MRS. A. E. UHL. Townships Must Foot the Bills.

Judge J. Norman Martin, of Lawrence lounty, has rendered a decision which effects every county in Western Pennsylvania, and also every county sending minors to the Allegheny County Reform School. The decision was given in the case of the county of Lawrence against the township of Big Ron, and is a test case.

About three years ago young Orville Moore was tried for some offense and sentenced to the Reform School at Morganza, Allegheny county. After his term had expired, the County Commissioners attempted to collect the bill for the maintenance of the boy at the farm from the school authorities of the township where the boy had lived. The poor authorities, also, refused to pay the bill, on the ground that young Moore had been sent to Morganza on sentence of court, and, therefore, the whole county is liable, and not the township. Nearly every township in the county, and the city of New Castle as well, have boys in the Reform School under circumstances much the same. sible, and not the county.
