The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in Jussiness, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told not friends that I could not live a mouth. My feet and limbs were hadly swolien, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentieman directed my attention to Dr. Miles New Heart Cure, and said that his ease, had been cared by the remedy, and was mean a strong healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my anxies, something I had not done for mouths, and my limbs had been swolies so long that they seemed almost partified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 50 W. Harrison St. Chicago, III.

Dr. Miles New Heart Cure, a discovery of an emirent specialist in heart disease, is said by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Pr. Miles Medical Co. Ekkaet, Ind. on Finally Rose's eye fell upon a nondescript looking Chinaman who was coming leisurely up the road. He was not an inviting specimen of the Mongolian race. To begin with, he was dirty. To add to that, he was very ragged. And, to cap all, he had one of the most hideous faces ever seen.

"Cally yo'glip missy?" he demanded as he came close to her and picked up the heavy valise which lay at Miss Kenyon's feet.

"Is there a hotel here?" Rose asked. "Yes, missy; you wantee go there?" "Yes." "Then I cally yo' bag."

Here and There on the Farm. If possible have long rows for the garden, so as to permit of the use of the horse hoe or enitivator. By this plan farmers who give but little attention to the cultivation of a garden will be induced to grow quite a variety of garden crops at but little extra cost of labor. The aversion of farmers to the use of hand nois, such as the hoe, rake and spade, debars them from making the garden a specialty, but by using a seed drill, and planting in long rows, so as to cultivate with the horse hoe, a garden will entail but little extra work for some crops. No mechanic will attempt to perform a full day's work without sharp tools, yet farmers will use the same tools a whole year without sharpening them. It is as important to keep the farm tools in good order as it is to have a sharp ax, as the better the condition of the tools and implements the less effort is required by the teams and the better the work is per-

The sprayer is not only useful on trees but for preventing or destroying vermin on stock. When kerosene emulsion is sprayed over cattle in the form of a tine spray it reaches every portion of the body and but a small quantity is required. The emulsion is not injurious, and does not irritate the skin as is often the case with unadulterated kerosene. When the ground is worked to a fine condition the roots penetrate the soil more easily, secure a greater share of plant food, and grow wore rapidly than when but slight cultivation is given the soil. Careful cultivation thus increases the yield of crops by affording greater feeding capacity to the roots of the plants. Sameness of diet may lead to constipation of the bowels. This results when cottonseed meal or cornmeal are fed coutinually without change. The remedy is variety of food, giving linseed meal, ground oats and green food. Medicine is unnecessary, if the animals have a varied diet. Horses that work every day and are placed in their stalls at night to come out for labor the next morning, are compelled to subsist on grain, hay and other dry food. At this season of the year green food of some kind is almost a necessity with them, as it regulates the bowels and "What trivial matters will sometimes cools the blood.
