

The Somerset Herald. Jere Sibbald isn't in it. In fact he never was in it. Attorney H. S. Fessler, of Johnston, is attending court in this place this week. The Democrat is an old hand. The Herald has not had occasion to refer to figures on the County Superintendent's election. Mr. C. F. Hill and daughter, Miss Annie, Mrs. Fred W. Bieseker and Miss Louise Smith are in Pittsburgh this week. Bernard Wolfberg has been appointed postmaster at New Baltimore, and Mrs. Mary C. Lohr, at Fairview, this county. Squire Daniel Brunker, of Berlin, has withdrawn as a candidate for County Commissioner at the Democratic primary election. By reference to our announcement column it will be found that a number of names have been added since our last issue, and these are still more to follow. Arrangements are being made for a game of base ball on a Conestoga team and a picked nine of this place, on Thursday afternoon, on the Conestoga grounds. Mrs. John H. Spangler and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, will leave for New York, Monday morning, where they will spend a few days with friends and will take in the attractions at the World's Fair. Miss Clara Knepper, a popular teacher in the borough public school, left Monday morning on an extended western trip. She will be absent from Somerset for an indefinite period. George Rink, one of the wealthiest and most prominent farmers of Jenner township, critically ill. His wife, who sustained severe injuries from a fall last winter, is not yet fully recovered. The body of the unfortunate young man who was killed in the Conestoga mine, Somerset Stone Company's coal mine a few weeks since, was removed Saturday from the receiving vault at the Lutheran cemetery and interred in the family burial lot. It is reported that Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, Frank John, of Meyersdale, is a candidate for the office of Collector of Internal Revenue of this district. Ex postmaster Herman Hammer, of Johnston, has filed an application for the same position. Mr. Charles Vanhook, leaving for Wisconsin in the near future where he will buy window frames, doors and other finished material for his new home, to be erected on the public square. Mr. Vanhook is anticipated to have the new house completed by April next. The corner stone of the church being built by the Lutheran congregation, of Shenandoah, will be laid on Sunday, June 24, 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m. Rev. M. L. Young, of Meyersdale will preach the sermon. All ministers and friends of the Lutheran Church are invited to be present. A concert is announced for early next month to be given in the Opera House by Miss Fleta B. Price and members of her class on the piano, violin and voice. Miss Price comes from Johnston and she will have the assistance of some of the best musical talent of this city on this occasion. Engineer "Jack" Neff, who had charge of the runaway engine on the Bare Rocks railroad several weeks ago, and was seriously injured in the catastrophe that followed, was shaking hands with his Somerset friends Saturday. Mr. Neff has almost entirely recovered from the injuries he sustained. The many friends and acquaintances in this county of Mr. Frank W. Hay, of Johnston, will be pleased to learn that he is in a critical condition, suffering from hemorrhage of the nose. Mr. Hay is sixty-eight years of age, but has a robust constitution, and has complete recovery is hoped for. Mr. Almer McKinley, wife and daughter, of New York City, arrived in town Tuesday morning and will spend the warm summer months at their comfortable home in this place. Mr. McKinley is a devoted horse man and this season he will bring a team that in the eyes of local judges. A lengthy opinion regarding the duties of Justice of the Peace acting as coroner in the matter of holding inquests, handed down by Judge J. G. Bessinger at the opening session of Court last week. The opinion is of interest not only to the Justices of this county but to those in neighboring counties as well. The Bayard, W. Va. Coal & Coke Co. has recently been organized with a capital stock of $500,000. The company owns 1,500 acres of coal land and operates several mines near Bayard, on the West Virginia Central Railroad. Mr. Charles B. Colburn, eldest son of Hon. A. J. Colburn, of this place, is the general superintendent of the company. Out of the host of candidates on the streets yesterday only one was noticed who was unable to give the name of every man he met. The notice was given by consulting the names of the candidates for county treasurer, who was carrying his right hand in a sling. Whether it was disabled during the "pump handle" act or not we were unable to learn. Two notable visitors in town during last week were Judge Rockefeller, who presided over the Northern-Berlin County, Pa. courts for a period of twenty one years, and Mr. William W. Baker, of Somerset. Both of these gentlemen are largely interested in Somerset county mineral lands. Mr. W. W. Baker is the owner of the coal mines at Berlin Station. Mr. James Matthews and Mrs. Nanette Ashley, of Mackayville, Fayette County, were united in marriage by the Rev. J. H. Meyers at his home on Patriot St., this place, last evening. Among other guests present were Frank Zickel and family of the place, and Messrs. Sadie Meyers and Lizzy Hombertson, both of Fayette County. The attendance at court this week is unusually large, witnesses being present from all sections of the county. A large delegation from Addison township has been called here to testify in the case of Commonwealth vs. Elder Robert Singer, charged with criminal assault. An effort was made by Singer's counsel to have his case continued until next term but it is probable that it will be called for trial Friday. Mr. and Mrs. George B. Beer, of Clorville, Cal., arrived in town Friday and are guests at the home of the former's parents. The delight of the proverbial boy "with a new toy" is no comparison to Mr. Beer's at hearing the chirp of a robin first heard in this county, and the song of the bluebirds, (he says they don't have either robin or bluebird in the section of California he hails from) after a year's absence. James Cook, Sr., died at his home in Northampton township, last Tuesday night, from heart failure, aged 74 years. The deceased was well known throughout the county and was known as a man of the highest character both in his business and social relations. He was the father of James M. Cook, the prominent grocer of this borough, who with four brothers and four sisters, survive. The deceased is also survived by his wife, with whom he had lived for fifty-four years. Saturday morning, Mr. Irwin Pile, the well-known drayman of this borough, was taken suddenly and unexpectedly sick while preparing for his day's work, and for a short time his life was despaired of. The cause of the trouble was an affection of the heart, of a similar nature to that which terminated in the death of his brother, Judge George W. Pile, two years ago. Pile is still unable to be about at this time, but his ultimate recovery is looked for by his physician and friends.

On last Wednesday the dwelling-house of Franklin Spangler, one mile north-west of Shenandoah, caught fire from a defective fire burner in the ground. Most of the household goods on the first floor were saved, but the loss on furniture and bedding is considerable. Mr. Spangler had no insurance. He will rebuild at once and until the completion of his new house he will occupy the part of the residence of Mr. Charles Zimmerman. Providing the state of his health will permit, County Superintendent E. J. M. Berkey will come to Somerset early next week for the purpose of taking the required oath of office before his Honor Judge Longenecker. Prof. Berkey received the necessary documents from the Department of Public Instruction Monday morning, and as the only one sent to Superintendents elect, the bell-ringers and other gentlemen who have been publicly and privately asserting that he was not elected and would not be commissioned had better draw in their horns. There was a very serious question concerning Mr. Berkey's election among persons who like to see honesty and fairness prevail, and it was only those who are unwilling to acknowledge themselves defeated in a manly combat that tried to create a different impression. These worthy gentlemen, by the public by producing an affidavit that Director Sibbald signed forth that he was present in the convention at which Mr. Berkey was elected. Their first efforts to secure such an affidavit were unsuccessful. Death of Samuel Fox. It is with sincere regret that the Herald chronicles the death of Samuel Fox, who passed away a few minutes before midnight Friday, at his home just east of this borough. Death resulted from a complication of internal troubles from which he had been suffering the past eight weeks. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. John Fox, Edward L. and Bess, and by two daughters, Mrs. Emma Eiler, of Fontana, Ill., and Mrs. Minnie Weimer, of Somerset borough. The deceased was in his 64th year. The funeral services were held on Sunday at 10 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Fox, where the services being conducted by Elder Peter Vogel, of the Disciples Church. The pall bearers were comrades of the Grand Army. The attendance at the funeral was very large, as was becoming in the case of a citizen of such prominence and usefulness. Samuel Fox was one of the best known business men in this county, dealing largely in lumber and charcoal. He was the employer of a large number of workmen and probably paid out more money for labor as any citizen the county has ever had. He was alike popular with employers and customers, and was regarded wherever known as a man of high integrity and strict honesty. During his entire business life he accumulated considerable wealth but he gave as much as he received, and was recognized as a generous and public spirited citizen. He was a stockholder in the First National Bank and in the Somerset Stone Company. The deceased was a man of great physical endurance and fine character. His death did not know what it meant to be idle. Two years ago he erected one of the handsomest homes in this county, on the brow of the hill just east of this borough, and there he proposed in the near future to settle down to well earned leisure. Mr. Fox had been a member of the Disciples Church since early childhood; he was also a soldier in the army of the rebellion, being a member of Company H, 12th Pa. Col. His military and civil life full expressions of sorrow wherever he was known. Careful attention to our work in detail and correct attention to all. On this basis we solicit a continuance of past valued favors of the people in this vicinity. M. McMillan, Dentist, Somerset, Pa. Graduating Class of '93. The graduating exercises of the borough public school took place in the Opera House, Friday evening, in the presence of an audience that filled the capacity of the building. The stage was decorated with flowers and foliage plants and presented a very pleasing effect when the curtain went up. The graduating class was composed of six pretty young men and one young woman. The principal speaker was Rev. J. H. Knepper, pastor of the Lutheran Church, who presided over the exercises. The exercises were held in the Opera House, Saturday, June 27, 1893, beginning at 9:30 A. SAVED BY A STOMACH PUMP. Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Lafest U. S. Gov't Report. Catherine Shank Attempts Suicide in the County Jail. "I took it" gasped Catherine Shank, tapping herself on the breast while Deputy Sheriff Barton entered the female corridor of the County Jail at three o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon. "What was it?" anxiously inquired the Deputy. "Poison," gasped the woman. "You brought me in here all right, but you carry me out dead in less than two hours. Here is five dollars I want you send to Mrs. — at Rockwood." In a moment after this speech the woman commenced to froth at the mouth and her body became rigid. The deputy sheriff hurried out of the corridor for the purpose of summoning a physician. As he passed the grated entrance to the prison proper Franklin P. Fisher, an inmate who was confined to jail on informants of Mrs. Shank, inquired what was the matter. On learning the cause of the trouble, he said, "don't believe her. That's an old trick of hers. She only wants to frighten you." Mrs. Good, of Meyersdale and Leader of the Somerset, appeared in a few minutes, and after some discussion, succeeded, with the help of stomach pump, in relieving the suffering woman's stomach of its contents. The afternoon passenger train was standing at the Johnston station at the time of the accident and will not be able to resume its trips until the damage has been repaired; meanwhile passengers will be transferred at the bridge from the Johnston street cars to a train on the south side of the bridge. It will require several days to repair the damage done, and it may be a week or ten days before freight trains will be run over the road. ANNOUNCEMENTS. REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION. ROYAL Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE. Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Lafest U. S. Gov't Report. S. & C. Bridge Burned. Sparks From a Locomotive Start a Furious Blaze. An accident of a highly sensational character happened on the Somerset & Cambria Railroad Bridge, about three o'clock South of Johnston shortly after three o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Two trains made up of loaded oil tanks were on their way to Johnston. A tank of the first train, which was in charge of Engineer Park, had been leaking. This train stopped on the bridge. The second train, in charge of Engineer Cunningham, had been running at the proper distance behind, but on seeing the first train at a standstill Engineer Cunningham was unable to stop his train on account of the slippery condition of the rails, made so by the oil upon them. In the collision which followed the engine and fireman fortunately escaped injury, but oil in the tanks was instantly fired by sparks from the locomotive and a furious blaze was started. The alarm was given, and all of the fire companies in the city, and with their apparatus, were soon at the scene of the fire, but it was apparent at first glance that nothing could be done. The blaze came so quickly and furiously that it was with difficulty Engineer Cunningham and his fireman got off the bridge. The bridge took fire and in a short time the middle span fell, dropping one of the burning cars into the river. This set fire to a second car, and the train was hastily out. The bridge was so badly damaged that it will have to be replaced with a new one before trains can be run into the Johnston depot. The afternoon passenger train was standing at the Johnston station at the time of the accident and will not be able to resume its trips until the damage has been repaired; meanwhile passengers will be transferred at the bridge from the Johnston street cars to a train on the south side of the bridge. It will require several days to repair the damage done, and it may be a week or ten days before freight trains will be run over the road. ANNOUNCEMENTS. REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION. ROYAL Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE. Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Lafest U. S. Gov't Report. S. & C. Bridge Burned. Sparks From a Locomotive Start a Furious Blaze. An accident of a highly sensational character happened on the Somerset & Cambria Railroad Bridge, about three o'clock South of Johnston shortly after three o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Two trains made up of loaded oil tanks were on their way to Johnston. A tank of the first train, which was in charge of Engineer Park, had been leaking. This train stopped on the bridge. The second train, in charge of Engineer Cunningham, had been running at the proper distance behind, but on seeing the first train at a standstill Engineer Cunningham was unable to stop his train on account of the slippery condition of the rails, made so by the oil upon them. In the collision which followed the engine and fireman fortunately escaped injury, but oil in the tanks was instantly fired by sparks from the locomotive and a furious blaze was started. The alarm was given, and all of the fire companies in the city, and with their apparatus, were soon at the scene of the fire, but it was apparent at first glance that nothing could be done. The blaze came so quickly and furiously that it was with difficulty Engineer Cunningham and his fireman got off the bridge. The bridge took fire and in a short time the middle span fell, dropping one of the burning cars into the river. This set fire to a second car, and the train was hastily out. The bridge was so badly damaged that it will have to be replaced with a new one before trains can be run into the Johnston depot. The afternoon passenger train was standing at the Johnston station at the time of the accident and will not be able to resume its trips until the damage has been repaired; meanwhile passengers will be transferred at the bridge from the Johnston street cars to a train on the south side of the bridge. It will require several days to repair the damage done, and it may be a week or ten days before freight trains will be run over the road. ANNOUNCEMENTS. REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION.
