Only to keep them so. Soft, warm and young; The wisest, feeblest fingers, Close of knowledge, An illustration of.

Only to keep them so. Frank, true and pure; Of our full wisdom, Our loving care.

Our own all we shrink from, Our full first law; Our own full wisdom, Our loving care.

Only to keep them so. Sweet, kind and true; Sweet lips that laugh for us, Sweet tones that ring, Curbs that we wish to waive, But that we would, Each fresh step a wonder, Each new word a pride.

Only to keep them so. Women and men; And those that are not lovingly, Gentle and good to us, Patient and strong, Our own full wisdom, Our loving care.

Only to keep them so. Old thoughts and ways, That we wish to waive, With life's rapid tide; Good to us—waiting, Our own full wisdom, Our loving care.

Only to keep them so. Just as they were, Just as they were, Just as they were.

DEACON BATES'S WIFE.

BY MRS. C. M. LIVINGSTONE.

Mrs. Bradley had come up to Berkshire with her husband and many others to attend the annual convention of their church. While she rested in her room after the morning session, she heard a conversation which interested her not a little. It was a conversation between two men, one of whom she knew well. The other was a stranger to her. The man who she knew well was Deacon Bates, and the other was a man who she had never seen before. The conversation was about a woman who had been seen in the street, and who was thought to be a stranger. The man who she knew well said that he had seen her in the street, and that she was a woman of a certain age, and that she was dressed in a certain manner. The other man said that he had seen her in the street, and that she was a woman of a certain age, and that she was dressed in a certain manner.

THE GREAT GERMAN HEADACHE CURE
A QUICK RELIEF FOR EVERY TYPE OF HEADACHE.

FOUR CARDINAL POINTS RESPECTING HEADACHE:
1. It is a disease of the brain.
2. It is a disease of the nerves.
3. It is a disease of the blood.
4. It is a disease of the stomach.

Never forget that all headaches are caused by one or more of these four causes. If you have a headache, you must first find out which of these four causes is the cause of your headache. If you do not find out the cause of your headache, you will never get a permanent cure. This is the only medicine that cures all headaches, no matter what the cause is. It is a simple, safe, and reliable medicine, and it is the only one that is guaranteed to cure all headaches. It is the only one that is sold in every drug store, and it is the only one that is sold in every country.
