catch a thief the next best thing to put on his trail is a woman. A woman who has recently returned from Rio Janeiro tells with great gloom how during the voyage to this port she caught a thief who had been pilfering all the passengers' cabins, and until she took him in hand had successfully eluded the detective tactics of the cruise crew, from the captain down to the cabin boy.

Even in these days, when many combinations travel with carloads of special scenery, the theater must have a fair stock of scenery. The scenery of the woods, outcrops, kitchens and even barns must be in stock. These can be changed indefinitely by a few small sets of scenery. It is the duty of the stage manager to have a stock of scenery in the theater. It is the duty of the stage manager to have a stock of scenery in the theater. Why Rat are Dangerous Passengers. A most remarkable instance of the mischief which a rat is capable of doing came to light during the proceedings of a naval court of inquiry held in Annapolis, Md., for the purpose of investigating the cause of the loss of the bark Commodore of Hartlepool. The vessel, which was burned at sea, had been loaded with a cargo of lumber and other goods, and the loss of the cargo was estimated at $100,000. The inquiry was held to determine the cause of the loss, and the testimony of the crew and passengers was taken.

Observed in a Ring. A young woman who had been in the city for some time, and who had been seen in the company of a man who was known to be a thief, was observed in a ring. The man was seen to be in the possession of a large sum of money, and the woman was seen to be in the possession of a large sum of money. The man was seen to be in the possession of a large sum of money, and the woman was seen to be in the possession of a large sum of money.

How Two Painters Became Acquainted. When in Harlem, Van Dyke called upon Frank Hails, and without making any introduction, he took a chair and placed it in front of him. He was seen to be in the possession of a large sum of money, and the woman was seen to be in the possession of a large sum of money.

The Site of Great Britain. Great Britain and Ireland have about the same number of square miles as Arizona—not so great after all. Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Virginia and North Carolina combined. The area of England proper and that of the state of Iowa are almost identical.—Philadelphia Press.

Contented Where He Was. Miss De Bonnaire—And how do you like progressive hammering. Mr. De Wit. Mr. De Wit (at his first hammer)—I should think it perfect. Miss De Bonnaire, if—er—if it were not progressive.—Detroit Free Press.

Why Men Defer Marriages. The habits of modern young men are antagonistic to that of their fathers. They are not content with a moderate amount of property, but they want to be rich. They want to be rich. They want to be rich. They want to be rich. They want to be rich.

Wanted to Know. A young woman who had been in the city for some time, and who had been seen in the company of a man who was known to be a thief, was wanted to know. The man was seen to be in the possession of a large sum of money, and the woman was seen to be in the possession of a large sum of money.

Married by Telegraph. William Harbo, of Fort Bowie, and Miss Hattie Green, were married by telegraph a few days ago. The bride arrived at Bowie, and naturally being anxious to have the knot tied at the time set for the wedding, parties went forth to secure the services of some one authorized to perform such a ceremony. They were started to find that there was no one at the post who could act.

Valuable Stallions in a Fight. Two valuable stallions belonging to A. G. Pratt, a horseman of Springfield, O., got together in the barn one morning recently. They were viciously quarreling, and it was found necessary to separate them. They were viciously quarreling, and it was found necessary to separate them. They were viciously quarreling, and it was found necessary to separate them.

A Good Preservation. The body of Mrs. Charles Block was buried eight years ago in Hazledon cemetery, near Montezuma, Ia. A few days ago the coffin was opened, and it was discovered that the remains had not turned to stone. A bunch of roses held in the hand of the deceased was also preserved.—Yankoe Blade.

The Shortest Walk on Record has been filed in Luzerne county, Pa. The walk is on a piece of paper six inches square, and is as follows: "Mr. De Wit, give all my money to Mike Walker."
