

WHAT a turmoil one little piece of postage pie will create.

If the croakers are believed, the late cold snap has destroyed all hope for fruit of any kind this summer.

By his veto of the Bland seigniorage coinage bill the President has shown that it is better than his party. But that is not saying much for him.

GOVERNOR has vetoed the silver seigniorage coinage bill and there is much in the air. All the chicanery used to force the passage of the bill has come to naught, and ordinary impressions are too feeble to ease the Democratic heart.

The pirates and wreckers that infest Rondador Reef have been destroyed by fire which remained of the gallant old battleship Kearsarge. The Government had arranged for the preservation, if not the sale of the historic old vessel, but it is assumed the state system of doing business so delayed the effort that the pirates robbed and destroyed her before the Government was ready to act.

The Governor of Georgia, last week, appointed Mr. Speaker Clark of the National House of Representatives, as successor to U. S. Senator Colquhoun, who died in Washington a few days previously. Mr. Clark declined the appointment at the urgent solicitation of his partisan friends in Congress, who foresaw the utter disruption of the party in the event of an election for Speaker being forced upon the House at this time.

The President held the Bland silver coinage bill up till the last hour he was empowered to do so, and then vetoed it, thereby in our opinion saving the country from disgrace and disaster. The veto message is too long for our column, but the gist of it is in the following extract: "In my judgment sound finance does not consist of a further infusion of silver into our currency at this time, unaccompanied by further adequate provision for the maintenance in our Treasury of a safe gold reserve."

A GREAT Big Calamity Howler. The only Democratic paper of Pittsburg, the Pittsburg Post, and its rural initiators all honor by paragraph, amounting in the aggregate to many columns, denunciatory of Republicans for daring to intimate that these Democratic times are not lovely with the goose hanging high. Their uniform and farcical way of writing have had a powerful Democratic rebuke up to date, has been to denounce all who do not swear that times are good and getting better daily, as "calamity howlers."

Change for Teachers. The great effort being made by the Pittsburgh Dispatch to take the six teachers of the public schools of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and West Virginia, are scheduled to appear in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana Territory, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. They constitute the XVIII of Mr. Riley's 17-year locusts. He is scheduled to appear in the 13 year broods and the most widely extended. Only in Virginia and North Carolina are both varieties predicted to appear together, although they may overlap in the vicinity of Michigan and Illinois.

Well, well, talk of "calamity howlers!" All others divide into two pigmies in comparison with the great calamity howler, "calamity howler," President Grover Cleveland, the head and front of Democratic ideas, principles and policy.

The Completion of a Chinese. It is not yellow that of an unfortunate individual whose liver complaint has assumed the chronic form. The eyeballs of the sufferer assume a saffron hue, there is dull pain in the region of the organ affected, the tongue is coated, breath sour, sick headaches usually but not always occur, and there is sometimes dizziness arising from sitting up at night, and the patient complains also of all the symptoms of the disease.

Mr. Breckinridge's "Reception." From the N. Y. Tribune. It has been announced in a news dispatch from Lexington, Ky., that arrangements are making for giving the "Honorable Mr. Breckinridge" what is called "a rousing reception" upon his return to that town after the trial now in progress in stock. He is to be met on his arrival by a committee with a band of music and escorted to his hotel, where a banquet in his honor will be served and he will be invited to make an address.

Furious Chicago Mob. CHICAGO, Ill., March 28.—"Lynch him," "rope, rope, get a rope," were the starting notes of the very best of the city at noon today by hundreds of infuriated citizens. The tragedy that transformed a throng of hurrying clerks and business men into a howling mob, intent on taking life and escorted to his hotel, where a banquet in his honor will be served and he will be invited to make an address.

Locusts Are Coming.

The 17-year and 13-year Cicadas Due in 23 States.

Within a few days now the Agricultural Department at Washington will issue a bulletin on the locusts now being reported as being commonly called "17-year locusts" due in 23 States and Territories during the months of May, June and July. If they do not appear in large numbers this year, it will be because the locusts are not yet hatched, and all at sea in their predictions or else the growth of civilized communities has had a tendency to decrease their broods.

The real name of this interesting insect is the periodical cicada. It is a very common insect in the locusts, which are not relatives of the grasshopper and distinguished by great ability to jump. The red-eyed cicada does not jump. The dictionaries derive the word "cicada" from two Latin words, meaning a "bell" and "to ring," the popular one of that word as the name of the insect is justified by the testimony of writers who have described the ravages of the 17-year locust. One who traveled a hundred miles through the forest in the States of Ohio and Ohio after they had appeared said the whole forest looked as if it had been scorched by fire.

Before the natural history of the 17-year locust was understood, it appeared as a supernatural manifestation. In Louisiana in 1835 it was regarded as presaging war with Mexico. There is a story of a man who was killed by a locust which was called "W," and in 1832 it is said to have been the cause of the death of a man in the State of Ohio. It is a distinctly American product, and of the 350,000 varieties of insect life known to science it has the longest life. It is a little singular that the Army traces in the case of the genuine locust a message from God written in Arabic.

Edie Splinters. The sugar season is about over for this year. Owing to the open winter, the season was a poor one. Rev. Lampe will hold communion services in the Reformed Church at this place on Wednesday evening, April 4th. One day last week a party of hunters from this place went to the mountains in search of several wolves which can be heard howling almost every night. They chased them from one hiding place to another, but the wolves in spite of every effort made by the hunters to capture them, were not taken.

Liberal Pension Rating. Assistant Secretary Reynolds, in the case of Harrison F. Loeb, of Bucks county, Pa., Wednesday, made one of the most important decisions regarding pensions rendered by the Administration. This boy's father was killed in action at the battle of Gettysburg, while serving in Company II, One Hundred and Fifty-first Pennsylvania Infantry. The minor battle was of the 18th of June, 1863, on the 25th of December, 1861, he was killed in action at the battle of Gettysburg, while serving in Company II, One Hundred and Fifty-first Pennsylvania Infantry.

The Veto Annals.

President Cleveland sent to the House on Thursday his veto of the Bland bill to coin the seigniorage. It was received with bitter reproaches on the Democratic side. The expectation that the President would suggest some way by which the seigniorage could be raised, but his approval proved to be well founded, but this suggestion is hardly likely to be acted upon, as it involves legislation authorizing an issue of bonds to maintain the gold reserve. There is satisfaction in sound money circles because of the veto, which strikes a deathblow at the seigniorage bill, but there is disappointment over the language of the message. What is called a more "frigid" message than any that has preceded it. The President was disappointed to read in the President's message that the coinage of the seigniorage could be done "safely and with advantage" if the Secretary of the Treasury had the power to issue bonds to lower the interest and authority in substitution of that now existing, and better suited to the protection of the Treasury.

No event in the history of the Administration has created so much indignation and anger among the Democrats as this veto. This was a day of fighting in the streets of this city, as well as in the Senate chamber, the scene of the last night's encounter, which resulted in the death of two Senators and two citizens. Another of the citizens of Darlington, who was wounded last night, died today. The situation is strained intensely and all reports are to some extent biased by the views of the parties. This one side insists that the militia will aid the Governor to carry out his purposes, while the other side insists that he cannot command the militia in such an unpopular move as the present attempt to enforce a search of private dwellings.

The Governor has declared Darlington and Governor counties in a state of insurrection. He has also ordered the railroad authorities not to transport any bodies of men unless authorized by him. The railroads have so far refused compliance. The Governor has also ordered the telegraph companies to transmit all messages relating to the military. This order has likewise been refused compliance.

The Edgefield Messager, Governor Tillman's home county, at Darlington, tonight reached here and marched to the State Capitol. The Lilly Riles, of Orangeburg, and a company from Aiken will also reach here tonight. The ten Greenville companies are under arms, waiting orders to move. There are no reliable reports from the military companies throughout the State, and during the night and all morning troops will be pouring into Columbia.
