Dr. Crist, when called upon name the bug, pronounced it a humbug, but the ladies claim that he is mistaken and assert that the new pest is a great deal worse than the hum-bug. X.

> The Art of Keeping Cool.

This is the witching season of the year when a housekeeper is willing to barter almost any possession for coolness. Yet she frequently has meals to prepare, washing and ironing to superintend, preserving to attend to and apparently endless duties to call her to the kitchen continually. She is particularly blessed who has that room known as a summer kitchen, separated from the ordinary living rooms by a covered passageway. But 500 and 1,000 policy shops in the city, and for one day, bacon or hash and coffee. outside of Dixie land those kitchens are few.
