HER NEW SITUATION

By Losing One Place She Got Another and Was Made Happy.

"Dear me," said Mrs. Pell, "what is the matter with Carrie? Ain't sick is

Mrs. Peil had come up to her lodger's room to borrow a dust-pan. Life among the poor-tenement house life, at least-is all give and take; and Mrs. Pell borrowed dust pan and egg beaters, just as Mrs. De Rifter, of upper Fifth avenue would borrow a piece of music, or Miss Waldegrave the last

They had no carpet on their floor, yet it was always clean; the curtains were made of "cheesecloth" at four cents a yard; the bed on which the mother and daughter slept assumed the similitude of a stained pier-wardrobe by day. The cooking was done on a kerosene stove in the corner, and Mrs. Pell discovered that Mrs. Belton did floss-silk embroidery on tlannel of infants' wardrobes, while Carrie was one of the attendants in Muller & Co.'s dry goods store on

"I knowed they was genteel," said Mrs. Pell, "the minute I set eyes on 'em. Mrs. Belton's dress is shabby, and Mrs. Hourie, the grocer's wife, on the first floor, wears hers somehow different; and Carrie's bonnet is plain black straw, with loops of green ribbon, but it's a great deal more ladyfied than Susan Jane Hawley's pink crape, with the red feathers and the Rhinestone daggers stuck in it."

But to-day Carry was crying, and Mrs. Belton, with her floss-silk embroldery pushed to one side, was trying to comfort her.

"No," said Mrs. Belton, "she isn't sick, but-" "I'm discharged," said Carrie sud-

Lice Much Longer in the Philight I Was in,

For some time I have suffered terribly with kidney and inward trouble. 6 different does for streated me for inflamation of the howels, &c. I grew worse and worse, had to get up every half hour to void urine. The pain was most exerutiating, and I am certain I could not nor would not wanted to have lived much longer in the philight I was in. Particularly as there did not seem a spot on my body that did not ache most terribity. My howels were always in a bad condition, so I concluded that I would call in Dr. Salm, of whom I had heard so much. He diagnosed my disease as being a result of kidney, stormach and inward trouble. I had not taken his medicines a week before I felt the benefit, and to day, after a course of treatment I can do my own work after not having been also to hardly move about.

221 South St., Johnstown, Pa. For over five years I have been suffering with heart trouble and a bad case of bropey. We went to four of the best doctors in the county for relief, but all of them said a care was impossible. At times I felt so bad that I was certain I had to die. I fainted away very often, and my friends told me afterwards that they thought every moment would be my last. They oozed out considerable scretion, and the disease troubled him constantly, even interrupted his sleep on account of the terrible diching. We tried ine best doctors in our county and nearby, without any results. None of them made the correct diagnosis, until we brought him to Dr. Salm, who diagnosed the disease as a scrofulous affection, and as a result of his treatment he has succeeded in making a perfect cure in the time he stated. We believe he understands his lousiness, and hence we do not hesitate to recommend him to our citizens.
