A new daughter was added to the household of President Cleveland on Saturday last. This is the first child of a President born in the White House.

Among the many Democratic schemes suggested to raise money to defray the expenses of the government is one to tax tea, coffee and sugar; to tax incomes; and to double the present tax on whisky and tobacco.

The old adage, "talk is cheap," is not true, as is verified by the proceedings of the Senate on the silver repeal bill. The daily consumption of time by talk, talk, talk, is costing the country many thousands of dollars.

The suggestion that Congress shall take a recess for a month or two after the silver purchasing bill has been passed appears to be meeting with favor among the members of both Houses. It would give the Committee of Ways and Means a chance to fix up a bill for repeal of the tariff.

At the government proving grounds, Sandy Hook, on Tuesday, a 300-pound Holtzer projectile was driven through nine inches of solid steel, three feet packed sand behind the oak; yet it came finally through about twenty feet of packed sand behind the oak and came out of the test with scarcely a mark on its surface.

According to the report of Commander Weiser, of the Grand Army of the Republic, that organization lost by death within the last year 7,500 men who during the last war carried the gun and the knapsack. The total loss by death among the Union veterans so far amounts to 14,500. The total membership of the organization is now computed at 443,554.

How to raise the money to make good the deficiencies left by the last Democratic Congress and to defray the expenses of the government is what is bothering the Administration. Just until this Democratic Congress has "emasculated the robber tariff" and you will see the Democracy in a tight place. There must be money to run the machine, but where is it to come from.

If Republican speakers in last year's campaign had warned the people that within six months after the second inauguration of President Cleveland business would be deranged, and a half million laborers would be locked out from the shops, there would have been a chorus of denials from Democratic throats. And yet a much worse condition is the visible result of that political revolution.

When they contemplate the silent mills, closed shops and idle millions of the country, and know that many thousands of laborers are out of work, while other thousands are working at reduced wages, the workmen who voted last November for Cleveland and a change must feel just a little unhappy when they think of "what might have been" had they not listened to the voice of the Democratic demagogue.

A year since the New York World, that variant organ of the Democracy, was urging workmen to "vote in good times" and "send the tariff robbers to the rear." Now it declares the idle working multitude to "Eat rice; it is good wholesome food and is cheap." At the same time it is calling for "bread to keep the workmen from starving." It will not be sixty days before this Democratic organ will be again shouting in favor of free trade and denouncing Protection as unconstitutional.

Repulse Lieutenant Wilson begins to smother the robber tariff he should initiate the example of the Chinese. A Chinaman buys a coffin before his death and keeps it in his house as a most valuable article of furniture. The most cherished present a son can make to his father is a handsome coffin. So Wilson should move on for an appropriation for a suitable Democratic coffin, and have it ready. The people will bury the corpse, head down. Ohio will begin to dig the grave before the ground freezes—later.

By the death of Hamilton Fish, of New York, the country loses one of its oldest and most honored statesmen. Mr. Fish was an historic figure in the country's role of faithful and eminent men and occupied many important public positions during his long and useful life. He was elected Governor of New York and afterwards a United States Senator from that State, previous to the war, and after years of retirement to private life was called by General Grant into his Cabinet as Secretary of State, which position he filled with great honor to himself personally, and to the advantage of the country.

CASTING about for subjects of taxation wherewith to make good the deficiencies in the government revenues which will be caused by the repeal of the present tariff, the Democratic organs insist that "no important article should escape taxation," which of course means that tea, coffee and sugar must be taxed. Evidently it is contemplated that if workmen are to pay for "tea" because it is cheap, tea, coffee and sugar are superfluous. It may go pretty hard for workmen who for thirty years have been receiving good wages under Republican laws and been able to provide their families among other things with table luxuries, but "tea is cheap" and they must live on it as they want to enjoy the blessings of free trade and a Democratic government.

Hoke's Back Down.

Ohio State Journal: If Hoke Smith will keep his eyes to the ground he will hear something to his advantage from Indianapolis this week.

Wheeling Intelligencer: Meantime the friends of the veterans and of far play will rejoice that the light has broken in on the administration. It was time.

Springfield (Ill.) Journal: There will be a good deal of enthusiasm at the Grand Army encampment at Indianapolis, but it is perfectly safe to assume that a single cheer will be heard for Hoke Smith.

By City Tribune: Secretary Smith has evidently discovered that the people are not disposed to tolerate wrong against those who defended and preserved the government when it was in imminent and deadly peril.

Pittsburgh Dispatch: Secretary Hoke Smith has doubtless discovered that pension reform must be considered along conservative lines. Wisely considering the fact that veterans are sure to raise a storm in the northern states at least.

Rockford (Ill.) Republican: The feeling the present administration entertains for the defenders of the flag, however, has been displayed and it should be watched from this time on to prevent it from perpetrating other acts of injustice to the veterans.

Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph: Hoke Smith was the only member of the cabinet absent from Friday's meeting. He was in retirement and mourning over the way in which the country fails to appreciate his energetic efforts in veteran sundering.

Cleveland Leader: Hoke Smith has discovered that there is a Democratic party at the north as well as in the south, and that northern members of the party are not waiting outside the bank, they rode furiously down the main street.

Washington Post: A hardware merchant, whose place of business is opposite the bank, took a short cut to a point where the desperados passed in leaving the town, and two of them died. The third robber escaped.

REVELAND, La., Sept. 8.—A terrific cyclone yesterday swept the town of La Fochelle, Louisiana, and killed eight persons. Storms and dwellings in the cyclone's path were demolished in La Fochelle, and fences, barns and dwellings blown down in Schriber. In the former place the Convention of the Immaculate Conception was also destroyed.

Ten persons, including several sisters at the convent, were seriously injured at La Fochelle; one of them, Mrs. Gus Arbit, whose shoulder was fractured, while her legs were blown from her arms and across the street unharmed.

A House Turns Somersaults.

INDEPENDENT, Conn., Sept. 8.—The small cottage at Milford Point, occupied by Alfred Bragg, his wife, two daughters and one son, was toppled over and over by the wind last night and blown about thirty feet, close to the water's edge. Mr. Bragg was injured and his wife and children were badly bruised, but not fatally hurt.

Swinging Around the Circle of the disease to which it is adapted with the best results, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a family medicine, comprehensive in its use and desired by those who are afflicted with indigestion, is a universal panacea for bodily ills. This claim, daily attested by the thousands of testimonials, is not exaggerated. It is a household necessity for the sufferer, and the prospect of other remedies of superior quality have been handicapped by the prevalence of their worthless predecessors. But the American people know, because they have verified the fact by the best results, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a real specific in cases of nasal and liver disorder, constipation, nervousness, indigestion, and a host of other ailments. What it does is thoroughly and mainly for the reason that it is indigestion, which it cures by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Girls Stolen by Negroes.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 7.—Great excitement is reported at Stoneville, on Seventh Street, Savannah, Ga. A large number of children are reported to have been taken into captivity, who are being horribly treated by him. Tuesday one of them escaped and made her way to the house of a neighbor, where she was hidden, and her sister had been stolen from her parents by the negro and were forced to go for him and submit to his wishes.

The negro entered the wife's house, captured the girl, and after beating her cruelly, forced her to accompany him by threatening to kill her. Bloodhounds have been secured, and every effort is being made to rescue the girls and capture the negro. They were traced to a mill, where it is reported there were seventeen negroes guarding the girls. At last reports the mill was surrounded.

Trains Crash Head On.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—A milk train on the Chicago, Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road and an east-bound passenger train on the Rock Island and Chicago, Cleveland and St. Louis Railway, crashed head on this morning. Twelve persons were killed and many more were injured. The collision occurred in the "C" running from the main line just south of Colebrook to East Hammond, Ind. The operator at Colebrook was blamed for the disaster.

Over 20,000 Dyings.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 7.—The Governor's special agent has returned from a trip among the sea islands over which the recent cyclone swept. He found the effects of the disaster far worse than hitherto reported. Over 20,000 people are reported as having perished on the verge of death from hunger, thirst and disease. The Governor requested the Mayor of Charleston and other city and State officials to assemble here and a proclamation was issued calling on the people of the United States to aid in saving the lives of the destitute.

Death of Mrs. Border.

Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Fred Border, of Baltimore, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons, No. 129 Walden street, Johnston, at 12:30 o'clock Friday.

Death of a Balloon Trip.

WARREN, W. Va., Sept. 4.—William Sargent, 30 years old, lay dead awaiting in the preparations for a balloon ascension. Just as the balloon started upward one of Sargent's feet became entangled in the ropes between the balloon and the parachute. In an instant he was jerked from the ground. Thousands of spectators saw the young man carried into the clouds, hanging head downward, and in danger of dropping at any moment.

Scranton Gets a Big Prize.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—At the Estabroff today the $300 prize for the best ladies' chorus was awarded to the Welsh Ladies' Chorus, of Cardiff, South Wales; second, $150, to the Scranton Ladies' Chorus; the Rhonda Valley chorus of South Wales won the $1,000 prize for the best male chorus, and the second prize of $300 went to the Penryn chorus, of Wales.

D. E. Williams, of Pittsburgh, won the $100 prize for the operatic libretto, Welsh or English subject, "Yan Doodleman," at the night concert. The first prize of $500 was awarded to the Scranton P. A. Choral Union, and the second prize of $1,000 went to the Salt Lake Mormon Temple Choir.

Death in Their Medicine.

WASHINGTON, Pa., September 8.—The death of Amanda Campbell, Mrs. Alexander Russell and Ella Springer has caused a sensation in Bergetstown. A month ago two quack medicine peddlers passed through that place selling a "cure for cholera." Many persons bought the medicine, paying a high price for it. The drug worked a marvelous cure in every case. However, last week one of the women died and since then the other two have had the medicine freely and it is said that it killed them.

Adams Express Office Robbed.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—A Adams Express Company's office was entered and robbed of several thousand dollars last night. A man was held for a few minutes, but Agent Hoke gave no figures, but simply said: "Everything in the safe is gone."

From the manner in which the robbery was effected it is certain that the guilty parties were thoroughly familiar with every thing in and about the office, as well as the habits of those in charge. Three men were arrested this morning on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery. Later information says the amount taken is upward of $70,000.

Four Children Roasted.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 8.—A special from Versailles, Ky., says: Yesterday James O'Neal and wife, colored, living six miles from here, went away from home and left John Baker in charge of four young children.

During the night, the house caught fire and was quickly consumed, and the four children were roasted to a crisp. Baker was painfully burned, and saved his life by jumping from a second story window. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Suggestions Contained in the Popular Summer Guide Book of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Complimented by the press and endorsed by tourists and practical travelers, the Summer Excursion Book of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company of this year's issue has become, in consequence of these recommendations, the most real work, most highly prized compilation. The many and diversified routes, including every route of prominence within the great summer belt of Eastern United States, offer those contemplating an early fall trip an opportunity of choosing new and interesting means of reaching their destinations. A list of hotels is appended to each route, which is self-evident as to its value.

The month of September being probably the best month in the year in which to travel, an increased demand for this graphic production has become noticeable, and that all may avail themselves of the manifold advantages to be derived from an inspection of its plans and concise yet elegant and complete descriptions of a thousand places with their points of interest, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's Passenger Department will mail the book mentioned in any address on receipt of 20 cents in stamps.

A nominal sum merely, with cost of postage and handling charges. Copies may also be obtained from Ticket Agents of the company.

Two Bank Robbers Killed.

DELTA, Cal., Sept. 7.—Three masked men entered the Farmers and Merchants Bank here this morning, bringing Winchester as Cashier Blachley they demanded the surrender of the cash in the vault.

Blachley refused to show the robbers the combination to the safe. Grasping a small bag of coin the outlaw shot the cashier dead and sprang upon the cashier, who was waiting outside the bank, they rode furiously down the main street.

A hardware merchant, whose place of business is opposite the bank, took a short cut to a point where the desperados passed in leaving the town, and two of them died. The third robber escaped.

Items of Interest.

The report of Emily Pasha's latest death is already denied. A denial also that he has not been beaten, either, would be doubly reassuring.

The death of Hamilton Fish leaves only three survivors of President Grant's Cabinet officers—George M. Johnson, Jeremiah H. Britton and J. N. Tye.

Joshua D. Hicks, of the Twentieth district of Pennsylvania, has the longest "sketch" of his life published in the Congressional Directory of any senator or member in any State in the Union.—Johnston Tribune.

At the meeting of the committee of arrangements for the Denkad annual meeting at Meyersdale, on Tuesday, a number of sub-committees were appointed. No reference was made to a change of location and that matter is now definitely settled.

The Erie Republican thinks that "the result of the Republican State Convention means the election of the candidate named by an overwhelming if not an unprecedented majority. But it means another thing of equal importance—that C. W. Stone, of Warren, will be the next Governor of Pennsylvania."

Senator Quay has returned from Beaver to Washington and expects to remain at his post the remainder of the session. He is in good health and looks much better than he has for several months. He denounced the report that his position on the repeal of the Sherman purchase clause was doubtful. He not only intends to vote for repeal, but expects to see repeal enacted into a law very shortly.

The recent act of assembly dividing Lawrence and Butler counties, and making each a separate judicial district, took effect September 1st. The Secretary of the Commonwealth has issued commissions to Judge Haas as Judge of Lawrence county, and to Judge Greer as Judge of Butler county.

Representative W. C. P. Breckinridge, of the Lexington, Ky., district, has announced himself as a candidate for reelection to Congress. He will have a hard battle to win, as his election has such a heavy charge to make it completely as such a victory can make it.

Hon. Hamilton Fish, ex-Secretary of State died at his country residence in New York, Thursday morning, Hamilton Fish, statesman, was born in New York City in 1808, and served, next here, and most notably, a gallant soldier of the Revolution. Mr. Fish was admitted to the New York bar in 1830. In 1842 he was sent to Congress by the Whigs, and in 1847 he was made Lieutenant Governor the following year. In 1851 he was elected a United States Senator, and in 1852 he took part in the campaign for Lincoln. In 1859 he was appointed Secretary of State by President Grant, serving through both of Grant's terms. During his term he took part in the settlement of many important affairs of State, including the "Alabama" question and the "Virginia" affair. He was president of the New York Historical Society and president general of the New York Society of the Cincinnati.
