For Lieutenant Governor—Walter Lynn.
For Auditor General—H. M. Mylin.
For Secretary of Internal Affairs—James W. Latta.

For Congressman at Large—Gatasha A. Grov and George F. Hoff.

COUNTY.
STATE SENATE:

N. B. Crickfield, Jenner Township.
S. B. Crickfield, Jenner Township.

Assembly:
Wm. Henry Miller, Greenbushing Twp.
Jeremiah Mather, Northtown Borough.

JURY COMMISSIONERS:
Samuel J. Bower, Millford Township.
BOSS DIRECTOR:
William Hall, Millford Township.

The day crop of last year was worth $70,882,852. This being a Democratic year, farmers say it will be an off-year.

Within a few days "the remains" of the Wilson bill will be turned over to its putative father by the Senate. Rumor says an attempt to restore life by galvanism will be attempted.

The friends of the present Administration are boasting that it has saved a large amount of money since it came into power. The old soldiers will bear testimony to this. The reduction of the amount paid pensioners is the principal saving thus far effected.

A few days since Senator Hill, of New York, who is nothing if not a Democrat—although not tarred with the Cleveland stick—made the prediction that if the incoming Democratic law the Democrats would lose New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. The Senate paid no heed to the warning, and there is little doubt that the law will be enacted. When the gods destroy their first make mud.

It is claimed for Mr. Singler, and with truth, that he is the pioneer of free-trade in this State, and all readers of his journal, the Philadelphia Record, know that in season and out of season it has been the prevailing content of articles that he has been a free-trade doctrine. With a retrospective glance at the enforced idleness and consequent misery that within the last year has destroyed their first make mud.

Not one man in a hundred thousand is in any way interested in Pullman or the Pullman Company, or the Pullman cars, and yet because Pullman and a few hundred of his men cannot agree on a basis of wages, the whole business interests of the country must be made to suffer and the innocent be punished. Do men in the silver mines for one instant suppose that the country will long submit to this method of settling a grievance? If every grievance, real or imaginary, is to be settled by a compulsory suspension of business throughout the land, is it not plain that more ruin will inevitably supplant law and chaos will come again?

Well, the Democratic State convention met in Harrisburg on Wednesday last week, nominated a ticket previously selected by Ross Harkley and adjourned. It was the sickly running machine that ever was seen. Nobody wanted a nomination and so Mr. Harkley had a free fight. He chose his victims, and the "boys" without a murmur ratified his choice. Some men are born to greatness; others have greatness thrust upon them. Harkley is one of the lucky fellows who have been, and the candidates went through the thrashing process. When they awoke to their fame one of them straightway declined, while the others are still dazed with the effluence of their newly discovered availability.

One strike trends fast upon the heels of another. The foolish attempt of the coal miners to tie up all the industries of the country, which, of course, ended in a miserable failure, was not succeeded by an effort of some dissatisfied employees to tie up all the railroads in the country and consequently paralyze business of every kind. The attempt, like its predecessor, must meet a similar fate. The country is not yet ready to surrender all its vast and complicated interests into the keeping of a few shallow pated demagogues who have obtained control of certain organizations formed by workingmen for their own protection. The interests of their own interests is one thing; the destruction of the interests of all others is quite a different matter.

For more than thirteen weeks the Senate has been engaged in the task of framing a new tariff bill. Does that body of reversed stations expect the House to submit to the usurpation of its rights? It is a flagrant evasion of the Constitution which provides that "all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House," to claim that the bill, as it is now ready to pass the Senate, is the Wilson bill, or that this thing of shreds and patches, trade and duties, originated in the House? We opine that the "strict constructionists" from the South, who now dominate the House, will have a few words to say before they consent to give the Senate the usurpation of the power to originate a bill for raising revenue. Calling an ass a horse will not make it a horse.

Our sympathy goes out to Col. Singler. His devotion to duty is beautiful, but his discretion is child-like. There is no salvation for the disorganized, weak-kneed and paltering Democracy of Pennsylvania. By permitting himself to be made a scape-goat to carry the sins and iniquities of his party, he makes a mockery of his office. No one knows better than himself the utter hopelessness of his race for Governor, and now knows better the faithlessness of the politicians who have seemingly united upon him as their candidate. The mere fact that the nomination went obsequious and was then turned upon him proves that it was not his merits but sheer necessity that caused the result. So worthy a gentleman should not have offered up as a sacrifice in vain attempt to appease the mad mob of dissent which has wrecked the Democratic party in Pennsylvania; therefore we sincerely sympathize with Colonel Singler.

The Democratic candidates for Governor and members of the State Convention last week. There were no candidates struggling for nominations, no hopes of a successful campaign, and no diversity of sentiment, because spoils were not in sight. For once harmony reigned and not a knife fell its sheath.

The previously selected candidates were then formally nominated, resolutions approving and endorsing everything in sight bearing the label of Democracy and denouncing and denouncing McKelvey and all its fruits, past, present and to come, were vociferously adopted, and the great and glorious Democratic Democratic convention came to an end.

It would be a waste of time and of words to point out the inconsistencies and absurdities of the platform, no one anticipating consistency and honesty from such a source. Suffice it to say that a Democratic ticket has been nominated and placed upon a free trade platform, that it will be supported in a half-hearted way by the place hunters and the purblind who swallow anything and everything bearing the Democratic label, and that it will go down in history as the worst whipped and utterly routed ticket that was ever offered to the people of Pennsylvania for support.

The National Republican League Convention, which met in Denver, last week, makes the following declaration of principles:

The representatives of the National League of Republican Clubs of the United States in convention assembled at the capital of the Centennial State have their hearts and hands united in a solemn and patriotic protest to our country, and deplore the calamities which the giving of power to the present administration has brought upon our people.

We congratulate the American people that this administration was compelled by public opinion to abandon its attempt to increase the duties on the American Hawaiian trade, and that it has now returned to the Republican party and proclaimed its cardinal principles. We believe in a free ballot and a fair count, and we demand such legislation as will secure to every citizen the right to cast one free ballot in any election and to have that ballot honestly counted as cast. It is a notorious fact that the Democracy in Congress, consistent in nothing but in its opposition to the repeal of the Federal election laws, thus openly confessing the party of fraud.

We declare our belief in the doctrine of protection to American and foreign commerce, extending over thirty years of successful and honorable service. We believe in the protection of our country, and we believe in such reciprocal trade with nations as will increase the markets for the products of our farmers, factories, forests and mines without increasing the duties on the products of other nations. We believe in the protection of our labor, and we denounce the proposed vicious and destructive legislation known as the Wilson bill, and earnestly demand its repeal.

We believe in the use of gold and silver as money, maintained on a perfect parity and interconvertibility, and we believe in such legislation as will secure to every citizen the right to cast one free ballot in any election and to have that ballot honestly counted as cast. It is a notorious fact that the Democracy in Congress, consistent in nothing but in its opposition to the repeal of the Federal election laws, thus openly confessing the party of fraud.

ALL ROADS TIED UP.

By Chased As a Fox.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 4.—A small boy playing the part of the fox in an exciting chase on the Cedar Hollow hills narrowly escaped being torn to pieces by George Palmer's pack of hounds. The dogs had not enjoyed a run for weeks and Mr. Palmer decided to give them a little exercise. Taking a bag from the box in which he keeps several foxes, and which the Reynolds slept upon, he gave it to John Bambo. He told the dog to drag the heavily-scented bag across the hills, and he would turn loose the hounds. The boy had long started and had disappeared beyond the horizon a distance of about a mile when Palmer released the dogs. Around they circled until one of them struck the trail, and then away they dashed in pursuit of the fox's logs.

Instantly a great roar seized the hounds. It dawned upon him that if the hounds overtook the fox they would tear him to pieces. Without longer hesitating, he rushed to the stable, led a horse and cart to the top of the hill, and there he hid. They had a good start, and Palmer knew that the fox's life depended upon whether the hounds or the horseman reached him first. In no real sense was he fighting. It was a long, hard gallop, but he had to get to the top of the hill before the hounds could reach him. He was a long way off when he reached the top, and he had to get to the top of the hill before the hounds could reach him.

The dogs were close upon him and running madly. Palmer seized the automobile and lifted him upon the horse beyond the reach of the hounds, which he could not then have prevented from following young Bambo to pieces.

Crossing the Atlantic.
Usually in very sick. When the waves play pitch and toss with you, strong indeed must be the stomach that can stand it without revolting. Tourists, commercial travelers, yachtsmen, mariners, and all who travel by sea, find the stomach Bitters the best remedy for the nausea experienced in rough weather on the water. Nervous and weak travelers by land often suffer from something akin to this, and find the Bitters the best remedy for it. No disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels is so obstinate that it may not be overcome by this prompt and thorough remedy. Equally efficacious in all cases of indigestion, flatulence, and nervousness. Emigrants to the new world should provide themselves with the effective and reliable Bitters, and treat the ailments of climate, hardship, exposure and fatigue.

Democratic State Convention.
Editor William M. Singler, of the Philadelphia Record, has been nominated by the Democratic State convention for governor by the Democratic State convention. The nomination was by acclamation. John S. Billings, of Erie, was named for lieutenant governor. The other candidates named were: Auditor General, David F. Magee, of Little Britain; Lancaster county, Secretary of Internal Affairs, General W. W. Greenleaf, of Congress; and Secretary of the Board of Public Safety, John C. Boucher, of Lehigh. H. Sloan, of Indiana, Boucher says he will not accept.

The platform adopted attributes the deplorable condition of the country to the Republican party, and the reduction of wages which lately upset the country, to the McKinley law. To relieve the stringencies caused by that measure a Democratic administration is recommended. The platform states, in conclusion, that the death of President Carnot is to be deplored. The other candidates named were: Auditor General, David F. Magee, of Little Britain; Lancaster county, Secretary of Internal Affairs, General W. W. Greenleaf, of Congress; and Secretary of the Board of Public Safety, John C. Boucher, of Lehigh. H. Sloan, of Indiana, Boucher says he will not accept.

A Conductor's Revenge.
RICHMOND, Va., June 28.—Col. Henry C. Parsons, owner of the Natural Bridge property, was shot and killed this morning at 7 o'clock, at Gladys Inn, a cliff-side hotel, by Captain F. A. ALL ROADS TIED UP.

Troops Will Be Necessary to Open Travel.
The strike situation at Chicago is alarming. Nearly every road leading into the city has been tied up. The strikers certainly have things their own way and they even went so far as to stop all mail trains.

Attorney General Olney says the mails must go through, so deputy marshals are being appointed and troops will be used to open the roads.

A conflict with the strikers can hardly be averted much longer. Provisions have been doubled in price in Chicago within 24 hours, business men have become restless at the situation, and bread riots are feared.

All the union men in Chicago, of all trades, have proposed to leave their employment within 48 hours if the strike is not settled. This would throw out about 150,000 men.

A CHAOTIC FIGHT WITH LABOR.
CHICAGO, Ill., June 30.—Confusion and chaos, with a background of lawless spirit and a lack of order, are the result of the strike situation here to-day.

The Harrison Legislative Record, that useless publication of the proceedings of the Senate and House, is now being published. This fortunate condition is not the product of the last session, but comes about through failure to open bids on the first Monday in June of every fourth year, as required by the act of 1874.

Judge Ewing at Wayneburg Friday afternoon has been ordered on the motion for a new trial for John Hinkley, convicted for the murder of Hinkley Samuel McCoy. The motion was refused, and the sentence of death pronounced.

Uncle Sam has been required to take a vigorous hand to protect his units from the depredations of the war. The success of the war is dependent upon the success of the army.

Hammond, Ind., in the hands of a powerful mob, and the general difficulty of carrying on the war is being made manifest.

The strike has spread to-day with startling rapidity. Not only switchmen, but firemen and even engineers, in one instance, have gone out.
